GERMAN DECREE ANNULS LIBERTY AND CIVIL RIGHTS

'Martial Law' Set Up to Crush Reds.

Massacre Rumored

Wild rumors that the Nazis of Germany have plotted to massacre Jews and other political opponents next Sunday when the reichstag elections will be held were printed in London papers this morning. The reports were credited to "travelers fleeing from Germany." It was impossible to confirm any of these rumors in Berlin.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Feb. 28.—All constitutional liberties of private citizens were annulled in a decree signed by President Paul von Hindenburg today. The decree was issued "for the protection of the people and state and for the suppression of communist acts of violence endangering the state."

This was the government's reprisal for the burning of the reichstag building last night, which the government charges was committed by order of the communist party. The decree virtually puts Germany under martial law with extraordinary powers placed in the hands of the police rather than the army because of the desire to keep the military forces out of politics.

Rescinds Free Speech.

The drastic document rescinds until further notice articles of the constitution guaranteeing the right of free expression of opinion [including the press], the right of assembly, and the secrecy of postal, telegraphic, and telephonic communications. It gives police authority to search homes and seize property.

The decree also empowers the federal government to take over executive power in states which fail to enforce law and order within their borders.

Other clauses inflict the death penalty for attempts on the lives of the president and members of the federal and state cabinets, carrying arms during rioting, political kidnaping, high treason, poisoning, arson, explosions, damaging railways and plundering.

Discover Assassination Plot.

A government spokesman tonight said that the decree was drafted after police had discovered evidence in the cellars of the Karl Liebknecht house communist headquarters in Berlin, and in other raids that the Reds were planning wholesale assassinations of members of Adolf Hitler's government, besides intending to kidnap women and children as hostages for political purposes and to poison wells and food.

"The situation is extremely serious," the spokesman said. "In a few months the world will realize the great service Chancellor Hitler is rendering by stamping out communism. The parliamentary democratic régime is not coming back. It is gone forever. This government will remain in power for a very, very long time."

The cabinet's war on the Reds was extended to the Socialist party today and all Socialist newspapers throughout Prussia were suppressed until after the reichstag election next Sunday.

150 Leaders Jailed in Berlin.

Capt. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, minister without portfolio and commissioner for the Prussian ministry of interior, is directing the campaign to stamp out communism. One hundred and fifty leaders were arrested in Berlin today. Even left wing Republicans and pacifists were seized. Under the new decree, they may be held incommunicado for three months.

The police and the National Socialist "auxiliary police" swarmed through the streets of Berlin today looking for communists. The auxiliary police were equipped with revolvers. The regular police darted everywhere along Unter den Linden and Wilhemstrasse. In the neighborhood of the reichstag, the police carried rifles and armored cars rolled through the streets of the capital.

Incendiary Red Leader.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

THE HAGUE, Feb. 28.—Although De Visser, leader of the communist party, today insisted he is not acquainted with Marinus van der Luebbe, who set fire to the reichstag building in Berlin yesterday, investigation by Dutch police revealed that Van der Luebbe has been a member of the Dutch communist party since 1929, and that he left for Russia in 1931.

He was later arrested in Berlin and extradited to Holland. He resided in Leyden, where he gave police considerable trouble. He has been in several clashes with police and went on a hunger strike in jail.

Six Sitting Aldermen Are Defeated

32 RE-ELECTED; COUNCIL TO GET 13 NEW FACES

Nelson Wins Battle in 46th Ward.

BY STANLEY ARMSTRONG.

Six sitting aldermen were defeated, thirty-two were reelected, and four others must take their chances in runoff elections on April 4 as a result of yesterday's balloting in which Chicago voters chose a new city council for a term of two years. Thirteen wards selected aldermen whose faces will be new in the council.

The aldermanic election was held in all 50 wards. In the Lincoln park district on the north side the voters also were called upon to approve a park refunding bond issue of $2,787,000. They signified their approbation overwhelmingly by a vote of 72,247 to 23,315.

Six Aldermen Defeated.

The defeated aldermen, who will retire from the council after the April election, are: Irving J. Schreiber [5th], Thomas J. O'Grady [14th], Frank A. Sloan, who was elected to his present term from the old 20th ward, but was thrown into the 20th by the 1931 redistricting; Wiley W. Mills [37th], James B. Waller [43d], and William H. Feigenbutz [45th].

Through failing to receive a clear majority of all the votes cast in their wards, Aldermen John F. Healy [6th], Walter W. Morris [18th], James C. Moreland [41st], and John J. Hoellen [47th] will have to go through the April 4 runoff. Another runoff will be held in the 9th ward, where no sitting alderman was a candidate.

Democrats Are Strengthened.

Although the aldermanic election is nonpartisan, the tabulation of defeats and runoffs appeared significant to city hall observers, in that four Republicans and two nonorganization Democrats fell by the wayside, while four Republicans are to be engaged in the April runoff elections.

Comment from the political observers was that the Democrats had strengthened their hold on the city's legislative chamber. They identified as Democrats twelve of the thirteen newcomers who were given seats in the council chamber as a result of the day's balloting.

"Write In" Drive Boosts Vote.

In each of 21 of the wards only one name appeared on the aldermanic ballot, that name being in all except three cases that of the present alderman. However, aspirants whose petitions were ruled out by the election commission carried on active campaigns to have their names written in on the ballots. This had no effect on the results in those wards, except to bring out a heavier vote than was expected.

Ald. Nelson emerged a winner from one of the hottest campaigns staged in the 46th ward in many years. His opponent, Arthur B. Dehmlow, had the backing of Joseph L. Gill, clerk of the Municipal court and Democratic committeeman of the ward, as well as that of former Attorney General Edward J. Brundage and other Republican factions. Nelson, however, had the support of Ald. John S. Clark [30th], Democratic chairman of the council finance committee, who spoke in the ward for his colleague.

O'Grady Loses to McDermott.

Equally as bitter was the fight in the 14th ward, where Ald. O'Grady lost. The alderman, a Democrat, frequently has fought the Democratic organization and this time was in a battle with James J. McDermott, Democratic ward committeeman, who defeated him.

A partisan fight in the 5th ward resulted in the defeat of the Republican, Ald. Schreiber by his opponent, James J. Cusack Jr., a former University of Chicago athlete, who had Democratic backing.

Ald. Mills went down to defeat in the 37th ward before the onslaught of the ward Democratic group, although he has been identified with that party. The organization candidate was Roger J. Kiley, a former Notre Dame football player. His campaign was given a metropolitan flavor with the Democrats pulling in leading public officeholders from their ranks to speak for him.

Waller Defeated by Bauler.

The Democrats made another gain

MAYOR HOLDS DAY'S ADVANCE; ABLE TO EAT

He Pushes Away Oxygen Tent.

BULLETIN.

Miami, Fla., March 1 (Wednesday).—(AP)—Mayor Cermak was resting quietly at 2:45 a. m. today, hospital attaches said, adding that he had taken "about 20 ounces of orange juice since 10 o'clock last night.' At 1:30 his respiration was 36, temperature 101, pulse 120.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Jackson Memorial Hospital, Miami, Fla., March 1 [1 a. m.].—[Special.]—"Take that tent thing off me and give me something to drink. Quit shooting that stuff into my arm and leave me alone. I'm going to get well."

It was Mayor Cermak of Chicago talking to his staff of physicians late yesterday—the man whose death has been expected momentarily for a week; the man whose fight against a combination of afflictions has excited the admiration of a nation; the man who took a bullet intended for President Roosevelt into his body and told the next chief executive: "I'm glad it was me instead of you."

His words sent the doctors from the sick room with smiles on their faces. His progress today, although slight, stimulated these conservative medicos to cheerful predictions.

Bulletins More Cheerful.

Every bulletin issued yesterday and last night contained increasing confidence and hope by the attending physicians.

The latest bulletin issued at 12:30 this morning was the most optimistic in days.

Dr. Karl A. Meyer, who issued the report, announced a belief that if the present progress is maintained, he would be able to announce in 24 hours that the patient is definitely on the road to recovery.

"Mayor Cermak has been asleep since 9:30 p. m.," one of last night's bulletins declared. "He has rested well. His breathing is not labored and he shows no evidence of cardiac or respiratory collapse. He has been given no opiates. He asked for and received bromides to aid his sleep. He responds very well to the advice of his physicians."

Mayor Continues to Gain.

The respiration of the mayor shortly after the midnight hour varied from 34 to 36. His temperature was 101, and his pulse, 118. All these readings gave assurance that the mayor is in no danger and is gaining in health, Dr. Meyer said.

In a long distance telephone conversation just after he issued the midnight bulletin Dr. Meyer said:

"He shows decided signs of improvement.

"Three days ago it looked much different than it does now. Then it looked as if he would not live.

First Note of Cheer.

The official bulletin which was issued at 10 o'clock carried the first definite note of cheer. It read:

"Mayor Cermak passed a quite restful day. The pneumonia process seems to be lessening in extent and severity. The present outlook appears to be somewhat more hopeful. Temperature, 101; pulse, 124; respiration, 36."

Dr. J. W. Snyder, who issued the bulletin, admitted that the intravenous injections of a glucose solution had been stopped, not only because the mayor had expressed a desire against them but also because the patient's system has rebelled against the injections and the veins would carry no more fluids.

At 9 p. m. the bulletin issued by Dr. Snyder read as follows:

"Mayor Cermak's condition continues satisfactory. We are of the belief that this is not a temporary rally. Temperature, 101; respiration, 32; pulse, 120."

More Favorable News.

The 6 p. m. bulletin had said:

"Mayor Cermak maintains a slight improvement; temperature, 101; respiration, 32; pulse, 120.

Is this revival of vigor the lull before the storm? Is it the last flaring up of a fighting spirit before the inevitable end? The doctors said they were hopeful that it was not. They indicated that the "miracle" of the mayor's recovery, so fervently prayed for but hardly expected, has again become a possibility.

The oxygen tent, which had been almost continually over the mayor for three days, was removed, according to his insistence. He was brought some rice water and later some ginger ale to drink and he swallowed several mouthfuls of both. Only one digit is

HUSBAND "BEATS" HIS WIFE WITH A STEAM SHOVEL

An assault with a steam shovel was the basis of a cruelty charge made yesterday by Mrs. Rose McGowan, 6430 South Winchester avenue, in a bill for divorce which she filed against Joseph McGowan, 3623 South Washtenaw avenue, in the Superior court.

On Dec. 21, last year, Mrs. McGowan went to an excavation at 43d street and Artesian avenue, where her husband was operating his shovel, to take him his lunch. McGowan had been paid that day and his wife asked him for his pay check.

He became angered at her request, her bill charges, and, after a few words, swung the boom of his steam shovel about and scooped her up. Her husband started to hoist her into the air in the shovel bucket, but she leaped out when she was a few feet above the ground, Mrs. McGowan charged.

Judge Joseph Sabath granted her a temporary injunction which restrains her husband from annoying her or visiting her home, with or without his steam shovel.

TROOPS HUNT MARYLAND NEGRO WHO SHOT TWO

Centreville, Md., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Several hundred men, including a National Guard company, ordered to the scene by Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, patrolled a large tract of woodlands twelve miles north of here tonight in search of Harry Branch, heavily armed Negro, who late today barricaded himself in a farm house, escaped after a fusillade of shots, and wounded a posse member.

The Negro has been sought since Sunday for shooting and critically wounding a Negro woman.

Mr. Adams continues to divide his time between his two homes in America and England. He will sail for America at the end of March.

Ford Secretary Finds Self in Traverse City

Traverse City, Mich., Feb. 28.—[Special.]—Ernest G. Liebold, Henry Ford's general secretary, woke up tonight after a refreshing sleep in a room at the Park hotel here and discovered that he was the object of a nationwide search, inaugurated today when his chief discovered that he had been missing from Detroit since yesterday morning.

"Why all the fuss?" he demanded of Michigan state policemen. "All I did was to start out for a rest and I find that everybody is talking about me being kidnaped or something of the sort. I came up here for a rest and I think I'll stay here a few days more and get it."

"Just Seeking Change."

To W. R. Foote, local representative of the Ford Motor company, the only person except the policemen with whom he would talk, Liebold related what had happened.

"There has been a lot of pressure on me recently," he said, "so much that I decided I would simply have to get away for a little while. So I started out to drive to Greenbush, Mich., where a friend of mine owns a hotel. The hotel was closed, so I came on to Traverse City, arriving at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

"I registered as W. F. Sampson of Battle Creek so I wouldn't be disturbed. That's all there is to it."

Son on the Way.

At the hotel Liebold put in long distance calls and talked to Mr. Ford and also to Harry Bennett, chief of the Ford company's police force. It was disclosed that he asked Bennett to send him a trusty bodyguard.

However, it was reported that one of Liebold's sons is on his way here by train to be with his father. Specific denial was made by Foote that there was any indication of amnesia or of a breakdown on the part of the secretary.

The movements of Liebold were traced easily. He mailed a letter in Pontiac yesterday afternoon resigning as a director of the Guardian National bank of Dearborn.

Liebold had been working long hours in connection with projected bank reorganizations in Detroit. He had been mentioned as a director of one of the two new ones Mr. Ford is fostering. It was no surprise, it was said, when he announced at 11 a. m. yesterday that he was going home to rest.

When he failed to reach his residence his wife became alarmed.

LEHMANN FARM SWEPT BY FIRE; SAVE 21 HORSES

The lives of twenty-one valuable thoroughbreds were imperiled last night by fire which destroyed a garage, a tool shed, and a blacksmith shop on the estate of Otto W. Lehmann, two miles west of Lake Villa on Route 59, in Lake county. Mr. Lehmann is in Miami.

All the horses, which were housed in two barns close to the frame buildings which burned, were taken to safety by attendants. The barns were protected by streams of water thrown by the fire departments of five villages: Antioch, Gray's Lake, Round Lake, Fox Lake, and Ingleside.

In the garage were seven automobiles, two owned by Mr. Lehmann and the others by his employés. They were destroyed. Total damage was estimated at about $12,000.

Early yesterday the Antioch fire department was called to fight flames in the home of Charles J. Heinzelman, one mile north of the village. They found Mrs. Heinzelman and Miss Lorraine Gray overcome by smoke and carried them out. The fire caused damage of $7,000 to the house, according to James Stearns, chief of the Antioch department.

2,000,000 CHINESE STARVING; WOMEN SOLD FOR FOOD

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

SHANGHAI, March 1 [Wednesday.]—While the nation's attention is focussed on the Japanese invasion of Jehol official word came from Shensi province today reporting that more than two million persons are likely to die before spring as a result of drought and famine unless aid is rushed.

Shensi's famine area is a triangle from the city of Hancheng, southward to the mouth of the Wei river, from the Wei river westward to Paochi, and thence to Fengsiang.

Dr. William Kelly, a special investigator for the China international famine relief commission, reports that despite the bitter cold four-fifths of the houses have been torn down and the materials traded for food: women are sold openly; children are sold or killed to end their sufferings, and people are burying the dead naked and trading their clothes for food. All live stock, and even dogs and cats, have long since been consumed.

Girl, 7, Vanishes on Way to School; Fear Kidnaping

Englewood police were asked last night to search for 7 year old Freda Scheuber of 6546 Normal boulevard, who disappeared yesterday while on her way to the Parker school for the afternoon class. Mrs. Goldean Scheuber, the mother, said it is possible that a Chicago relative of her former husband, Arthur Woods of Richmond, Mo., has the girl. Wood is the father of Freda. Mrs. Scheuber is the wife of Byron Scheuber, a secretary.

treatment was given him to stimulate his heart. And the mayor seemed to improve.

Three Optimistic Reports.

The late afternoon bulletin yesterday was the third consistently optimistic report of the day. It noted that "slightly favorable progress" was noted in the mayor's condition. His respiration and circulatory state had improved. The discontinuance of the oxygen therapy was revealed.

"Sufficient fluids have been taken by mouth to warrant cessation of intravenous glucose solutions," the bulletin concluded.

Dr. Frederick Tice revealed that the oxygen tent was removed on the mayor's own orders, and that he had asked for various liquids to drink, including carbonated waters and near beer.

"We are very much encouraged by this attitude and his general condition," he said. "His heart is a wonderful one. His pulse is strong and regular."

May Be No Crisis.

The mayor has yet to meet the pneumonia crisis, Dr. Tice reminded. It is possible that instead of a crisis a lysis will result. In a crisis, he explained, there is a sudden definite upturn when a patient successfully resists disease, but in a lysis there is a gradual, steady improvement.

"It will be several days yet before we can definitely say that he is on the road to recovery," the doctors declared. "But if his rate of progress keeps up and no unforeseen developments occur we may be able then to issue a certain statement to that effect."

During yesterday morning the physicians were cautious in their comments despite their apparent jubilation at the continued favorable condition of the patient. But in midafternoon they became openly hopeful. Dr. Tice, the heart and lung specialist who knows, perhaps, more about the mayor's heart than any other medical man at the bedside because of his ten years' study of the mayor through a number of illnesses, led the way.

"Mayor Cermak is distinctly and definitely on the upgrade," he said. "While he is not out of danger, barring something unforeseen, he should continue making progress."

Then Dr. P. B. Welch, who retired some time ago from the staff of the Cook county hospital and who now lives at Coral Gables near here, added the most optimistic comment of all. He was called into the case several days ago when the mayor's colitis was raging and his life despaired of. Yesterday he said:

Foresees Mayor's Recovery.

"If he continues to gain at the same rate as he has done today, it will be a two to one bet tomorrow that he recovers. The pneumonia has not increased. The mayor has had almost every possible complication that is possible in a case like this.

"His heart has taken all the terrible punishment that these complications have thrown upon it, and still the electro-cardiogram shows there has been no further damage to the heart muscle in several days."

Dr. Meyer, conservative and hopeful even when the mayor's chances were regarded as one in a hundred, was similarly reluctant to rejoice too soon, but he said happily:

"We are encouraged more than we have been for several days. Every day that passes increases the mayor's chances. Time is the great element. With time, the mayor increases his own resistance, creates his own antitoxins."

Nichol Still Conservative.

Dr. Nichol, who for several days expressed the opinion that the patient could not live unless a miracle occurred, carefully chose his words when he was asked his opinion of the case.

"He is holding his own in the struggle," he said. "He will live another twenty-four hours, I believe, and that adds to his chances for ultimate recovery because of the strength he should gain in that period."

A so-called oxygen room, a canopy big enough to fit over the entire bed in which the mayor lies, was being shipped here by air express today.

The mayor is a big man and he becomes hot and uncomfortable under the small canvas bags. However, even the oxygen room may not be used if the patient's progress continues.

Morning Bulletin Hopeful.

The first formal bulletin issued yesterday at 10:30 a. m. revealed that Mayor Cermak had rested since 3 a. m., having been restless before then. He was given an opiate to put him to sleep.

"The chest findings seem stationary," said Dr. Meyer, who read the bulletin. "He is taking a fair amount of nourishment. Temperature, 101.2; pulse, 120; respiration, 36."

Asked to explain the phrase concerning the "chest findings," Dr. Meyer said only a cursory examination had been made, but the pneumonia appeared not to have increased in size.

"A complete examination might bother him too much," he pointed out. "I wonder if people are not getting the impression that with eight or nine doctors in this case we aren't doing the patient more harm than good by handling him constantly. We are not doing that. He's putting up such a good fight all by himself that we are not going to interfere too much."

CITY HALL CHEERED.

Friends of Mayor Cermak in the city hall wore their first real smiles for days following a telephone conversation with Drs. Frank Jirka and Karl Meyer late yesterday. The physicians were optimistic and gave the following report:

"If this progress continues for the next 24 hours he will be on the road to recovery. Today the mayor ordered the oxygen tent removed. His exact words were: 'Get that damn thing out of here. I don't need it. I'm going to live.'

"Then he began crabbing and ordering us around. The mayor's mind is quite clear and he is optimistic. Contrary to our expectations, when the oxygen tent was removed, the mayor's respiration did not go up—it went down to 34. This is a very favorable sign."

ST. LOUIS TO START ITS FIRST WATERWAY FREIGHT HERE FRIDAY

The first St. Louis-Chicago shipment of freight over the new waterway will leave St. Louis Friday and will probably reach here within a week or ten days. Lieut. Col. Daniel I. Sultan, United States district engineer, was informed yesterday that the St. Louis shipper is Maj. Spencer A. Merrill, who is sending a cargo of general freight consigned to Chicago business houses.

Maj. Merrill owns a twin screw Diesel powered towboat with which he will tow three barges up the Mississippi, Illinois, and Des Plaines rivers, thence through the Chicago drainage canal and into the Chicago river. The towboat draws four feet of water.

Col. Sultan talked by telephone to Maj. Merrill yesterday, expressing satisfaction over the first shipment. This will be the first commercial tow from St. Louis to Chicago by way of the Illinois and Des Plaines rivers since the horse-drawn canal boats ceased operating on the old Illinois and Michigan canal fifty years ago.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 28.—[Special.]—An action to construe phraseology of the document in which Charlie Chaplin set up trust funds of $100,000 for support and education of his two sons, Charlie Jr. and Sidney, known as "Tommy," was begun in Superior court today. Hearing was set for March 10. Chaplin recently won a suit with his ex-wife, Lita Grey, involving the boys, when he obtained a court order forbidding them from carrying out a contract their mother had signed for the boys to appear in motion pictures.

WATERWAY TRIP BRINGS OUT FOES OF SEAWAY PACT

See Peril of Dry Channel if Treaty Is Adopted.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Chillicothe, Ill., Feb. 28.—River ports along the lower Illinois today greeted THE TRIBUNE'S boat, the Sea King, the first over the completed $27,000,000 Illinois waterway, as a harbinger of a revived water commerce. At the same time the citizens of these towns expressed a fear that if the proposed St. Lawrence treaty goes through at Washington, the effect will be to cripple the Illinois waterway and destroy the new trade routes which the lakes to gulf route is setting up.

At Peru, La Salle, Henry and Chillicothe leading citizens today expressed strong opposition to the pending St. Lawrence seaway treaty on the ground that Article 8 of the treaty would dry up the new Illinois waterway and make it again a missing link in water transportation between the great lakes and the Mississippi valley and southern sea water.

See Peril in Treaty.

Expressions in the river ports today were to the effect that the opening of the lakes to gulf water route, now an accomplished project, may lift the compression exerted by the Panama canal upon the middle west, but that the St. Lawrence treaty may put the compression right back again.

As the valley cities seem to view it, ratification of the pending treaty with Canada would leave the new Illinois waterway without sufficient water for barge navigation. Some of the critics took the view that in the background is an effort to dry up the inland waterways of the midcontinent.

At Henry, on the river, where citizens flocked to the dock to welcome the Sea King, Capt. Sol York, 87 years old, a river man all his life, reflected opinions which have been heard at every stop today on the voyage opening the waterway.

Veteran River Man's View.

"What's the use of hollering that the waterway will take water out of the lake?" said Capt. York. "Only a couple of years ago all the ports on the lakes, Canadian and American, were yelling to Chicago asking it to open its gates wider and take out more water, as they were being swamped with high water.

"The Canadians have been better traders than the Americans in framing this treaty. If it goes through Uncle Sam is going to lose his socks. The Canadians simply want more water power.

"If they kill that treaty we'll see the daggondest traffic on this river system within a few years. Look at the Ohio—traffic growing by leaps and bounds, even in the depression years. That's what will happen on the Illinois waterway unless Canada gets our birthright through that treaty."

Mayor Greets Voyagers.

Among other leading citizens of Henry at the dock were Mayor and Mrs. C. E. Woodfell, George A. Burt, Winfield Scott, R. S. Fisler, L. Meihoner, Robert Bogner, and Fred Harney.

The argument of the valley cities is that the pending treaty would give Canada joint control over Lake Michigan, which is not a boundary water. Article 8 is based on a diversion of 1,500 cubic second feet from Lake Michigan, embodying the terms of the U. S. Supreme court decision in the Chicago sanitary district case limiting the diversion for sanitary purposes to 1,500 after Dec. 31, 1928.

It has been emphasized that adoption of the treaty in its present form would take from congress its right to prescribe diversion from Lake Michigan for navigation purposes on the lakes to gulf inland waterway system, and would dry up the water route by denying it water enough for barge navigation. Government engineers have testified that a diversion of at least 5,000 cubic second feet is necessary, otherwise the waterway would become a "noisesome sewer" which would make traffic impossible.

"A Waterless Waterway."

So, according to the view expressed in the valley cities visited today—Peru, La Salle, Henry, and Chillicothe—the treaty would result in a waterway with no water. In the opinion of Peru citizens the St. Lawrence treaty was hooked up with the Panama canal as an agency for placing economic strangulation upon the middle west.

Comment in the river towns today from welcoming delegations was that the new water connection of nine feet depth for barge traffic between the Great Lakes and the Mississippi system and the gulf will serve to readjust the balance and put the middle west on more nearly equal freight terms with the seaboard regions. But the treaty with Canada, unless changed, it was argued, would then upset the balance again, and the middle west would still be in the nutcracker between the Pacific and Atlantic coast regions.

"If they kill that treaty we'll see the daggondest traffic on this river system within a few years. Look at the Ohio—traffic growing by leaps and bounds, even in the depression years. That's what will happen on the Illinois waterway unless Canada gets our birthright through that treaty."

Munk, superintendent of the Illinois Zinc company; Charles A. Wagner, secretary of the Peru Chamber of Commerce, and H. R. Corwin, editor of the Peru News-Herald.

Peru, an old port with an old-fashioned river street on the bank—the old business section—is talking of building a terminal dock for reviving river trade. Thirty years ago grain was carted in here from thirty miles around and then moved by water. A movement is afoot to put up an elevator.

The Marquette Cement company is shipping cement to lower Mississippi river points. It sends out tows of four or five steel barges, each of which carries 27 carloads. The Illinois Zinc company is planning to bring in its ore by water. It has a coal mine on the river bank from which it is shipping.

Along the river bank at Peru, too, are two good breweries which expect to benefit from water transport once beer is legalized.

Sail Into Scenic Region.

The Sea King shoved off at two bells [9 o'clock] this morning from Ottawa, where the Fox river empties into the Illinois, and sailed into the scenic beauties of the lower Starved Rock pool. This region is expected to be a favorite recreation area along the water route by reason of its natural beauty and its historical associations.

Ottawa turned out to welcome THE TRIBUNE'S first boat over the waterway on its arrival last evening—it's always been a great waterway city.

Starved Rock soon came in sight on the opposite river bank—it got its name from the virtual extermination of the Illinois Indians by the northern tribes in 1770. Here is the lock the dam which back the water up to form the Starved Rock or Utica port, which is 13½ miles long and has a fall of 16 feet.

The dam is anchored to the solid sandstone at Lover's Leap, just above Starved Rock. Sutton Van Pelt, construction engineer, who came aboard at Ottawa, built the lock and dam for Woods Brothers company, Lincoln, Neb., and he says the foundations were cut into the sandstone 35 feet deep.

First Lock to Be Completed.

The dam and lock cost $3,237,000—the first project in the waterway to be completed. The dam has ten taintor gates, each of 60 foot span, designed to stand a height of 19 feet of water and said to be the largest ever constructed. The weight of one gate with its counterweight is about 200 tons. The lock is standard, like the others, and it has a 16 foot lift. It fills or empties the chamber in seven minutes.

The five locks in the waterway have gates so constructed that there is a minimum of surge in their chamber as the water gushes in, and boats in the lock are not moved around.

C. C. Atkinson of the United States engineers came aboard as pilot for the lower river.

As the Sea King swept out of the lock Starved Rock loomed up in full grandeur. Swain Scalf, TRIBUNE cameraman who has been shooting the voyage from the river banks, was enraptured with the scene. Others have been before him—4,000 years, some archaeologists estimate, measures the age of the oldest signs of human occupation of this region.

Fort Built by La Salle.

Atop the rock two and a half centuries ago La Salle, greatest of the French explorers of mid-America, built Fort St. Louis and left Henry Tonti in charge. In the great plain was an Indian village which La Salle estimated to contain 10,000 Indians, including 4,000 warriors.

Here, too, have been found indications of the use of coal by man ages ago. Samples of ash and coal have been examined which have led to the question whether the aborigines were acquainted with the use of coal. The soft coal outcrop at Utica is probably the earliest outcrop of coal deposits to have been noted by the white man in Illinois, one of the early French voyageurs having spoken of the presence of coal.

Now the opening of the Illinois waterway is expected to help revive the coal industry with cheaper transportation.

After stopping at Peru the Sea King passed Spring Valley and presently saw the opening of the Hennepin canal. This connects the Illinois and Mississippi rivers. It was opened in 1907. This canal is 75 miles long. It proceeds from a point on the Illinois river about 12 miles from La Salle across the state of Illinois, via Bureau creek valley and over the summit to Rock river, down that river to its lower rapids, and around the rapids to a junction with the Mississippi at the mouth of Rock river, 377 miles below the head of navigation at Minneapolis.

Hope to Deepen Canal.

The canal has 32 locks. It cost in excess of $9,911,000, according to government figures, and it has been of no value, due to the fact that no water communication existed with Lake Michigan. A movement is afoot to deepen this canal to nine feet.

At Hennepin, a grain elevator is on the river bank and grain is transported by water. After passing Henry, the Sea King passed at Lacon. Here is another elevator on the river bank from which grain is transported by water. Thence the Sea King proceeded to Chillicothe, where, in the early evening, the boat was tied up for the night.

MARSHALL FIELD & COMPANY

tire List Has Been Confirmed.

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Feb. 28.—[Special.]—The cabinet which will help President Elect Roosevelt in his efforts to bring on the "new deal" for the United States was announced complete today when Mr. Roosevelt made known officially that Daniel C. Roper of South Carolina will be secretary of commerce and Miss Frances Perkins of New York will be secretary of labor. Earlier in the day Mr. Roosevelt announced the appointment of Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana as his attorney general.

The Cabinet.

The cabinet, in addition to these three, are the following:

Cordell Hull of Tennessee, secretary of state.

Harold L. Ickes of Illinois, secretary of the interior.

Mr. Roosevelt declined today to make any explanation of the reasons he had for selecting Mr. Roper and Miss Perkins, holding that their qualifications generally spoke for themselves.

Miss Perkins, who is the wife of Paul Wilson but retains the use of her maiden name, becomes the first woman to be a member of a President's cabinet. Mr. Roosevelt, according to his friends, however, did not appoint Miss Perkins in any bid for feminine political support but regarded her as he would a man, highly capable for her post.

When the news of her impending appointment leaked out several days ago William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared his organization to be deeply disappointed at her selection. The President elect has received some other criticisms against having a woman in his cabinet, but on the whole he is said to have been well pleased with the other laudatory expressions which have come to him concerning Miss Perkins' appointment.

Works on Address.

Mr. Roosevelt spent most of today working on his inaugural address, which he has declared will require only eight minutes for delivery. For the last week, since the banking situation in several states became so acute, Mr. Roosevelt has paid strictest attention to it, but he declined to comment on it in any way.

It became known, however, that the President elect gave his opinion to New York banking interests, when they sought it, that Charles E. Mitchell and Hugh Baker, chairman and president of the National City bank of New York, who have been involved in sensational testimony before a congressional committee, should resign in order to appease public opinion. Both Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Baker resigned the following day.

Mr. Roosevelt had some light humor today at the expense of his chief secretary, Louis McHenry Howe, who is known for his somewhat careless dress.

"What do you think, men," he said to the newspaper men in the press conference. "Louie has bought a new suit! He's had it only 24 hours, so it looks fine yet, but in another day it'll probably look like his other suit. Louie never has his clothes pressed."

After a minute or two Mr. Howe walked in, and the President elect asked him to parade about, mannequin fashion, to show off his new dark gray suit.

City State Bank Case Up in Court for 42d Time

The case of eight former officers and directors of the City State bank, who were indicted on charges of accepting deposits while the bank was insolvent, came up in court yesterday for the forty-second time. The bank closed its doors on Nov. 2, 1929. The hearing was before Circuit Judge Daniel R. Trude. It has been taken from the call of a number of other judges upon changes of venue. The argument before Judge Trude was on a motion to quash the indictment. Judge Trude took the arguments under advisement.

CROWDED FEEDER BUS HITS TREE; 15 ARE INJURED

Passengers Spilled Out on Walk; One May Die.

Six persons were seriously injured and nine others sustained lesser hurts last night when a crowded southbound trolley bus swerved suddenly in front of 2132 North Central avenue and crashed into a large tree, which was uprooted.

The front end and the right side of the bus were ripped away and a number of the passengers were spilled out on the sidewalk.

Suffers Skull Fracture.

Mrs. Minnie Kracke, 55 years old, 1640 North Irving avenue, who suffered a fractured skull and a broken arm, in addition to cuts and bruises, was described as in a critical condition at midnight in the Danish-American hospital. Others seriously injured were:

Driver Is Slightly Hurt.

The driver of the bus, George Wickman, 35 years old, 4061 North Austin avenue, was slightly hurt. He told questioners that the vehicle, used as a feeder for electric cars and operated by the surface lines, was proceeding at a normal rate of speed when it struck a large chunk of concrete lying on the pavement.

"I did not see it until we were right on it," said Wickman. "I tried to get away from it, but it caught the right wheel and sent us toward the sidewalk. I could not control the steering gear."

Leo Koralik, 19 years old, 5823 Fullerton avenue, one of the passengers, suffered slight injuries. He told a graphic story of the accident.

Fifty Passengers in Bus.

"There were about fifty passengers," he said. "A dozen or more were standing up. I was one of them. When the swerve occurred I was standing near the front. Then there was a terrific crash, and the next thing I knew I was lying on the ground. I had fallen through the side which was torn away."

Koralik added that there was panic among those in the rear part of the bus, but that they quickly got out. All those hurt were aided to the hospital by passing motorists and by police ambulances.

FRANCE TO NAME F. D. ROOSEVELT'S FRIEND AS envoy

PARIS, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Andre Lefevre de la Boulaye, veteran of the French diplomatic service and friend of President Elect Roosevelt, is to become the new ambassador to the United States, it was reported unofficially today. The foreign office would not discuss the possibility, nor any other suggestions regarding the successor to Paul Claudel, the present ambassador.

At 57 De la Boulaye has represented his country as counselor to the embassy at Berlin, in 1924, and as first secretary of the embassy in Washington during the Wilson administration when Mr. Roosevelt was assistant secretary of the navy. During that period the two became well acquainted.

One of the primary functions of the new ambassador will be preparing for resumption of negotiations on the French war debt to America. Those who credited the report of De la Boulaye's selection regarded his friendship for the incoming President as an excellent qualification for that work. In his present capacity as assistant director in the foreign ministry De la Boulaye received Mr. Roosevelt a year ago when the President elect was in Paris.

MRS. ROOSEVELT VISITS NEW YORK POLICE LINEUP

New York, Feb. 28.—[Special.]—Accompanied by a group of young women, members of her class in current events, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt began her last day in New York before her departure to Washington by visiting the line-up of prisoners at police headquarters today.

Mrs. Roosevelt arrived at headquarters in a taxicab and joined her group inside the building. A squad of patrolmen met her at the entrance and escorted her to the gallery of the line-up room on the fourth floor.

There were 37 prisoners in the line-up, most charged with petty crimes. Mrs. Roosevelt heard the inspectors relate the story of each man as he stepped into the lighted area of the platform, and she watched the roomful of inspectors as they carefully examined each prisoner.

Police Commissioner Mulrooney, Inspector John O'Brien, and Deputy Commissioner Henrietta Addition were with Mrs. Roosevelt and her group during the line-up proceedings. The officials answered many questions by Mrs. Roosevelt and her group.

Later Mrs. Roosevelt and the group were escorted by the same officials to the telegraph bureau, the identification bureau, and the police college. They also visited the teletype and radio offices. In the radio alarm office Mrs. Roosevelt chose the numbers of two cruising cars and they were sent out over the radio system. In less than a minute both cars had picked up the message and had called into headquarters by telephone for instructions.

Mrs. Roosevelt left headquarters in another taxicab and went to her office at the Todhunter school to do some work before going to the Children's Aid society with her class in modern history.

NATHAN L. BACHMAN IS NAMED TO SUCCEED HULL IN U. S. SENATE

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Nathan L. Bachman of Chattanooga former justice of the Tennessee Supreme court, will succeed Cordell Hull as United States senator from Tennessee.

Gov. Hill McAllister announced the appointment of Bachman to succeed Hull.

Bachman was educated in the Chattanooga schools and attended Southwestern Presbyterian university, Washington and Lee, Central university [now Center college], University of Chattanooga and University of Virginia.

ROOSEVELTS OF OYSTER BAY TO SEE INAUGURAL

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Several members of the Oyster Bay branch of the Roosevelt family are making arrangements to attend the inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt Saturday.

Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt expects to attend, accompanied by her sons, Kermit Jr. and Willard. Kermit Roosevelt, who went with the President elect on his recent yachting trip, will not go to Washington, but will stay in New York to see President Hoover off on his trip to the Canal Zone.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Roosevelt also plan to attend the inauguration, as does Mrs. Sheffield Cowles, a niece of the late President Theodore Roosevelt. They will be guests of Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, the former Alice Roosevelt, at her Washington home.

PLACE REPLICA OF ROOSEVELT'S BIBLE ON DISPLAY

Two books of especial interest to the public because of the inauguration on Saturday of President Elect Roosevelt will be placed on exhibition this morning in the vestibule of the Newberry library. One is believed to be a replica of the old Dutch Bible, said to have been in the Roosevelt family for nearly 300 years, on which the new chief executive will take his oath of office.

Librarian George B. Utley yesterday compared the description of the Roosevelt Bible with one owned by the Chicago institution since 1890. A news dispatch yesterday from Hyde Park, N. Y., stated that the first entry shows the birth of a child of Nicholas Roosevelt in 1670.

The Chicago Bible was printed in Dutch, at Amsterdam, in 1660. There is reason to believe, Mr. Utley said, that it may have been printed at the same time as the inaugural Bible and on the same presses. The Newberry volume is large, being about eighteen inches long, eleven inches wide, and five inches thick. It has a heavy, board binding covered with brown Morocco leather, and thick metal clasps and corner pieces.

The second book contains the records of the town of Hyde Park, Dutchess county, New York, edited and autographed by President Elect Roosevelt.

CORDELL HULL DODGES SEEKERS OF FOREIGN JOBS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Job hunters seeking interviews with Cordell Hull, Roosevelt secretary of state, found today that in self-defense he had abandoned the policy of the open door.

The clatter of typewriters and other sounds of activity emerged from his office on Capitol hill, but the door was locked and repeated knockings, even by a messenger bearing a registered letter, brought no response. The telephone went unanswered.

JAPANESE BREAK CHINESE LINES IN JEHOL; TAKE PASS

BULLETIN.

TUNGLIAO, Manchuria, March 1.—(AP)—Gen. Shi Wen-hua, commander of the Chinese cavalry force defending Chihfeng, communication center of Jehol province, was reported today to have announced his submission to the Japanese sponsored Manchukuo government.

SUICHUNG, Manchuria, March 1 [Wednesday]—(AP)—The vanguard of Maj. Gen. Heijiro Hattori's Japanese column at dawn today commenced an attack on Peichangyingtze, 15 miles northwest of Shamaoshan pass, in the southern sector of the Japanese invasion of Jehol province.

After two days of the heaviest fighting to have occurred so far in the Jehol campaign, Maj. Gen. Hattori's forces broke through the Chinese defense line at Shamaoshan yesterday.

In that engagement the Japanese reported they had lost one dead and five wounded, while the Chinese, according to Japanese reports, left many corpses on the field.

Claim Half of Province.

Japanese reports from other sectors of the Jehol war front reported steady Japanese advances. The Japanese claimed that half of the province was in their control.

From the north Maj. Gen. Kennosuke Mogi's fourth cavalry brigade reported that it had passed Fangchen and had almost reached the walls of Chihfeng, a heavily fortified Chinese position, where stiff resistance to the Japanese march on Jehol City is anticipated.

In central Jehol Maj. Gen. Matsuda's column was reported approaching Chienping from Chaoyang. Two other units were reported somewhere west and southwest of Chaoyang, their movements being somewhat uncertain.

Opens Way to Lingyuan.

The Japanese victory at Shamaoshan, obtained with the assistance of bombing planes sent out from Suichung, opened the way toward Lingyuan, one of the principal passes the invaders must seize to reach Jehol City. Shamaoshan is about 15 miles from the Manchurian border and about 100 miles from the capital.

The Chinese prepared their defenses at Shamaoshan more than two months ago. Air observers reported a trench system 40 miles long. At many strategic positions the Chinese had stationed artillery pieces.

The battle there got under way late Sunday. Japanese planes were called on by the attackers twice Monday, but they did not succeed at that time in dislodging the Chinese. The action was carried on in a temperature of seven degrees below zero, with a bitter wind blowing. The Japanese started their final successful thrust before dawn yesterday.

Japs Menace Chinese Port.

PEIPING, China, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The Japanese airplane carrier, Hosho, which carries 26 planes, has been sighted off Chinwangtao, Chinese port south of Shanhaikwan, scene of fighting between the Japanese and Chinese early in January.

Chinese official dispatches today said the Chinese army still held the pass at Paishihtsuimen, in southern Jehol, about 50 miles north of the great wall, which Japanese forces operating from Suichung have been trying to force in order to turn the Chinese right flank. Japanese press reports were that the pass had been carried by the invaders.

The Chinese command sent back word that waves of Japanese infantrymen charged up the pass only to be mowed down by Chinese machine guns. The Chinese, according to these dispatches, withheld their fire until the enemy was almost upon them.

Charge Chinese Use Poison Gas.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, March 1 [Wednesday]—Japanese newspapers today played up a charge that the Chinese in Jehol province are using poison gas. The reports said 107 Japanese soldiers had been gassed.

Japanese Invasion of Jehol Seen as Blow Against Russia

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Feb. 28.—The Chicago Tribune has obtained authentic information that Leningrad munition plants are working three shifts a day to produce guns and munitions for the Chinese government. It is also reported that Moscow has granted a large war credit to China and that deliveries are being made via caravans through Mongolia.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HARBIN, Manchukuo, Feb. 28.—Success of the present Japanese military operations to include Jehol and Mongolia in the Japanese supported state of Manchukuo will menace China's last important channel of transport and communication with Russia and will place Japan in a position to control all three trade routes, to throttle the communist Internationale's connections with Chinese communists and in some measure to suppress the Chinese Reds themselves.

The long Trans-Siberian railroad, which circles north of Manchukuo, ends at the port of Vladivostok on the Japan sea. The Japanese navy can quickly blockade the port. Japanese already control the short cut South Manchuria railway, connecting with the Siberian spur from Chita at Manchuli. The Manchurian line then runs to Harbin, where one branch turns south to Mukden and the other continues east to Pogranichnaya to connect with the Vladivostok spur.

Third Route Is Open.

The third route, crossing the middle of Asia, is now the only untrammeled route from Russia to China. This starts from Verkhne-Udinsk, a Russian station on the Trans-Siberian east of Irkutsk, thence goes down river and overland some 920 miles to Kalgan, on the Chinese wall, a "back door" entrance to Peiping, only 100 miles away by rail.

The Verkhne-Udinsk route is traversed with many difficulties and the trip requires from three to five days. The first section is by steamer about 120 miles down the River Selenga to Kiakhta, Siberian frontier town. This is ordinarily a trip of 30 hours, but in winter horses and sledges are needed for 40 hours or more of travel.

The next section is over a very poor motor road, circling and climbing hills for about 170 miles to Urga, Mongolia. The trip takes about 24 hours. The final and longest stretch is 620 miles over the Gobi desert. In calm weather the sand is smooth and firm and Kalgan can be reached in from 12 to 24 hours.

Lift Ban on Travel.

For nearly a year one Chinese general prohibited motor travel between Urga and Kalgan. Several months ago the ban was lifted. Another indication of the importance of this route was observed in Harbin. A large firm operating under the German name "Vostvag," but really more Russian than German, in December moved its stocks, consisting of three carloads of tires, motors, cars, spare parts and sundry technical equipment, to Kalgan.

While the Verkhne-Udinsk to Kalgan route is open China can get constant support from soviet Russia. Arms, ammunition, and men can be sent in any number. The Japanese are aware of this, and if they occupy Jehol they can easily move farther to Peiping and Kalgan to break the last direct touch with Russia.

Communism Makes Appearance.

When South Manchurian railway service was reëstablished recently with three trains weekly between Harbin and Pogranichnaya, Harbin residents observed a new type of passengers. Coming in groups of two to five were young Chinese men, neatly dressed in national costume, and carrying small bags. They got off at stations above and below Harbin and disappeared among the native population.

Soon after their arrival the population began to show a transformation, evidencing communistic ideas. Signs bearing the sickle and hammer appeared. The first evidence of results was a raid on a Chinese village near Siao Sui Fen by a mob and soldiers. Clothing, money, and valuables were taken away from their owners, leaving the rich as poor as the poorest and all in equal poverty.

Chinese Pirates Raid Ship; Kidnap Three Passengers

HONGKONG, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Chinese pirates attacked the Danish steamer Gustav Diederichsen last night while en route to Swatow, held up the officers, smashed the wireless, ransacked the ship and decamped with three first class passengers. Chief Officer Rad Nielsen was shot in the abdomen when he tried to give an alarm.

LEWIS SEES WAR PERIL TO U. S. BY ARMS EMBARGO

Warns Nation Not to Mix in Jap-China Fight.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—[Special.]—A warning that application of an American arms embargo against China and Japan or Japan alone might involve us in another disastrous foreign war was delivered on the senate floor today by Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Chicago.

The senator called attention to the action of Great Britain in declaring an embargo on arms shipments from that country to both Japan and China. Then he remarked that those responsible for the handling of American foreign affairs either in this or the next administration would make a great mistake if they allowed Britain's arms ban to influence our position on that question.

Rise to Power and Influence.

Senator Lewis' advice to America was to remain neutral and to refrain from placing an embargo upon arms shipments to the orient. This country, he told his colleagues, rose to great power and influence by remaining aloof from foreign entanglements and by maintaining a policy of rigid neutrality. The nation's departure from that policy during the world war, when it joined with European powers in a co-partnership advertised as "for peace and accord," led this country, the veteran senator said, into a conflict so serious in nature that it cost us 25 billion dollars and 200,000 American lives.

One major point stressed by Senator Lewis was that the placing of an embargo against Japan might cause an early disastrous attack against the Philippines by Japan or by Japan and Russia.

Many officials took the view that Britain had placed the United States in a hole by declaring an embargo against both nations, whereas the Hoover administration was understood to have considered an embargo at only one, Japan.

Takes Fling at Britain.

The senator from Illinois said Great Britain was attempting to persuade the United States to join her in an arms embargo in the orient. You must remember, he advised his colleagues, "that Britain already has sold all the arms to both nations they can pay for and in addition has sold them the machinery with which munitions can be manufactured."

"We should not," he added, "enter into any of those seductive alliances with European powers regardless of the reason for which they are advanced. Let America keep her place, carry out her policies separately, remain neutral, and protect her own existence and her trade. I would not have the United States enter into any agreement with foreign nations which would permit them to guide our foreign policy."

British Embargo on Arms to Far East Stirs Hostility in Japan; Action Called 'Useless'

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

TOKIO, Feb. 28.—The British arms embargo against Japan and China so obviously defeats its own aim as a pacific gesture that official Japanese criticism is focused on its intention, which is interpreted as an infliction of moral censure on Japan. A war office spokesman today thus summed up the army's opinion.

"The embargo applied equally to China and Japan can only help Japan, since China entirely depends on imported munitions, whereas our manufacturing capacity is equal and far greater to the demands than those of the Manchurian operations, which can be met from existing stores," he said. "The embargo can only be intended as a rebuke to Japan and must change our long standing friendship with Great Britain."

Foresees No Inconvenience.

According to this officer, Japan is virtually self-supplying in munitions and has bought little from England recently except twenty machine guns for planes. The supply of spare parts and ammunition may be interrupted, but the inconvenience will not be serious, he said.

A representative of Admiral Mineo Osumi, minister of navy, expressed similar opinions. He pointed out that the navy, which once maintained a large technical office at London, has reduced its staff there and curtailed purchases.

This officer said that neither the present fitness of the Japanese navy nor new construction would be appreciably affected by the embargo. He added that although England and Japan had differed over the Manchurian problem, they had been accustomed to work together on many other issues. This, he said, would cease.

Naval officers doubt whether it is possible to make the embargo effective. They recall that during the Moroccan troubles, although English and French warships patroled the African coast, gun running continued.

The foreign office is puzzled by the imposition of the embargo and seem to suspect that America has had a hand in the matter. It is said the change in Great Britain's attitude has been visible since Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsey's visit to London after seeing President Elect Roosevelt.

It is surmised here that the British government's determination to preserve a favorable atmosphere with the United States until economic problems are settled induced London to adopt a stronger line marking disapproval of Japan's policy.

The Japanese believe Great Britain could have prevented the league of nations report being so unfavorable to Japan and do not consider Japan's refusal of conciliation the sole explanation for the change. The embargo has added to these suspicions, making Great Britain, at present, highly unpopular here.

Preparations are being made to complete Japan's withdrawal from the league, which the nature of the league report renders inevitable, according to the foreign office spokesman. A document communicating Japan's decision to Geneva, with the reasons therefor, is now being drafted and will be submitted to the privy council in ten days.

Embargo Displeases Chinese.

NANKING, China, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Chinese spokesmen today said the British embargo on arms shipments to China and Japan meant an increase in the power of "Japanese military aggression."

These commentators said the embargo would not help the cause of peace. It was pointed out that Japan is well equipped with arms and China is practically without them, and unless China can obtain weapons she will be helpless. Opponents of the embargo said the world powers should use such restrictive action against the "aggressor" only.

Urges U. S.-British Action.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—(AP)—George Lansbury, leader of the Labor party, today urged that Great Britain and the United States act together in an embargo on arms shipments effective against Japan alone.

Lansbury thought such an embargo should be extended to "cover everything in the matter of finance, credits, and goods which would assist the Japanese in any way." He said his party agreed entirely with the attitude of Senator Borah of the United States.

(In Washington yesterday Mr. Borah, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, said that "To put an arms embargo on China and Japan is to take sides with Japan under the conditions and circumstances that now exist.")

STRUGGLE LOOMS ON EACH MOVE FOR ECONOMIES

Senators Divided Over Valuing Railways.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—[Special.]—How difficult it will be to get any of the useless activities of the federal government abolished is borne in upon the observer by the failure of efforts in the senate merely to reduce the annual appropriation for the valuation of the railroads by the interstate commerce commission.

That work was undertaken 20 years ago under legislation initiated by the late Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin. The valuation of rail properties was to serve as the basis for rate making. After 20 years the work is far from complete, no valuation has been arrived at, and no rates have been based on such valuation. Moreover, the house interstate commerce committee has recommended abandonment of the project as an impracticable rate making basis. The work has cost up to date close to 150 millions, of which the railroads have borne 100 and the government 50 millions.

Iowan Seeks Reduction.

When the interstate commerce commission appropriation for 1934 came before the senate, Senator L. J. Dickinson [Rep., Ia.] moved to reduce the valuation item from $2,313,542, as voted by the house, to $1,750,000. He recalled that the commission in 1928 promised to complete the work in 3 years. "Now they are promising again to complete it in 3 years," he said. "They suggest if given this amount of money this year they will want only $1,750,000 next year. I think the only way we will get the reduction is to make the reduction now and keep the amount reduced."

Senator Reed Smoot [Rep., Utah], who never was known to have advocated an economy, immediately protested. He conceded that the valuation work "seems almost an interminable proposition," but pleaded that the amount proposed and "a very small appropriation next year" would complete the work. He weakened, however, when Senator Dickinson started in to air the valuation fiasco record. Senator Smoot was on the point of accepting the amendment, with a view to settling the matter in the conference committee of the two houses, when up rose young Bob La Follette to defend the pet institution of his sire.

Senator La Follette had a brand new argument for prolonging the valuation work. "At a time," he said, "when the federal government through the Reconstruction Finance corporation is lending hundreds upon hundreds of millions of dollars to railroad corporations for the purpose of sustaining their capital structure, is not the time to cut the appropriation for the valuation of the railroads, which is the only protection the government has in the premises."

Senator William H. King [Dem., Utah] wanted to know what advantage there would be in knowing the value of the property of a railroad 15 years ago, much of which has been dissipated in the meantime, in determining the basis for fixing rates or making loans. Mr. La Follette ignored that question, but insisted that the valuation work would be important in connection with the railroad reorganizations authorized under the pending bankruptcy bill.

Debate on Its Benefits.

Senator James Couzens [Rep., Mich.] talked of the amounts the valuation work has saved shippers "by protecting them against higher rates," and Senator Dickinson retorted he did not think "it has ever saved them any." The Iowa senator went on to say that he knew of no place where half a million dollars could be more easily saved without doing anybody any harm than this. He pointed out that the primary valuation had been completed and, according to the commission, could be kept current for $400,000 a year.

Senator Couzens argued the valuation work is essential to the furnishing of information needed in making R. F. C. loans to the railroads. Senator Dickinson remarked that "if the emergency is as great as is suggested" the information will be needed before July 1 and the appropriation in question is for valuation work subsequent to July 1. He also cited the recent report of the Coolidge railroad committee which declared for rates based not on property value, but on costs of efficient operation.

"We cry 'economy,' but when we get a chance to vote we all vote the other way," exclaimed Mr. Dickinson. "I would like to have a roll call on this amendment. I would like to see how many senators want economy and how many want to keep on spending the government's money."

Senator La Follette returned to the defense, asserting that the valuations alone would protect the public investing in the new railroad stock to be issued in the rail reorganizations.

Senator Simeon D. Fess [Rep., O.] philosophized on the tendency of federal activities undertaken as temporary to become permanent and finally ejaculated that "it is perfect folly for us to talk about reducing any appropriation in this or in the other body."

Thereupon the senate, with 88 senators present, rejected the reduction proposed by Mr. Dickinson, who did not insist on a roll call.

Deny King Carol's Friend Is to Become a Mother

GANG DESTROYS LAUNDRY; STATE PLANS INQUIRY

The state's attorney's office is expected to start an investigation today into the destruction yesterday by five armed hoodlums of the plant of the No-Rub Laundry company, 3355 North Clark street. The manager of the laundry and seven other employés were terrorized by several of the gunmen while the others destroyed the machinery and clothing waiting to be laundered. The damage is estimated at between $4,000 and $5,000.

Morris Millman, the manager, told the police that he believed the attack came as a result of his refusal to join a laundry association. He charged that an official of the Cook County Laundry Owners' association recently told him that he would have to join the association.

State's Attorney Courtney, one of whose campaign pledges was to drive out racketeers, was not at his office yesterday because of the aldermanic elections, but it was said that he would order an investigation by his staff today.

CALLS HUSBAND, 40, GOLD DIGGER; FREES WIFE OF 60

Judge Restores Property to Glencoe Woman.

Mrs. Mary Luettig Brown, 382 Park avenue, Glencoe, was courted in 1931 by two men. She married one of them, Horace S. Brown of Leamington, Ont., and the other, Alanson Malott, an old friend of her husband, filed an unsuccessful suit for breach of promise against her last fall. Yesterday Judge Craig A. Hood granted her a divorce from Brown in the Circuit court, after styling her husband a male golddigger.

Brown married her in October, 1931, Mrs. Brown testified yesterday. She is about 60 and her husband is 40 years old. During their courtship, she charged, Brown deceived her with claims to the ownership of large properties in Ontario. As a result of his false claims, she asserted, she deeded her Glencoe home in joint tenancy with him and arranged for him to draw money from her $13,000 savings account.

Go to California.

Brown took her to California for a ten day honeymoon, and when they returned she discovered that her savings were gone, she charged. She saw little of her husband after that, she said. Brown, who contested the suit, took the witness stand and denied her charges.

"This was entirely a mercenary marriage," said Judge Hood. "Oftentimes I've had women called golddiggers in my court. This is one of the few cases in which it was evident that the man was a golddigger.

"Marries for Money."

"This is simply a question of fact. The truth of the situation is plain to any intelligent man who heard the evidence. This man didn't marry this woman for love, because he didn't love her. He married her for her money. This is an unfortunate alliance, as such marriages always are. This fellow did pretty well in spending his money and that of his wife. I'm not going to allow him to have any more."

Judge Hood granted Mrs. Brown a decree on grounds of desertion, and in it restored to her full title to the property in which she had deeded Brown an interest.

And have you tried every medicine under the sun, only to find yourself back where you started?

No wonder, for you, like thousands of others have probably been treating yourself for everything but the right thing. Get at the unsuspected cause—your gall bladder. If sluggish, it won't pour into your small intestines the most important digestive juice necessary for neutralizing gastric acid, quickening digestion and disinfecting the intestinal tract. If this juice doesn't flow freely, then your food sours, putrifies, stomach becomes filled with gas and acidity.

From Germany's greatest chemists comes a simple, pleasant means to make the digestive juice flow freely, and put you on the sunny side of life. Magnesia Oxoids, little white tablets that release pure oxygen. This amazing oxygen—purer than the air you breathe—plus magnesia, gently stimulates the gall bladder, neutralizes burning acidity and sweeps that poison-packed bowel clean.

Take two Oxoids after each meal—and before retiring—drink plenty of water—put your gall bladder to work—and you'll jump out of your skin for joy. Such new health! Such robust vigor! Get Magnesia Oxoids today from your druggist.—Advertisement.

SIX ALDERMEN ARE DEFEATED; 32 RE-ELECTED

on the north side when Edwin F. Meyer, with the aid of County Commissioner Charles H. Weber, administered a beating to Ald. Feigenbutz, a close associate of a former Republican mayor.

In the 20th ward, which was watched with interest due to the fight there between two sitting aldermen, Ald. Sloan early admitted defeat at the hands of Ald. William V. Pacelli. Sloan went into the race in what has been known as the badlands of politics with the assurance of aid from the Democrats through City Prosecutor Michael L. Rosinia, president of the 20th ward Democratic organization. However, Sloan charged last night that not only had the Democrats failed to keep their promise, but had worked against him.

Despite the united support of the Republican faction in the normally Republican 7th ward, Edward J. Hess lost to Thomas J. Daley, the candidate of the Democratic organization. Seven other candidates were in the field, but their vote failed of a total large enough to throw the contest into an April runoff.

Rivals in the Runoff.

In the runoff elections of April 4, Ald. Healy will be opposed by Joseph J. McGeeney, who was supported by former City Clerk Patrick S. Smith; Ald. Morris by Harry E. Perry, an employé in the county collector's office; Ald. Moreland by Oliver W. Holmes, an assistant corporation counsel; and Ald. Hoellen by Albert F. Schulz.

The fifth April runoff contest will be in the 9th ward between Leslie V. Beck, ex-secretary to former Ald. Sheldon W. Govier, and Arthur G. Lindell, a business man.

Besides the aldermanic contests, the city at large elected a Municipal judge and the 11th senatorial district chose a state senator. There was only one candidate for each of these offices. Gibson E. Gorman, a Democrat and an assistant corporation counsel, was unopposed in the race for the vacancy on the Municipal court bench caused by the election last year of Francis B. Allegretti to the Superior court. Gorman received 558,707 votes. In the senatorial election John M. Lee, a Democrat, had no opposition for the vacancy caused by the resignation of State's Attorney Courtney from the state senate.

Election Without Violence.

The election was peaceful. In three wards, the 5th, 14th, and the 20th, and in some precincts of the 43d, two policemen were detailed to each polling place, but little disturbance was reported to the election commissioners' office.

One death was attributed in part to the excitement of the election. Fred Sturm, 5227 Maryland avenue, a retired school engineer, died suddenly at his home after casting his vote in a polling place at Woodlawn avenue and 44th street. A physician said that the excitement of voting probably had brought on a heart attack.

VOTERS APPROVE BOND ISSUE FOR LINCOLN PARK

The Lincoln park refunding bond issue of $2,787,000 was approved by a vote of 72,247 to 23,315 yesterday, in a referendum. Alfred D. Piamondon, president of the park board, expressed his appreciation last night for what he termed a "vote of confidence" and declared that the bond issue would go a long way toward solving the system's financial problems.

Authorized by the legislature on Feb. 9, the proposal means that $1,339,000 in refunding bonds will be issued in 1933 and $1,448,000 in 1934 to replace Lincoln park bonds maturing in these years. The procedure was followed because, with the delay in the collection of taxes, the maturing bond obligations might have gone into default.

"The next step," said Mr. Piamondon, "is for the park board to adopt the interest rate, which is not to exceed 6 per cent, and then turn the new bonds over to the banks for the exchange."

During the last year bond obligations of the Lincoln park district were prevented from going into default by borrowing from other funds. The borrowings were as follows: Bridge fund, $1,450,000; park extension fund, $1,000,000, and corporate fund, $875,000, a total of $3,325,000.

BRITAIN ARRESTS MINING "KING" ON FRAUD CHARGES

Four London Financiers Face Prosecution.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 28.—Swift action instituted personally by the director of public prosecutions today brought about the arrest of Martin Coles Harman, a prominent financier, and three others on charges of conspiracy to defraud.

All four are officers, among other companies, of Chosen Corporation, Ltd. The Harman family is largely interested in the Chosen corporation, which is a holding company. It is capitalized at $2,500,000 (at par) in $5 shares. The Chosen company owns all the share capital of three Japanese companies, which in turn hold seventy-three mining claims in Corea.

Three Officials Arrested.

The other three arrested men are H. H. Pounds, chairman of the Chosen board; B. F. Conigrave, director of the British Bank for Foreign Trade, the Chosen corporation, the British Cyanides Company, Ltd., and other companies, and E. G. Changeat, director of Oceana Consolidated and Chosen.

It is reported that all the charges relate to affairs of the Chosen corporation.

Sir E. H. Tindal Atkinson, director of public prosecutions, secured warrants for the quartet's arrest at Guildhall this morning. They were served by two detective inspectors this afternoon and the accused were taken to the police station. They will appear in court at Guildhall tomorrow.

Declared a Bankrupt.

Records show that Harman's career in finance is of the flashiest. He was declared bankrupt after an extended legal battle only a few weeks ago. He purchased Lundy island in Bristol channel and figured extensively in the courts more than three years ago when he claimed to be the island's sovereign with the right to issue his own currency.

He rose to prominence in London's financial district within a few years. He started in Lazard Frere's bank where he became the active head of the stock department. He soon went into business for himself, quickly extending his control to various companies until he shared with associates in the direction of more than twenty companies worth $70,000,000 four years ago.

Last year judgment for $725,000 was entered against him and Arthur Gordon Williams. The order for adjudication was set aside last Oct. 24, while the case was taken before the Court of Appeals, but Harman lost and the order was restored recently.

He said he was planning to leave on March 10 for Chosen properties in the east with a movie camera man so he can show stockholders what the company's property is like.

EX-TEACHER IS SEIZED ON BAD CHECK CHARGE

Miss Marion O. Hawthorne, 35 years old, who said she was formerly a teacher of religious education at Northwestern university, was arrested yesterday on charges of passing worthless checks in two loop stores.

The warrants were served on her in the Hotel Dorian, 4545 Woodlawn avenue, where she has lived recently. According to the police, Miss Hawthorne admitted that she had been playing the horse races and losing.

A graduate of Syracuse university Miss Hawthorne took postgraduate work at Northwestern university and it was reported, held a teaching post there for three years. She is to be arraigned in the Felony court today.

Wounded in Holdup

OSCAR GLASS.

Oscar Glass, 11 years old, of 1638 Roosevelt road, was shot in the groin last night when he was caught between the fire of bandits and their victim near his home. The robbers, two young men, entered the shoe store of Pollack and Chavis at 1648 Roosevelt road, and took $25 after threatening the owners, Al Chavis and David Pollack, and a patron. As the gunmen started away in their automobile, Chavis ran into the street and fired several shots at them. One of the robbers returned the fire, and one of his bullets glanced from a brick wall and struck the boy, who was taken to the county hospital.

COST OF TRAINING A BOY SCOUT CUT TO $6.87 IN 1932

The per capita cost of training Boy Scouts in the Chicago area was $6.87 during the year 1932, compared to $15.60 in 1930, and the enrollment totaled 17,043, while in 1930, the peak enrollment was 17,380, Mason Phelps, chairman of the executive board of the Chicago council, said last night. He presented his annual report at the annual meeting of the Chicago council, Boy Scouts of America, in the Hotel Sherman.

Supreme Court Justice Frederic R. DeYoung made the principal address of the evening. He said the Boy Scout organization is fitting youth to "make a contribution to the safety and perpetuity of a higher civilization."

U. S. ORDERS OLD JURY TO RESUME INSULL INQUIRY

May Remain in Session for Three Months.

The February federal grand jury, which on Monday indicted the Insulls and sixteen of their associates on mail fraud charges, will remain in session for two more months to investigate other Insull companies, United States Attorney Dwight H. Green said yesterday.

An act of congress makes it possible to keep a federal grand jury in session for not more than three months, and the government took advantage of this provision during the Al Capone inquiry in 1931.

Insull Utility, Inc., Next.

Monday's indictments grew out of the investigation of the defunct $150,000,000 Corporation Securities company, and the affairs of its twin investment trust, Insull Utility Investments, Inc., a $250,000,000 concern, will be taken up next. The grand jury will also inquire into the affairs of the Mississippi Valley Utilities company and finally Middle West Utilities, parent concern of a $1,500,000,000 utilities empire, it was said at the federal building.

The present grand jury will be known as "the Insull grand jury." Another one will be sworn early in March to take up routine affairs, Mr. Green said.

Those indicted Monday continued to appear at the federal building and schedule bonds of $10,000 each. Among them were Waldo F. Tobey, counsel for Corporation Securities and a director of Insull Utility Investments, the only lawyer indicted. He had just returned from Bermuda. Others were George A. Kemp, assistant secretary of Insull Utility Securities company, and Robert W. Waite, vice president and treasurer of the same company.

Others to Surrender Today.

The Halsey, Stuart & Co. group, Harold L. Stuart, C. B. Stuart, Frank K. Shrader, and Clarence T. MacNeille, were expected to make bond today. Samuel Insull Jr., who was president of Corporation Securities, and Stanley Field, chairman of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, who was a director, and six others posted bonds on Monday.

Samuel Insull Sr. and Martin J. Insull are in Greece and Canada, respectively, but there were rumors at the federal building yesterday that the founder of the utilities empire would return voluntarily and stand trial rather than permit the blame for the crash to be placed upon his son.

BOY STABBED IN QUARREL.

Harold Sereith, 12 years old, 5120 Wentworth avenue, was stabbed in the side and slightly injured by a playmate, William Ackerbush, 10 years old, 5140 South Wells street, in a quarrel yesterday.

BEG YOUR PARDON

In an item in Saturday's TRIBUNE it was incorrectly stated that Peter Kleba, arrested as a bandit, lived at 2254 Lewis street. Mrs. Bertha Lietzen of that address states that he has never lived there.

The Wahl Institute of Brewing Technology, to be opened in the loop by Dr. Robert Wahl, is not a revival of the Wahl-Henius institute, as was stated in Monday's TRIBUNE, according to F. M. Dupont, vice president of the Wahl-Henius institute. He said that Dr. Robert Wahl has not been connected with the Wahl-Henius institute since 1922. The latter institution, located at 2374 Lincoln avenue, Mr. Dupont said, has been in active operation since 1886, where a full course of brewing is in progress.

Three of a kind... winners in Better Baby Contest

Did you ever see such happy, laughing babies? They are Jean, Jane and Joan, triplet daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Parisek of 2657 Mildred Avenue, Chicago, and they won first honors at the baby show recently featured in the Autumn Festival of the Illinois Women's Athletic Club. Perhaps theirs is the smile of victory—but more likely the smile of contentment at their soft and fluffy woolens washed in American Family Flakes.

Babies can talk!

—and you should hear these triplets praise American Family Flakes

Of course babies can talk! Those happy little smiles... those bright baby eyes... what else could they express but utter bliss and contentment?

Jean, Jane and Joan (yes, reading from left to right) are telling you that such contentment as theirs comes from little woolens fluffy and soft as thistledown, smooth and comforting to their delicate skin... petticoats and dresses clean and white as snow... little pink sweaters dainty as their own shell-pink ears. And they're voicing their thankfulness that Mother insists on a soap that is absolutely pure.

"I've been a steady user of American Family Flakes for the past ten years," declares Mrs Henry Parisek; "and now more than ever we depend on it. You can imagine the important part it plays in our household when I tell you that our laundry for the triplets alone includes 6 to 9 undershirts, 6 to 9 pairs of stockings, 9 dresses, 6 petticoats, 6 sheets, 3 to 6 blankets, 6 pillow cases, 30 to 50 diapers—every day of the week!

"But American Family Flakes cleanses so thoroughly and swiftly—with no hard rubbing—that laundering is no task at all. It goes so much farther, too, than ordinary soap flakes. That's reason enough for using it.

"More than that, however, I prefer American Family to all others because it's a better, purer soap; its suds are richer and smoother; it leaves the babies' blankets and diapers soft and fluffy; never causes diaper rash; keeps the hands smooth and white; above all, it saves the clothes — never harms one piece of laundry."

Never harms one piece of laundry — what a saving in money this means to Mrs Parisek! For remember, she has to buy not one but three dresses, three sweaters, three blankets at a time! And remember, too, that a single careless laundering with cheap, lye-laden flakes could not only bring ruin to delicate colors and soft woolens... but could also bring endless discomfort to her precious Jean and Jane and Joan!

Begin today to use American Family Flakes—not only for laundering but for every household-cleaning task. You will find it cleanses china and glassware, woodwork and linoleum with the same sure touch that it safeguards the fluffiness of baby clothes—adding months and months to their wear and beauty.

You will find, too, that it saves you hours and hours of needless work. The reason is simple. Kirk's American Family makes double the suds of ordinary soap flakes... because it was created especially for the hard water of this Great Lakes region. And it's the double-suds that makes the difference!

AL SMITH TELLS PLANS TO COPE WITH DEPRESSION

Balanced Budget, Sales Tax, Debt Holiday Urged

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—[Special.]—Alfred E. Smith, with none of the visiting specialist's solemnity, all of the family doctor's directness, walked into the senate finance committee's depression clinic today and told the men around the table their patient was so sick they'd better not stand so near the bed or he'd never get well. Give him fresh air and he'd have a chance. And the biggest whiff of fresh air which congress could provide for the sufferer, suggested the former governor of New York, would be to give him a chance to make some money without having it taxed all away from him before he put it back into circulation.

That, in substance, was the formula for the cure.

Lists His Suggestions.

Just to make sure the clinic would follow the formula, Mr. Smith posted up the following rules in the nation's sick room:

1. Hold fast to hard money; beware the blandishment of the soft.
2. Float a federal public works bond issue.
3. Forgive the farmer his debts for 1 year; the foreign nations theirs for five years.
4. Recognize Russia.
5. Honor state rights, especially with regard to the conventions for ratifying the repeal amendment.
6. Reconstruct the Reconstruction Finance corporation.
7. Reduce government bureaus, but add one for a consolidated transportation.
8. Balance the budget by (among other things) adding a sales tax rather than imposing excessively high income taxes.

This last recommendation furnished the theme of his talk. All the other measures save the one about state rights in setting up ratifying conventions would, he maintained, back up the fundamental medicine—aid to American enterprise and employment.

Urges Moderate Sales Tax.

A moderate manufacturers' sale tax, with food, fuel, clothing exempted, say "one per cent of a $1,000 annual expenditure," would hurt no one and "would give everybody a chance to throw in a white chip when we need it to keep the ship going."

More than that, it would not only tend to balance the budget but in normal times would help to balance the present high income tax which, Mr. Smith charged, "is just holding capital down to earth."

"Take a man who takes a chance," said the man who has himself taken several, "if he loses, why, it's just too bad. We're sorry for him. But if he wins, look what happens to him. They come in and take the largest part of it away from him.

"The man who ventures and makes a million," Mr. Smith pointed out, "will in the state of New York have to hand over $675,000 in taxes. So after he has risked all his money to make a million, all he gets is $325,000 out of it. With these high brackets it's going to be hard to induce him to go into great projects."

Offers an Example.

It's the same with investments, he argued.

"Take a man that wants to invest his money. The Pennsylvania railroad says to him, 'Here we're electrifying the lines to Philadelphia. Come in and buy some of our first mortgage gold bonds. Pay you 5 per cent.' The fellow looks at him for a minute and says 'Well, it'll put people to work. But the trouble is I don't get five per cent. By the time the government gets through with me it's down to 3 per cent. So I think instead of doing business with you I'll do business with the government.' So he goes and buys government bonds and there's no money to build a railroad."

Cites Own Experience.

Then he interjected an autobiography touch that tickled the gallery, when he said:

"Take my case. I got $50,000 a year as president of the Empire State building. I have no other money. I got myself a nice apartment. After living in a mansion at Albany for 6 years I couldn't see 1st avenue." A giggle went around the room. "So I went over to 5th avenue; signed a lease for $10,000. Now, my salary's decreased; the lease's still in my lap and the federal and state governments are goin' to take $10,800 away from me in taxes.

"Well, lay up the automobile. Chauffeur out of work. If three or four other fellows at my garage do that, a couple of car washers are laid off. Less gasoline bought. Less rubber tires. It's a kind of a vicious circle."

It's a somewhat similar vicious circle, he believes, which whirls about if we insist on immediate full payment of our debts. With considerable conviction, he hunched forward in his chair and declared: "I still feel that I was right last spring when I said that we ought not to cancel our war debts, but just declare everything off for a good long period."

Suggest Five Year Period.

Senator Smoot [Rep., Utah], chairman of the clinic, wanted to know how long is a long time.

Mr. Smith thought we could start with five years; but of course that friendly gesture would depend on their doing business with us, and their doing business with us would depend on lower tariffs—just enough tariff to take up the slack between the cheap foreign labor and the "high class labor" in this country.

Mr. Smoot, father of the Smoot-Hawley tariff, mumbled something about "that's just what I think, too."

In a tone that said, "tosh," Mr. Smith ventured the suggestion that the tariff, in his opinion, was "a little higher than that," and summed it up in a nithism:

"They ain't got any money over there and what they have ain't very much good, and when they got here with it they can't get in."

Would Recognize Russia.

Mr. Smith would like to see Uncle Sam act like a banker, good hearted in the cause of good business. Such a banker, he maintained, wouldn't "kick a customer out of the bank and call the sheriff" if the fellow said he was having a hard time, but would trim his overhead, work hard, and try to pay.

"And by the way," interrupting himself, "I'll get those foreign nations to trim down their armaments. They're overhead."

This give and take policy should likewise be extended to the farm mortgage crisis in this country. He hopes the governors' conference called here by Mr. Roosevelt for next Monday will consider a possible moratorium plan.

As to his recommended recognition of Russia, Mr. Smith said bluntly "Why not? We're trading with her under cover anyway, and if we got on friendly relations with her she'd buy a lot of wheat here and machinery."

Has No Fear of Communists.

Communist? He's not afraid of it. If it's going to grow anywhere, he argued, it would grow in New York. And New York, while "suffering, is satisfied."

"O, of course, every now and then half a dozen crack pots jump up on soapboxes in Union square and yell, but they've been doing that ever since I was a boy."

All forms of monetary inflation are distasteful to him, the visiting doctor declared. Mere shots in the arm. Each dose has to be stronger than the one before, and when the effect wears off "where are you?"

He fingered an old prescription he had written a year ago—flotation of a reconstruction bond issue, to be sold as the Liberty loans were, with patriotism a key to unlock the money that he believes is hidden in many a home. Such a project would include federal highways, "the relief work on which you get the quickest action"; bridges, etc.

The so-called "made work" is something of a sell for the taxpayer, Mr. Smith charged. He cited New York, with 30 millions from the state, 18 million from the Gibson private committee, 6 million from the R. F. C.—and "yet not a dime to buy a pick or shovel, so we clean up the parks and do other things that have no permanent value."

Favors R. F. C. Changes.

Which brought him to the R. F. C. He disagrees with the stipulation that everything into which R. F. C. funds go should be self-liquidating (even when some of the money is not from the R. F. C.); he wants the federal relief department taken out of the corporation and given in charge of an individual or a small commission; he recommends a reduced rate of interest, and he strenuously opposes bank loans publicity.

The government machine has got too big. He looks for a speedy consolidation, curtailment, and abolition of some of the functions of federal government. But he would also add one—a secretary or a bureau of transportation. Railroads will have to consolidate, he predicts, and they'll never do it voluntarily.

"They've heard so much of this talk about the rails bein' to the nation what the blood vessels are to the body. But they can't go on indefinitely supporting huge capital structures," he forecast. "And ultimately they will be consolidated, as a federal enterprise, with allied transportation facilities of air and water and road."

LONDON POLICE SEEK TO BREAK UP BANDIT GANG

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 28.—A campaign under the direction of Lord Trenchard, chief commissioner of metropolitan police, has been inaugurated by Scotland Yard in an attempt to break up a gang of gunmen who have committed five holdups within a week.

Known haunts of criminals in the east end and in the foreign quarter are under close scrutiny. Charges of illegal possession of firearms will be pressed against persons arrested carrying guns.

Scotland Yard suspects that a "bandit queen" is behind the wave of holdups. It is reported that she rents out guns to bandits.

R. F. C. ADVANCES 6 MILLIONS FOR ILLINOIS RELIEF

Warns State Borrowing Limit Is Reached.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—[Special.]—The Reconstruction Finance corporation today advanced another six million dollars to the state of Illinois with a stern warning that she has now reached the legal limit of her relief borrowings from the federal government.

Today's loan brings the total thus far advanced to the state to within $261,379 of the 45 million dollar restriction imposed by the emergency relief act on the amount which any one state may obtain from the finance corporation for relief purposes. With this in mind, the corporation stated:

"This inevitably means that the state of Illinois must find ways and means of relieving distress among its people and of assuming the full burden of such costs within the next thirty days.

Provide Further Funds.

"The Illinois general assembly is now in session and has been for several weeks, and in view of these conditions should take immediate action to provide funds to meet the relief needs of various political subdivisions of the state."

The corporation added that "in view of the almost complete exhaustion" of the funds, which it can grant to Illinois, it was forced to choose between the alternatives of spreading the fund over a longer period of time, which would have placed the state relief activities on a lower basis, or of advancing the money at once, with a view to keeping relief standards at their present level for another month. It chose the latter course, the corporation said, "in the belief that the legislature of Illinois will within the next thirty days take effective steps to provide relief for its suffering citizens."

Of today's loan, which amounted to $6,245,143, the corporation said $5,196,275 is to be expended in Cook county alone. The total amount obtained by Illinois in eight separate loans is $44,738,621.

Advance $3,608,222 to Wisconsin.

In addition to the Illinois loan, the finance corporation advanced $3,608,222 to Wisconsin for relief purposes in seventy-six political subdivisions of the state, and $353,261 to Iowa to meet relief needs in twenty-two counties. Wisconsin previously has obtained $8,304,770 in relief money from the corporation, while Iowa has received loans amounting to $1,134,851.

The corporation board also approved relief loans of $7,100,000 to New York and $2,257,569 to Ohio. It was the second loan obtained by New York, $6,100,000 having been granted previously, while Ohio has obtained a total of $10,267,768 in several earlier advances.

HAROLD ICKES CITES COURAGE OF INDUSTRY IN SUPPORTING FAIR

Harold L. Ickes, who will be secretary of the interior in President Roosevelt's cabinet, last night paid a tribute to the courage of American industry, which he said was exemplified by making possible A Century of Progress, to open here in June, despite the depression. Mr. Ickes spoke over a coast to coast N. B. C. radio hookup.

"The question has been raised as to the possibility of the exposition's not opening," said Mr. Ickes. "The answer to that question is, 'Go to the exposition grounds now and see for yourself.'

"Approximately $5,000,000 has been subscribed for exhibit space in exposition and special exhibit buildings; most of the buildings are finished."

Millions of Individuals and Families are Benefited

Some evidence of the extent to which the public has been helped by The Travelers Companies alone during the last three years of stress is shown by the disbursement of 460 millions of dollars in policy benefits, including policy loans, during that period. The distribution of this sum has required the issuance of three million checks and bank drafts. The payments were widespread and the flow of money into personal, family and corporate exchequers was constant, meeting needs that were more urgent than in normal times.

Insurance Pours Out Nine Billion Dollars in Three Trying Years

Under life insurance and annuity contracts, insurance companies collectively have poured more than four billion dollars of cash into the hands of living policyholders; and put another two billion into the hands of widows, orphans and other beneficiaries.

Thus, during a period of stress, did a secondary purpose of life insurance, that of providing emergency funds in cash for policyholders, come into unusual prominence. At the same time the primary purpose, that of providing incomes and substantial sums to families after the death of the income producer, continued to be accomplished.

Another three billion dollars has been paid to policyholders in the last three years by fire and casualty insurance companies.

Insurance companies were able to meet promptly all their obligations during a period when credit conditions generally were stringent. Loans to holders of life insurance policies were made promptly upon the sole security of their contracts.

This noteworthy performance is evidence of the ability of insurance to adjust itself to changing conditions; an ability that justified the faith of even the staunchest friends of insurance.

Few sought policy loans until all other avenues of relief had been exhausted, because men have come to look upon life insurance as their best investment and they do not thoughtlessly reduce its value. Thousands who borrowed are steadily paying back the funds obtained and restoring their insurance protection.

Law of Averages Observed in Investments as Well as in Underwriting

The law of averages, which forms the basis of the insurance business, is observed in the investment of insurance funds as well as in the assumption of risks. In the case of The Travelers Companies, the percentages of assets held in various forms are as follows:

	Per Cent
U. S. Government Securities	12.2
Other Public Securities	13.3
Railway Securities	11.8
Public Utility Securities	11.0
Other Securities	6.1
First Mortgage Loans	15.6
Real Estate	3.9
Loans on Company's Policies	17.6
Cash on Hand and in Banks	2.7
Interest Accrued	1.5
Premiums Outstanding and Deferred	4.2
All Other Assets	0.1

The purpose of The Travelers Companies' holdings of United States Government Bonds of 85 millions, cash of 18 millions, and other marketable securities is to meet its various obligations promptly as presented.

Public Using Larger Proportion of Income for Insurance Than Ever

While the income of the American people has been greatly reduced during the last three years, the amount paid for life insurance has been well maintained and today the public is putting a far larger proportion into life insurance than ever. People have found in insurance an economic device that has been of extraordinary service and one which they will use to an even greater extent in the future.

L. E. Zacher
President

What kind of income do you need?

Do you want an assured income, starting now or at some future date, and continuing as long as you live? Do you want a life income starting at age 55, 60, or 65 with life insurance protection for your family in the meantime?

Do you want to assure your family one hundred or several hundred dollars a month, so that they may be protected against hardship and suffering in event of your death?

Do you want to make sure that your income will not be interrupted by accidental injury and to provide for hospital and surgical expenses in such an event?

If you are anxious to provide an income along any of these lines, there is a Travelers Life Insurance, Annuity, Retirement Income or Accident contract which will provide it for you and a Travelers representative to offer you expert advice on the selection of such a contract or combination of contracts.

BISHOP STEWART CALLS DIOCESE TO REPENTANCE

Blames Sins of People for World's Plight.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Bishop George Craig Stewart of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago issued a call to the diocese last night to observe Ash Wednesday today in a spirit of repentance. The sins of people today are the root of present distressing conditions in the world, the bishop declared.

"Each person must shoulder his share of the blame for our pitiful conditions and I call Chicagoans to personal penitence and to social penitence," said Bishop Stewart. "We have sinned. Our personal sins have eaten away our peace. We need to fast and to break up the tyranny of the habitual. We become shallow and silly because we leave no spaces for quiet thought and consideration for the things that matter most."

Services in Many Churches.

Bishop Stewart will be the first speaker at the Lenten noon day services conducted by the Church club of Chicago at the Grand Opera house. Solemn services will be held in hundreds of Chicago churches during the day. Catholics, Episcopalians, and Lutherans have held firmly to strict observance of the Lenten season, which begins today and closes on the eve of Easter. This year Easter falls on April 16.

Rules for the observance of the Lenten season have been published in all Catholic churches. Communicants will assemble at their parish churches to receive the ashes of the palms burned after the observance of Palm Sunday last year. The period of the 40 days in the Lenten season does not include the Sundays, inasmuch as each Sunday of the year is regarded as a "lesser Easter" by the older branches of the Christian church. Therefore, despite the fact that Sundays in Lent have especial significance they are of a festal nature.

Not a Flabby Religion.

"The 40 days which we enter tomorrow," said Bishop Stewart last night, "are days of solemn obligation. They are also days of rich promise of that splendor which comes only to lives that practice discipline. Christianity is not a flabby religion. It is a religion for spiritual athletes."

Bishop Stewart has prepared a special prayer to be used today in all Episcopal churches for the recovery of Mayor Cermak. The prayer will also be offered at the Grand Opera house meeting this noon. These meetings will be held each noon during Lent except Saturdays and Sundays. Widely known pastors from over the nation have been called to lead the loop services.

OHIO TO VOTE ON DRY REPEAL NEXT FALL; HOUSE APPROVES TEST

Columbus, O., Feb. 28.—[Special.]—The voters of Ohio will be given a chance to vote on the question of repeal of the state constitutional prohibition amendment next November, following the action of the house of representatives in passing the Smolka-McCrystal resolution here today.

The vote was 83 to 47. The senate previously had passed the measure which provided for the referendum.

Oregon Senate Beats Dry Test.

Salem, Ore., Feb. 28.—(AP)—The Oregon senate today defeated two resolutions to submit the state prohibition issue to a vote of the people.

The resolutions proposed to refer the question of repeal of the state constitutional prohibitions against use, sale, and importation of liquor. They had no connection with the proposal to call a constitutional convention on national prohibition.

COL. M'CORMICK ASSAILS WASTE IN GOVERNMENT

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, in a speech tonight declared the departments of commerce, agriculture, and the interior "are not much better than rackets."

The Chicago publisher attacked high federal taxes, and observed that "we have reached the extraordinary situation where the ownership of property has become a liability, not an asset."

Col. McCormick said the collapse of the stock market was mainly due to stocks forced upon the market by "government exactions."

"For more than a year I have made this statement, and I will continue to proclaim it," Col. McCormick said. "There is not a cabinet officer, there is not a member of congress who dares to try to demonstrate that one-half of the money appropriated for any department of government is used for the purpose designated.

"Not one-half of the money appropriated for the war department is spent to make an army; not one-half of the money appropriated for the navy department is spent to build, operate, and maintain a combat fleet; not one-half of the money appropriated for the postoffice department is spent to move the mails.

"As for other great branches of the government—the department of commerce, the department of the interior, the department of agriculture, are not much better than rackets. Rackets, I regret to say, which are supported by small elements of our population, persuaded that they are receiving from them special benefits at the expense of the general taxpayer."

Mrs. Willard, whose home was in Cincinnati, came here recently for the opening of her play, "When Ladies Meet," in which her daughter appeared.

2 STREET CARS CRUSH AN AUTO; 2 MOTORISTS DIE

Driver Tries to Pass Between Trolleys.

Two men were crushed to death last night when their automobile was sandwiched between a north bound street car and a south bound street car in Cottage Grove avenue, just north of 69th street.

Witnesses said that the driver, south bound, tried to pass the south bound car just as the north bound one approached. He tried a sharp turn in the narrowing opening, between the two cars, but crashed against the approaching car. This car hurled the automobile against the south bound car, and both cars then crushed the automobile between them.

Identify One Victim.

One of the victims was identified later as C. Leonard Talbot, 35 years old, of 3140 Evans avenue. Cards in his pocket led to establishing his identity. The other man, about the same age, is believed to have been a resident of Chicago, although the car bore a Michigan license.

John K. Bruppacher, 56 years old, 2010 Ohio street, was killed last night by a hit and run driver while crossing Madison street at Damen avenue. The victim, who was carrying a Bible under his arm, was returning home from services at the Second Baptist church, 1857 Jackson boulevard. An inquest will be held today.

Seize Political Worker.

Ralph De Maria, 24 years old, of 1027 South Hermitage avenue, who worked yesterday as a watcher at the 6th precinct of the 20th ward, was arrested last night allegedly while driving away from the scene of an accident in which a pedestrian was killed by his car.

The pedestrian, Theodore George, 40 years old, of 224 South Loomis street, was crossing Jackson boulevard at Loomis street when he was run down by an east bound automobile. The car did not stop.

On Way to City Hall.

Policemen Anthony Schneider and Frank Scholl of the Lincoln park force, who were in their car and off duty, saw the accident, and pursued the car. They stopped it at Racine avenue and Congress street. Its occupants included De Maria and six other men. They said they were on their way to the city hall with precinct returns. At the Des Plaines street station, where all were taken, De Maria denied knowing he had struck George, but police said that one of his companions refuted the denial.

One other death yesterday brought the 1933 auto toll in Cook county to 131. The victim:

Mrs. Anita Johnson, 29 years old, of 218 Whiting street. Died in the Henrotin Memorial hospital of injuries received Feb. 19 when she was hit by an automobile at La Salle and Maple streets. The driver was Sam Lustbader, 26, of 4307 Flournoy street.

Peter Cavanaugh, 928 West Roosevelt road, Wheaton, business agent of the Teamsters and Chauffeurs' union in DuPage county, was seriously injured last night when a car he was driving crashed into a truck on the St. Charles road in Bellwood. William Crasey, farmer of Bloomingdale, Ill., owner of the truck, who was making a mechanical adjustment at the time, also was seriously hurt.

AUTOMOBILE THEFTS.

Automobiles stolen, 75; recovered, 52; stripped, 13 (from police records for twenty-four hour period ending at midnight Monday). There were no court cases.

City Fireman, Father of 5, Killed by Street Car

Cyril Quail, 36 years old, a fireman attached to Engine Company 22, was fatally injured last night when he was struck by a south bound Clark street surface car at Waveland avenue. He lived at 3827 Harrison street, and was the father of five children. The mother is dead. Quail, police said, had been visiting friends at Engine Company 78, near the Cubs ball park. Starting homeward, he ran after one south bound car, missed it and was struck by the car following.

HEAD OF AMHERST SAYS U. S. NEEDS SMALL COLLEGES

The training of young men at Amherst college, where there are no business or vocational courses, where freshmen are taught by full professors, where the president and his wife dance with students at dances that are not policed, was compared with mass education at large universities at the Chicago Rotary club luncheon yesterday.

The speaker was Stanley King, president of Amherst, which numbers Calvin Coolidge and Dwight W. Morrow among its distinguished alumni. President King did not speak of Amherst as a competitor of the great universities in urban centers, but he said a nation such as ours has need of many types of colleges and suggested that the contribution of the small college becomes more vital as the large universities become larger and civilization becomes more urban.

"Our conception of education at a small college," he said, "is not preparation for graduate school, nor for citizenship, nor for a career, nor even for later life. It is an opportunity for young men to live here and now, as young citizens, in contact with the best knowledge man has been able to discover."

Last night President King was guest of honor at a dinner given by Chicago alumni of Amherst college at the University club.

CHINA PROTESTS "PERSECUTION" IN MEXICAN STATES

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The Chinese minister has called the Mexican government's attention to what he termed "inhuman persecution" of Chinese citizens in the states of Sonora and Sinaloa.

The minister, Samuel Sung Young, after a visit to foreign minister José Manuel Puig Casaurano yesterday, said the oppression amounted "almost to atrocities." He said he had information that Chinese in Sinaloa were being seized ruthlessly and forced out of the state, without opportunity to liquidate their businesses and in many cases without opportunity to pack or withdraw money from banks.

He said anti-Chinese committees, acting sometimes irrespective of state officials, appear responsible for an apparent drive to clear the state of some 2,000 Chinese. Some of the deported Chinese are now stranded in "pitiable condition" along the eastern border of Nayarit, the minister said.

State Begins Work Today on Lincoln Highway Link

The state highway department will start work today on the repaving of North Lake street in Aurora, which is a link in the Lincoln highway. This stretch has been avoided by traffic for years, however, because of its rough surface. The highway department will also soon start work on New York street, a continuation of Ogden avenue.

CUBA MOBILIZES ARMED FORCES TO FIGHT REBELS

Machado May Decree State of Civil War Today.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, Feb. 28.—President Gerardo Machado today accepted the latest challenge of opposition elements to his government by ordering the immediate mobilization of all the armed forces of Cuba. Gen. Alberto Herrera, chief of staff, ordered railways to prepare special troop trains to leave at midnight for strategic points in Oriente, Camaguey, and Santa Clara provinces.

Reports from the provinces indicate that a critical political situation exists. Groups of armed rebels, who have been conducting raids, have fled to isolated sections to await two expeditions from Mexico and Honduras.

Government troops have been ordered to prevent a large concentration of rebels and to repulse efforts of expeditionaries to land in Cuba.

Civil War Decree Expected.

The president is expected to decree a state of civil war tomorrow.

Brig. Gen. Antonio Anciart, national chief of police, escaped death tonight when oppositionists drove a truck loaded with 400 pounds of dynamite within a few feet of the chief's offices. The device controlling the explosion of the dynamite failed, and police speedily disconnected the fuse wires.

Another plot to assassinate Machado is also believed to have been averted, Gen. Anciart said tonight after a raid on an oppositionist office. Large quantities of bombs, rifles, machine guns and three "auto tanks" were confiscated along with secret documents of the A. B. C., terrorist organization. The papers are said to have revealed a nationwide conspiracy.

Military maps showing where expeditions are scheduled to land, and seditious literature urging the country to revolt and respond to a call to arms were seized. The literature said that Mario G. Menocal and Carlos Mendieta, leaders of the 1931 rebellion, are due to land expeditions some time in March "which will mark the beginning of the end of President Machado's dictatorship and criminal career."

35 Jailed as Rebel Leaders.

Thirty-five persons were arrested today as rebel leaders and police are hunting others. According to police, the plotters planned to murder Machado tomorrow while on his way to the palace from his farm near Cacahual.

Octavio Zubizarreta, secretary of interior, has ordered the press censorship strictly enforced. The measure does not affect the foreign press. Havana residents are alarmed tonight. They fear that the opposition will bomb the city with airplanes as the most effective method of ousting the government.

Pamphlets distributed throughout the capital tonight said that the capitol building and the presidential palace are to be destroyed.

RAINEY LEADS FIELD FOR SPEAKERSHIP; SNELL IS G. O. P. CHOICE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—[Special.]—Bertrand H. Snell of New York, leader of the Republican minority in the present congress, will continue in the same capacity in the 73d.

Republican members of the new congress, meeting in caucus tonight, named Mr. Snell as their candidate for speaker, a position which carries with it the minority leadership. Representative Harry L. Englebright of California was named Republican party whip to succeed Representative Carl G. Bachman of West Virginia who was defeated in November.

The Democrats meet in caucus Friday night to select the man who will become the speaker. The choice today lay between Majority Leader Henry T. Rainey [Dem., Ill.], John McDuffie of Alabama, Democratic whip, and Chairman Joseph T. Byrns [Tenn.] of the house appropriations committee.

At present Mr. Rainey has the edge, although a shift in sentiment may give the contest to Mr. McDuffie, a close friend of Speaker Garner. Indications today were that the New York Tammany delegation will be the deciding factor in the speakership race. Tammany leaders said today they would withhold their support for any one of the three major candidates for the first few ballots to see which way the wind blows. The tiger controls 29 votes.

Gun Gang Invades Food Store, Flees with $3,350

Five armed men yesterday entered the Continental Food store at 1230 Randolph street and, after terrorizing the president, Benedetti Pastorelli, and eight employés, fled with $1,350 and a diamond ring valued at $2,000. Anthony Culicchia, 230 South Austin boulevard, an official of the food company, was the owner of the ring.

PARAGUAY LOSES 400 SOLDIERS IN ATTACK ON FOE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PUERTO SUARES, Bolivia, Feb. 28.—A heavy rainfall has caused some cessation of activity in the Gran Chaco fighting between Bolivia and Paraguay.

Another desperate Paraguayan attempt to cut the Bolivian ring surrounding Fort Nanawa resulted in great losses to Col. Estigarrabia's beleaguered army. The Paraguayans have been subjected to both artillery and machine gun fire.

Paraguayan troops launched an attack in another sector, but according to a Bolivian communique retired in disorder to Fort Lauchino under Bolivian artillery fire and counter attacks. They left 400 dead. Many were taken prisoner. The Bolivians lost 30 men.

Paraguay Adjourns War Session.

ADMIRAL PRATT, RETIRING, CALLS FOR MORE SHIPS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—[Special.]—Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of naval operations and veteran arms reduction exponent, today called for the immediate adoption by the United States of a warship building program which would bolster national defense and at the same time stimulate business recovery through affording jobs for the idle and contracts for manufacturing concerns.

The Pratt recommendation came a few minutes after the senate had approved the 308 million dollar naval appropriation bill with only a few minor changes. The measure is expected to go to the White House shortly. It provides for continuing construction work or beginning work on all new warships now authorized. No changes are made in the number of enlisted men or officers of either the navy or the marine corps.

DEAN OF SPANISH CHURCH OUSTED BY POPE'S ORDER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, Spain, Feb. 28.—On orders from the Vatican the ecclesiastical bulletin of Granada today printed an edict excommunicating Luis Lopez Dorigo, dean of the cathedral there and an independent republican deputy in the constituent cortes. The dean voted for and made an eloquent defense of the law making divorce possible for the first time in Spain.

The Mardi Gras, after many years in eclipse due largely to the ecclesiastical disapproval and the ban by Dictator Primo de Rivera, is being staged again in Madrid tonight with unexampled vigor despite objections by the church. El Debate, clerical organ, says that the "moribund" festival has been revived through the connivance of the republican municipality in defiance of good taste and good morals.

TAX COLLECTIONS IN RURAL TOWNS ABOVE LAST YEAR

Property Owners Pay Up to Avoid Penalty.

Collection of 1931 taxes is proceeding at a faster rate in the country towns of Cook county than did collection of the 1930 levy in the same areas a year ago, it was indicated yesterday by reports from the collectors of a number of the suburban townships.

Reports were received from ten of the townships which are wholly or partly outside of the city of Chicago, where distribution of tax bills is still uncompleted.

In two of the townships the collections have not been in progress long enough for the collectors to judge the rate of payment. In five more payments are coming in 20 to 35 per cent faster than they did a year ago. Two other township collectors reported that they were doing business at about the same rate as last year, and in only one township were the collections found to be lagging behind last year's pace.

Pay to Avoid Penalty.

The collectors suggested two reasons for the increase in the rate of payments. One is that "tax strike" agitation has died out, and taxpayers, convinced that they must pay their bills eventually, are making every effort to pay them before penalties accrue. The other is that collections were started this year much closer to the penalty date than they were last year, with taxpayers consequently allowed less time to avoid such penalties.

Payments yesterday and Monday were especially heavy, a number of the collectors reported, due to the fact that many taxpayers had not seen newspaper notices that the penalty date, originally set for today, had been postponed to March 15.

One of the largest increases in payments over last year's level was reported by Mrs. Winnie Gouwans, collector in Thornton township, who estimated that 35 per cent more bills have been paid to her this year than were paid in the same number of collection days a year ago.

"There is much less dissatisfaction with tax bills this year than there was last," said Mrs. Gouwans, "partly because our bills are substantially lower throughout the township this year and because of the provision that real estate bills may be paid in two installments."

New Trier Collections.

Collector Sanborn Hale of New Trier township estimated yesterday that despite the installment payment plan, of which about 40 per cent of the taxpayers in his township are taking advantage, he will have collected as much money from the first real estate installment and personal property tax payments as he got in his full collection last year.

Both Mr. Hale and Collector W. B. Ross of Oak Park reported that a number of taxpayers, after paying their first installment, have returned later to pay the second installment, which they are not required to meet until July 1. Oak Park collections are 20 per cent ahead of last year, Mr. Ross estimated.

In Evanston Collector Henry D. Penfield believes that at the present rate, 25 per cent more taxpayers will meet their bills than did a year ago. With payments from large taxpayers not expected until the day before the penalty date, he has collected $450,000 as against a total of $1,300,000 when he turned his books back to the county treasurer last year. In Evanston 85 per cent of the small property owners who have paid have paid in full.

20 Per Cent Faster.

In Lyons township Collector Henry B. Kilgour is getting payments 20 per cent faster than he did last year, although he believes that the increase may be due to the imminence of the penalty date. Collectors William S. Rea of Rich township and Emil J. Wanek of Calumet township said their collections were coming in at approximately the same rate that they did a year ago.

Mrs. Mildred L. Faulkner, collector of Barrington township, was the only one to report decreased payments. At her office it was said that payments at present are nearly 30 per cent behind the rate last year.

CHICAGO'S REALTY TAX BILL FOR 1931 TOTALS $147,376,089

The total 1931 real estate tax bill for Chicago amounts to $147,376,089, it was disclosed yesterday when the work of extending the realty tax bills for all the city towns was completed by the county treasurer and the county clerk. The total is $36,328,286, or 10 per cent less than the 1930 real estate tax bill for the city. County Assessor J. L. Jacobs said yesterday that the 1932 tax bill should be reduced another 20 per cent by an adjustment of assessed valuations.

15 Police Petition Court to Order Their Promotion

Fifteen patrolmen who passed civil service examinations for police sergeant in 1931 yesterday filed individual petitions for writs of mandamus in Circuit court to compel the civil service commission to grant them promotions. Each petitioner alleged that there were 86 vacancies for police sergeant and asserted that the council has appropriated salaries for all the sergeants. The petitions charge that no promotions have been made since Jan. 21, 1931. Eleven such suits are now pending before the Appellate court on appeal from a mandamus order issued last July by Superior Judge Charles A. Williams.

30 Dismissed from Office of the School Architect

Business manager Howard P. Savage of the board of education yesterday ordered the dismissal of 30 employés in the office of School Architect John C. Christensen, reducing the personnel of that department to 25 employés. A year ago when Mr. Savage took office, 114 persons were employed in the department, he said. Mr. Savage's reasoning for the cut was that no new schools are being built, therefore there is no need for a heavy staff.

EIGHT ARRESTED AS MEMBERS OF KIDNAPING GANG

Two Seized as They Sleep in North Side Hideout.

Two men in Chicago and six in Springfield were under arrest last night as alleged members of a band of terrorists who during the last year are said to have kidnaped at least six men for ransom in northern Illinois and eastern Iowa. Their total abductions might run up to twenty or twenty-five, it was reported.

The capture of three or four other men, including the reputed leader, Joseph Morando, will complete the roundup, according to State Policemen Oliver W. Kempster and Hal Roberts of Springfield. They brought about the Chicago arrests.

Ted Patterson, 27 years old, an ex-convict, and Edward Moore, 25, are the suspects seized here. The six prisoners at Springfield are Michael Talarico of Moline, Angelo Vota of Rockford, Daniel Zook and Jule Veys of East Moline, Vince Burman of Spring Valley, and John Castagna of Cherokee, Kas.

Story of the Capture.

At 2 o'clock yesterday morning, State Policemen Kempster and Roberts called at the detective bureau with warrants for the arrest of Patterson, Moore, and Morando. They had information, they said—supposedly given by one of the Springfield prisoners—that the men could be found in a flat at 632 North Parkside avenue.

Two hours later the state detectives and two city police squads commanded by Sergts. William McCarthy and Walter Kelly surrounded the house at the Parkside avenue address. They appeared at a second floor flat occupied in the name of Harry Archanas. A woman who said she was Morando's wife, admitted the policemen when they showed the warrants.

In separate bedrooms the policemen found Patterson and Moore sleeping. In another room they found a shotgun. The prisoners were taken to the detective bureau. Mrs. Morando was not held, but was kept at the flat to answer telephone calls. A heavily armed police detail was left in the apartment, and other armed guards were placed outside. The guards were still on duty this morning. Their vigil brought only one prisoner, Anthony Colombo, 38 years old. He was locked up on suspicion but police said he did not appear to be a member of the gang.

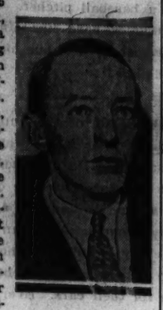

Has Prison Record, Police Say.

Patterson, the police declared, was sentenced to the Jefferson City prison in Missouri in 1925 for four to nine years for robbery. In 1931 he was sentenced to the southern Illinois prison for one year to life for bank robbery, but was released soon afterward. Moore, the police said, was arrested in Oak Park in 1931 for carrying a gun.

Among the ransom victims of the gang, police said, are Fred Di Filippi, Spring Valley merchant, who paid $5,000 for freedom; Adhemer Huughe, retired East Moline merchant, who turned over $11,000 in cash and $3,500 in jewelry, and Clem Maguire of Dubuque, Ia. His ransom payment is not known.

$50,000 ALIENATION TRIAL OPENS; REPORT DIARY IS DESTROYED

Trial of the $50,000 suit in which Thomas Grace, 2338 Granville avenue, charges Raymond Geimer, 1735 Gregory street, manager of a color printing company, with alienating the affections of Mrs. Catherine Grace, was started yesterday before Judge Francis B. Allegretti in the Superior court. Grace's case received a blow at the start of the hearing when Mrs. Bernice Gaskin, a daughter of the Graces, disclosed that she had destroyed a shorthand diary in which Grace alleged that his wife kept a record of her affair with Geimer. Mrs. Grace was employed as a stenographer by Geimer's concern.

VETERAN FLYER IS KILLED WHEN HIS CHUTE FOULS

Newcastle, Del., Feb. 28.—[Special.]—Stuart Chadwick, veteran flyer and test pilot for the Bellanca Aircraft corporation, was killed here today when his parachute fouled in the rigging of an experimental plane from which he jumped when the machine failed to come out of a spin.

Chadwick took the plane up several thousand feet and after completing several simple maneuvers he deliberately put the machine in a spin. This particular maneuver is a part of the qualification tests of every airplane.

In this case the machine was a secret long distance monoplane which the Bellanca company had built for the United States navy. If the machine had completed the test successfully, it was to have been turned over to the navy tomorrow.

At about 800 feet observers saw Chadwick climb out of the whirling, uncontrolled plane and then they saw the parachute foul.

MYSTERY DEATH IS A SUICIDE, POLICE BELIEVE

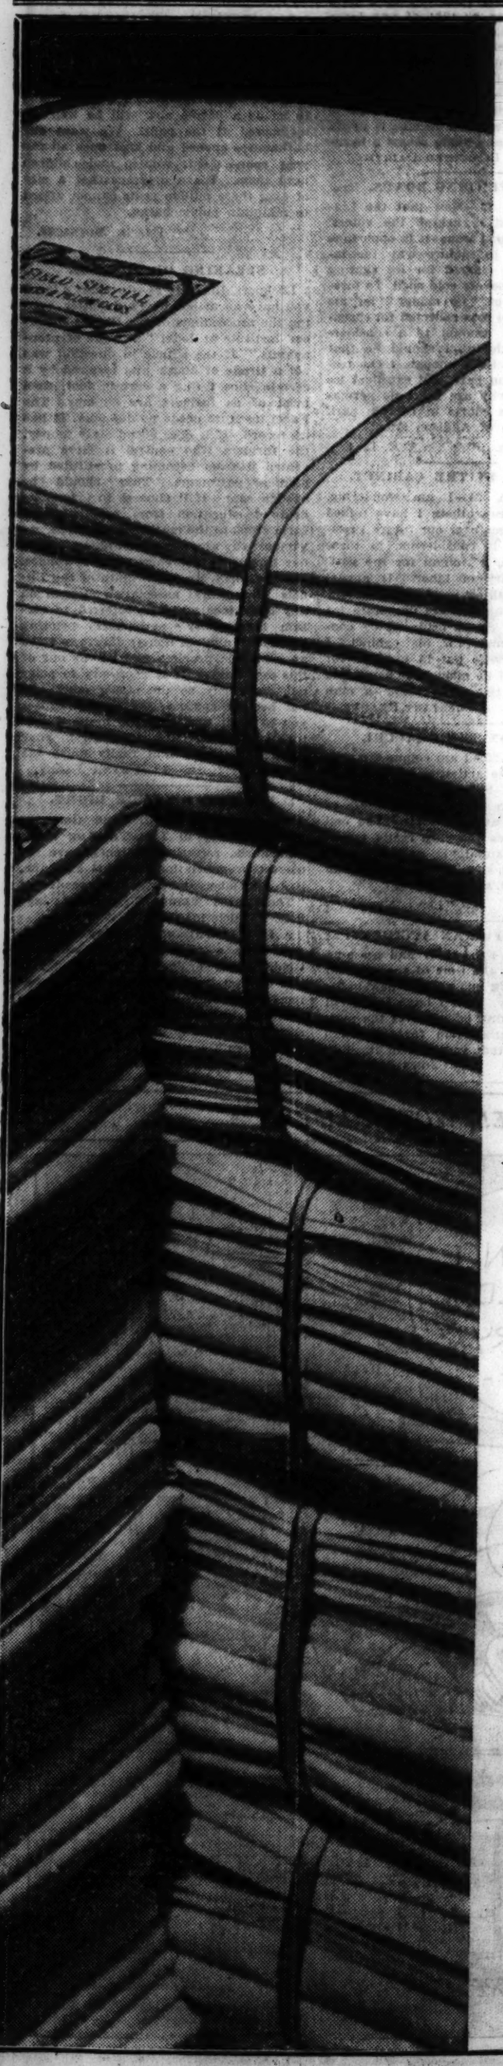

Capt. Michael Hughes of the Deering police station last night expressed the belief that August Hitterman, 65 years old, butter and egg peddler from Marengo, had committed suicide. Hitterman's body, a bullet through the head, was found early yesterday in an ash pile in the rear of the Richards branch of the Ross Junior High school, 2535 Lime street.

Paul Bonomo, 52 years old, proprietor of a saloon at 2547 South Halsted street, confessed he placed the body on the cinder pile Monday. He said Hitterman had been drinking in his place since Friday and that he had found the body when he entered the saloon early Monday.

A STAMP TAX ON SALES.

A sales tax bill has passed the Illinois senate and is now under consideration in committee in the house. The bill imposes a tax on retailers amounting to 3 per cent of their gross sales. The only retail merchants exempted are those who sell gasoline, which is already taxed, and farmers who peddle their own products.

As the senate bill is drawn it is a tax on the storekeeper. In fact, of course, the merchant is expected to pass the tax along to his customers, as indeed he must under present business conditions, when only the fewest merchants, large or small, are earning profits and the great majority of even the strongest and best managed houses are showing heavy losses. To expect the retailers under such circumstances to pay out of their own nonexistent profits a tax which is estimated to yield more than 60 million dollars a year for the next two years is to expect the impossible. The only way in which the retailers could pay the tax at all would be by reducing their costs, which, in effect, would mean a further and drastic reduction in the wages of clerks, delivery staffs, and other employés. Wage reductions might be expected to induce many to go on the dole rather than work for a living no better than is given by the relief agencies to the idle. As the tax is intended primarily for relief purposes, any such result would be self-defeating.

Regardless of the form in which the bill is cast, the sales tax is a tax upon the consuming public. This bill, like the similar ones pending and enacted in other states, is a recognition by the legislators of the fact that no other class is large enough or wealthy enough to carry the immense burden of emergency relief which the depression has created. That being so, it follows that the merchant is merely the instrument for collecting the money. As such, his opinion on how the tax can be collected most effectively should be consulted.

Merchants large and small appear to favor collecting the tax by the sale of stamps to the customer. The stamps are to be affixed to the purchases and then canceled by the seller. This method has a number of advantages. For one thing, it provides a means of paying the tax on purchases of less than 33 cents. There is no coin smaller than a cent, but stamps could be issued for lesser amounts. The stamp device also will serve to curb the inclination of some dealers to make a profit out of the tax. They will be discouraged from marking an article now selling at $10 up to $10.49 in order to sell it free of a tax of 30 cents. The stamp will also tend to prevent the sort of price disorganization which might be expected if merchants were at liberty to load the tax on certain articles while featuring other items at the former prices.

The stamp device has the further advantage, from the point of view of the state, of bringing in revenue from the sale of stamps to retailers before the articles on the sale of which the tax is to be paid are sold. The stamps also offer a means of checking, if not preventing, fraud and evasion.

The principal objection to the device is that it is difficult to fit it within the frame of a tax on occupations, the form in which the bill is now drawn. How serious that objection is must be determined by the legislature. If it is decided that the bill as it passed the senate cannot be amended to provide for payment through the issue of stamps, the house would be justified in drafting an entirely new bill to permit the use of this simple and effective device for collecting what, in reality, is a tax on consumption, whatever the legal fiction may be.

EUROPEAN DISCORD.

David Darrah, TRIBUNE correspondent who has been making a survey of conditions in the Balkan countries, says that every one, with the possible exception of Hungary, could meet its obligations to the United States if it were not for the dislocation of its economic and financial machinery through the abandonment of the gold standard. That, of course, will be charged to the insistence of our government upon payment, but America is not likely to accept that easy explanation. If it were sufficient it might be profitable for us in the long run to cancel, and the European propaganda against which President Hoover has lately protested is directed, with the help of certain Americans, to convincing us cancellation is all that is needed to set Europe and America on their feet.

But the paralysis of economic energy in central and eastern Europe did not begin with departure from the gold standard, a recent event. It began immediately after the end of the war, when an economic war began which is still on. Every new nation lost no time in erecting trade barriers against its neighbors, and the unification maintained by the old Austro-Hungarian empire was shattered into bits. It has recalled Bismarck's remark that if there were not an Austro-Hungarian empire it would be necessary to create one.

In short, any reductions we may be able to concede on the debts would have disappointing results for us unless they are a part of a program of international readjustment in Europe. Even if we assisted a return to the gold standard the major weaknesses of the situation would remain. Europe cannot revive its economic strength while it remains cut up into cells, built in defiance of economic necessity on behalf of the political ambitions of the greater powers. We are told that America must think in terms of international solidarity, of world peace and recovery, but Europe sets us no example. Until European governments and peoples show some evidence of thinking and acting for European coöperation American sacrifices to European recovery will be thrown away.

THE VOYAGE OF THE SEA KING.

To the literal minded the navigation of the Illinois waterway by the Sea King must have seemed an event of small importance, not worth the space it received in THE TRIBUNE of Tuesday. The Sea King is hardly more than a toy boat and its cargo consisted of a couple of dozen parcels of merchandise for delivery at towns along the route.

Nevertheless, the voyage of the Sea King was historically important. It marked the first commercial use of the Illinois waterway, a project upon which 102 million dollars has been spent in the last forty years since the first shovelful of earth was moved in digging the sanitary canal. The water route to the gulf from the lakes was the route of French discovery and of much early settlement and trade. One canal after another has been outgrown. Now, once more, the road is open for commerce on a continuous waterway extending from the Gulf of St. Lawrence on the northeast to New Orleans on the south and Duluth on the northwest, with Chicago occupying a strategic midway position.

The completion of the waterway at this time is fortunate. To take advantage of the opportunities it presents for commerce, terminals and warehouses must be built and factories and railroad sidings relocated. Barges and towboats will be needed. Filling the need for all of this capital equipment may go a long way toward giving employment to men now out of work.

After many delays, hesitations, and disappointments, the governments have at length completed the work of building the canal. It remains for business to take advantage of the opportunity now available for cheaper transport. It was for the purpose of presenting a living example of the possibilities of the new route that THE TRIBUNE sponsored the voyage of the little Sea King. Once again Chicago is in a position to lead the nation back to economic health.

THE NEW CABINET.

The personnel of the next cabinet will impress the country as representing an especially independent and personal process of selection. Mr. Roosevelt seems to have done his own picking. The influence of the headliners of party politics, such as Messrs. Young, Baker, etc., is not conspicuous, at least to the general observer. The cabinet is Mr. Roosevelt's for better or worse.

There is much to be said for such a course. The powers and responsibilities of the presidency are inescapably the President's. His cabinet are his deputies or assistants, their acts and decisions are his. They inform, they advise; they share the burden of administration with him, but final responsibility to the nation is his alone. The American cabinet is not like the British or any other cabinet which shares directly in the powers and responsibilities of the executive. Therefore the American cabinet officers should be personal selections of the President, in intimate harmony with him and his purposes. They should not be imposed upon him. We do not mean that Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet selections indicate that he refuses counsel, but it does indicate that he accepts responsibility and intends to be captain of the ship.

THE POLES DON'T LIKE IT.

The Polish government complains of matter broadcast by the British radio service. The protest will not lack sympathy in this country. British broadcasting is a government affair. The British government censors its output. It suppresses what it does not think the public should hear and this censorship goes so far as to refuse the air to critics of the government in office, as was conspicuously disclosed when so prominent a politician as Mr. Winston Churchill was not allowed to say what he thought about the present government's policy in East Indian affairs. Any one who follows the selection of American news for distribution by British news agencies will sympathize with the Polish protest on British broadcasting.

The British radio policy seems to be either a throwback to the days of press censorship or an adoption of the contemporaneous policy of soviet Russia.

Editorial of the Day

GOV. HORNER'S ECONOMIES.

[Rock Island Argus.]

Gov. Horner affirms his economy program has already resulted in an annual saving to the taxpayers of more than $3,000,000. This has been brought about by the elimination of useless jobs and by reductions in pay. Through eliminating jobs a monthly saving of $112,846.25 has resulted, and the pay cuts represent a monthly saving of $148,375.10. The total monthly saving is $261,221.35. The governor, furthermore, has cut his own salary 10 per cent.

All this is in sharp contrast with congress, which is getting ready to increase the salaries of its members by 10 per cent. The emergency economy act, which reduced salaries last year from $10,000 to $9,000, will expire by limitation on June 30, 1933. The outlook is that congress will "let the old cat die."

Gov. Horner points out that in the printing bureau alone a stock appraised at $158,000 had accumulated. Notwithstanding this fact, purchases of paper, he says, were still being made. The governor, by causing an inventory to be made of supplies on hand, has been able to save by using accumulated supplies. The governor has obtained some fine results in a very short space of time. The taxpayers who have been demanding retrenchment ought to be pleased with what has been accomplished. It may be he will stand in need of their support if he seeks reëlection, as in all probability his economical policies have made him some political enemies. There is plenty of evidence that Gov. Horner intends to keep his preelection pledges and pursue economical policies.

SIXTY PER CENT of the automobiles in Illinois are without their state license plates, says old Hal Foust, the w. k. auto editor of La Trib. All right, rub it in. We are one of the poor saps that hustled around in January and bought both city and state licenses. Well, anyhow, there's a sucker born every minute, but most of 'em when they grow up seem to be smart enough not to buy license plates for their cars. Every time we drive around now in our old bus we expect the fact that we have a city of Chicago sticker on the windshield and 1933 Illinois license plates fore and aft will just be a notice to the bunko men to grab us quick and sell us a gold brick or bet us ten bucks we can't pick out the little pea under one of the three shells. Of years too quickly ended,
Of life too freely spent,
What have I now to give
To keep you quite content;
You who never loiter
Along the dangerous days,
But tread a wealth of happy
Little ways?

So orderly you travel;
You go by way of noon,
While I follow freely
The naked, shameless moon;
Drugged by hazy memories
Of other nameless dawns,
Sung to sleep by saccharin,
Sable songs.

I would so fail to follow
Happily your way;
Too staggering I'd find
The dazzling sun of day;
And you should never suffer
Unlovely, unshed tears;
You must cling to useful,
Urbane years.

Do not despair that driftwood
Has need of no known shore,
Cares nothing for direction
Unknown, unloved before;
Go wisely on with listening
To daytime things you've heard;
Leave me the nights of silent,
Unsaid words.

FEEDING CHILDREN.

HERE are some reflections on certain feeding problems quoted from Dr. I. N. Kugelmass:

Growing children require much more food for each pound of weight than do adults. They work harder, waste more heat, and, more than either, their rapid rate of growth calls for food. If the food requirements of an adult were proportionate to those of a growing child, and if milk and sugar were his only foods, as they are with young babies, the adult would have to drink ten quarts of milk and eat two pounds of sugar daily. To sentence him to that would be worse punishment than sending him to jail.

It is especially proteins that the growing child needs. He requires four times as much of this group for each pound of his weight as does the adult.

Milk and sugar supply all the baby's needs for the first four months of his life. Since vitamin C does not store well, and the reservoir is quickly emptied, it is generally advisable to give some fruit or vegetable juice before the four months age is reached. And, since the stock of iron is apt to be exhausted early, some egg yolk or other source of iron is often given in the early months.

The protein that best suits the human animal is that from human source. Since we are not cannibalistic, human milk is the only source of human proteins made use of in the best society. Human milk is four times as rich in lactalbumin, when compared with cow's, and that is the best of the proteins for human use. The rank of the proteins, according to their sources is: Human milk, the milk of the lower animals, meat proteins from flesh and muscle, meats from animal organs, fish proteins, and vegetable proteins.

To satisfy the minds of those who question the superiority of one protein over another, the reason is given. What is called a protein is in reality a combination of somewhere about twenty amino acids. The arrangement of these in the group that we call human milk proteins is just that which best suits the baby's use. Some of the important amino acids are missing from the vegetable proteins and, in so far as they are the albumins, are of lessened value as general foods.

Gelatin is a good illustration of a protein which is very serviceable for some purposes, but not the purpose of growth and repair. To cure bleeding in a newborn baby nothing is superior to it. As a food for a person with a fever or with an acute infection gelatin is excellent. As a protective food against waste it is all right. But as a steady diet for a working man or a playing, growing child it is a delusion.

BATH ITCH.

Mrs. J. P. writes: After bathing my skin becomes so dried up that it is scaly and itches so that it drives me nearly frantic. I take a tub bath about every two days. Can you tell me of a way to rid myself of this condition? I don't like oils on my body.

REPLY.

You have bath itch. You are fortunate if you can choose between oils and itch. You may have to choose abstinence from all bathing. Cold cream is something of a substitute. Some can take steam baths if no soap is used. Others can use fat soaps, but must avoid those that contain a good deal of lye. Some must avoid soaps made with vegetable fats. Some must limit themselves to bran water. There is no way of eating your cake and having it.

EXTREMITIES SWELL.

E. writes: What causes swelling of feet and hands? Is there a corrective diet for it? Does drinking coffee contribute to it?

REPLY.

There are many causes to choose from. Among them are heart disease, Bright's disease, cirrhosis of the liver, beriberi, varicose veins, milk leg, wearing tight garments, local acidosis, hot weather. Beriberi is the only one on the list that has any particular relation to diet and that is not much in the picture. Nor is hot weather just now. Coffee is not a factor.

DAILY DOSE HARMFUL.

M. B. B. writes: Is the daily use of Epsom salts in small doses harmful?

REPLY.

DEPORTED ALIENS.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—[Friend of the People.]—A man entered this country illegally about seven years ago. While in this country he had a good job and was an upright man. Some months ago he was deported. Would he ever be allowed to come back again? If so, would he be forced to pay the United States the cost of his trip to Europe?

S. D.

In reply you are advised that an alien who has been arrested and deported may not reenter the United States unless after one year, following the date of deportation, the secretary of labor shall give his permission for the alien to reapply for admission to the United States. The laws make no provision for the repayment to the government of expenses incurred by it in connection with an alien's deportation.

K. I. ZIMMERMAN,
Asst. Dist. Dir. of Immigration.

STOCKS.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Please explain, in a simple manner, the terms common stock, preferred stock, and other stock, as applicable to investments in a company. My understanding of it was that common stock shared in all that the company made. Is this correct? Is it good stock to own? Please explain which is better to invest in, common or preferred?

T. H. B.

Preferred stock is issued under a charter or resolution containing express provisions that certain dividends shall be paid on the preferred stock before any is paid on the common or that the preferred stock shall have preference in the winding up of the company, or both. The common stock would share in what assets and dividends are left after giving effect to the specified preferences. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 1, 1917.

WASHINGTON.—The Associated Press is enabled to reveal that Germany, in planning unrestricted submarine warfare and counting its consequences, proposed an alliance with Mexico and Japan to make war on the United States if this country should not remain neutral. Japan, through Mexican mediation, was to be urged to abandon her allies and join in the attack on the United States. Mexico for her reward was to receive general financial support from Germany, reconquer Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona—lost provinces—and share in the victorious peace terms Germany contemplated. Details were left to German Minister von Eckhardt in Mexico City, who, by instructions signed by German Foreign Minister Zimmermann at Berlin Jan. 19, 1917, was directed to propose the alliance with Mexico to Gen. Carranza and suggest that Mexico seek to bring Japan into the plot. These instructions were transmitted to Von Eckhardt through Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador here, now on his way home to Germany under a safe conduct obtained from his enemies by this country. Germany pictured to Mexico, by broad intimation, England and the entente allies defeated, Germany and its allies triumphant and in world domination by the instrument of unrestricted warfare. A copy of Zimmermann's instructions to Von Eckhardt, sent through Von Bernstorff, is in possession of the United States government. It has been in the hands of the government since President Wilson broke off diplomatic relations with Germany. It has been kept secret while the President has been asking congress for full authority to deal with Germany and while congress has been hesitating.

WASHINGTON.—Following is the text of the instructions sent by German Foreign Minister Zimmermann at Berlin to Minister von Eckhardt in Mexico City, ordering the latter to propose to Carranza the projected alliance between Germany, Japan, and Mexico: "Berlin, Jan. 19, 1917.—On the 1st of February we intend to begin submarine warfare unrestricted. In spite of this it is our intention to endeavor to keep neutral the United States of America. If this attempt is not successful we propose an alliance on the following basis with Mexico: That we shall make war together and together make peace. We shall give general financial support, and it is understood that Mexico is to reconquer the lost territory in New Mexico, Texas, and Arizona. The details are left to you for settlement. You are instructed to inform the president of Mexico of the above in the greatest confidence as soon as it is certain there will be an outbreak of war with the United States and suggest that the president of Mexico, on his own initiative, should communicate with Japan suggesting adherence at once to this plan; at the same time offer to mediate between Germany and Japan. Please call to the attention of the president of Mexico that the employment of ruthless submarine warfare now promises to compel England to make peace in a few months. ZIMMERMANN."

WAR SUMMARY.—London reports that British troops have occupied the important village of Gommecourt and captured the villages of Thilloy and Pulsieux-au-Mont, advancing their lines more than half a mile to the northeast of Gommecourt. The German base of Bapaume is under fire and its fall seems imminent. London also reports that the British are continuing to advance rapidly on the Tigris front. The Turks have been driven more than thirty miles west and northwest of Kut-el-Amara. Berlin reports that on the northern Rumanian front the Teutonic forces captured several hill positions from the Russians, taking more than 1,300 prisoners. Only one ship fell victim to the submarines yesterday. It was the British steamer Tritonia of 2,720 tons.

WASHINGTON.—Prohibition won a double victory in congress when the house passed by a vote of 273 to 137 the senate bill to make the national capital dry, and senate and house conferees on the postal appropriation bill unexpectedly announced an agreement under which the Reed "bone dry" amendment virtually is assured of enactment.

WINDOWS IN DAIRY BARNS.

Elgin, Ill., Feb. 23.—THE TRIBUNE would be performing a considerable public service if it could induce the Chicago board of health to declare a moratorium on its campaign to double or treble the amount of window glass in dairy barns in the area from which this city draws its milk.

An inspector walks into a dairy barn, roughly surveys it with his eye, and tells the farmer to install four more windows, or a dozen, or twenty. He gives no reason, but issues an ultimatum that if the work is not done by a certain day milk from that barn can no longer come to Chicago. Inasmuch as the installation of these windows involves, in many cases, cutting through stone or concrete walls from 8 to 14 inches in thickness, it is no task for an idle quarter of an hour.

Dr. Bundesen asserts vigorously, at every opportunity, that Chicago's milk supply is as pure as that of any large city in the world. This pure milk has been coming from these barns that now need more windows for thirty, forty, and fifty years, in many cases. If it has been pure, how will more windows make it purer? To demand that farmers go to this expense when their income is at its lowest ebb in many years seems a hardship, and is. DISGUSTED DAIRYMAN.

THE REFUNDING BONDS.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Now that the Lincoln park board is asking the voters' approval of a bond issue it is opportune for the voters to inquire why the lagoons were not cleared for ice skating during the last severe cold spell. To forestall the wail of "no money" let me mention that the fees collected for checking shoes must amount to a considerable sum. If the alibi should be that the ice was not thick enough, I can testify that Jackson park had excellent ice skating. Also why are there no permanent clay tennis courts in Lincoln park anywhere south of Addison street?

I will vote No. E. L. A.

A WOMAN IN THE CABINET.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—I am wondering, like a good many others I have talked to, what has come over our future President when he is considering, in these depressed times, a woman for the position of secretary of labor. It apparently means nothing in his life to know that heads of families are desperate for want of work. So he leads off by considering a woman for his cabinet. I wonder if his wife put in her oar for this woman? If he must have a woman, why not have two labor heads—a man and a woman? A CONSTANT READER.

TOUGH ON THE GRACCHI.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—I am commenting on the fact that the activities of such men as Senators La Follette, Long, Thomas, and Wheeler are identical with those of the Gracchi of ancient Rome. You call them Reds, when they are really trying to save the capitalistic system. The Gracchi did not succeed and the Roman republic did not survive.

PAYMENT FOR AN ACCIDENT.

Batavia, Ill., Feb. 21.—I had an auto accident and at the time of the accident I had a TRIBUNE and another newspaper insurance policy. Now I have found out that THE TRIBUNE policy gives the most service and satisfaction for the small sum of money that you pay for it.

JOHN AUGUST.

TRY A WASHTUB.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—This is the sixth time I as a taxpayer and a voter have written to your paper concerning the way that we are being treated by the present administration. I have been in Chicago thirty-seven years, but in all my life I have not seen anything to beat the way that things are being put over on us as a people. I live in a section of the city where convenience is at a premium. I have been a steady patron of a public bath on Marshfield avenue. We people depend upon such places for our sanitary means. Saturday I went to the place as usual and found it closed. I was informed by the young men that I found waiting that this would be permanent. Later I found that several places of like character have been closed. Now, what in the world would the city gain by depriving us poor wretches of a bath at least once per week? We have no tubs in most of our homes and those public bathhouses are essential to us. Some of those efficiency experts hired by our money should be made to suffer what they have caused us to suffer. We pay taxes—exorbitant ones, too—and vote—remember that. Now, such things done to us as a people now will be well remembered at the polls. We want our bathhouses opened and kept open all the year round. Our women and children need them. It's a disgrace that a city of over three million souls cannot afford to maintain public baths.

FRANK MOJESCHI.

SPEAKING OF TIRADES.

Lockport, Ill., Feb. 24.—In today's issue you have an article by Paul Potter calling the proceedings of the Illinois Farmers' institute at Joliet "a tirade of propaganda." If the article in question was not a tirade of abuse and inspired by a certain shoe fitting a certain foot, then most of us farmers are chumps. The Farm institute needs no defender. It has its record. If it does spend state money, the farmers who control it have prevented it from becoming prostituted by political patronage. That should be enough said. If it chooses to extend its field of education from production of farm crops to the marketing of crops, we wonder why any one should object. With our tongue in our cheek we do wonder. We are sorry Mr. Earl Smith of the Illinois Agricultural association stepped on any one's toes when he referred to certain large city newspapers printing "tirades" against honest efforts to solve an economic problem and lift us out of this depression. It is necessary to point out insincerity so the public mind will not become confused., I do not expect you to print this. You do make a gesture of printing letters opposed to your policies, but none that really touch the spot.

FRANK LALLY.

1. RAHO. 2. YOU'RE RIGHT.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—1. Some time recently a story in THE TRIBUNE about Manchuria, referring to Jehol, gave the correct pronunciation of Jehol as Raho, if I remember rightly. Your reader of "Tomorrow's TRIBUNE" calls it Jayhole. Which is correct?

2. In THE TRIBUNE Tuesday, Feb. 28, you show a picture of the "California Golden Gate bridge project, stating it will connect with Oakland. Is that correct? It was my understanding that the Oakland bridge is entirely separate, a second bridge, and in no way related to the Golden Gate bridge.

SCHOOL BOARDS OFTEN CROOKED, McANDREW SAYS

Tells Teachers to Fight Politicians.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 28.—[Special.]—William McAndrew, former superintendent of Chicago schools, who was dismissed from his post after a controversy with a former mayor, today attacked political domination of education in a speech made here.

Addressing a session of the department of superintendence, National Education association, Mr. McAndrew declared:

"This convention should show crooked school boards that the respectable sentiment of the educational profession amounts to something."

Mr. McAndrew then referred to the fact that a state senator of Minnesota had proposed that the state teachers' colleges be converted into institutions for state wards, to diminish the output of teachers. For the welfare of the state, he suggested, "it would be better to put the legislators themselves into the insane asylums."

Attacks Crooked Board Action.

"Crooked political action by school boards waxes and wanes," Mr. McAndrew continued. "I have served under fifteen school board presidents. Nine held their boards to righteousness and six allowed their followers to indulge in crooked practices.

"Political interference with the improvement of the teaching force is a sign of clumsy superintendence. The duty of school trustees to provide the community with full return for its money in the way of education is so weakly appreciated by most boards I have known that one wonders why we call them boards of education. They wouldn't know education if they met her coming down the road."

Referring to a former mayor of Chicago, who waged war on "old King George," the former superintendent said he was once asked whether he was against George III. or George V. getting into the schools.

"What?" the ex-mayor was quoted as saying. "Are there two of them?"

Urges Teachers to Fight.

The convention received a committee report calling on teachers and superintendents to assume a militant attitude against efforts to take support from public schools.

This report declared that short-sighted and selfish interests were using the depression as a cloak behind which to battle against free schools. It called for the organization of regional associations to coordinate educational facilities and urged that business men's associations cease calling for economy indiscriminately applied.

DR. DE LEE WINS CUSTOMS REBATE IN COURT BATTLE

Dr. Joseph B. De Lee, founder of the Chicago Lying-In hospital, yesterday confirmed reports that he recently won a court battle over a customs rebate.

He explained that in the spring of 1931 he commissioned Sir William Orpen, well known Irish artist, to paint a portrait of his late mother from photographs he supplied, that Sir William painted it during an illness which resulted in his death in September, 1931, and that the painting, in common with others he did at the period, showed the effects of his illness.

Dr. De Lee sent the portrait back to London, settled with the artist for half the $3,000 the portrait was to have cost, and applied for a rebate on the customs fee he had paid, under the provision that the merchandise did not conform to specifications. After a recent hearing at which Dr. De Lee testified, the United States Custom court, first division, at Washington, ordered a judgment entered in favor of Dr. De Lee. "I think the rebate was about $600," Dr. De Lee said yesterday.

PANAMA ORDERS REMOVAL OF U. S. FLAG AT SCHOOL

Police Tell Principal to Lower It.

BY GERALD MARTIN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

COLON, Panama, Feb. 28.—Augusto A. Cervera, stationed here as Panama's governor, today ordered the Canal Zone's Cristobal High school, which is located on a Colon beach in Panamanian territory, to take down the American flag from the staff in its front grounds.

The order was delivered to Principal Milford Franks by a police lieutenant. Franks complied immediately while a small group of Panamanian officials saluted the lowered banner.

Principal Phones Authorities.

Franks then telephoned to authorities at Balboa Heights, who had not made any statements this afternoon. Colon is located on land belonging mainly to the United States owned Panama railroad. The city's beaches, as well as the best suburban ground, are occupied by Canal Zone buildings which are under Panama's jurisdiction, according to treaty.

Yesterday the stars and stripes were raised at the school by John Holler, the American consul, in the presence of a great crowd. The flag was presented by Mrs. Richard G. Taylor, regent of the Panama Canal chapter of the D. A. R. The Elk's flag day service was used.

Panamanians Raise Flag.

One mile away Panamanians raised their flag on Colon's border near the Canal Zone town of Cristolbal with considerable enthusiasm.

This ceremony and the removal of the American flag was brought about by a young Panamanian patriotic organization, Accion Comunal, which revolted, ousting the former Panamanian administration in the recent revolution.

Colon officials said they objected to the fact that the American flag was raised on land instead of on the building and said that the Panamanian flag should have been raised at the same time.

Three Men Quarrel Over Drink; One Is Wounded

Claude Carver, 38 years old, 6223 South Kildare avenue, was shot and seriously wounded late yesterday afternoon in a quarrel with Joseph Piano, 21 years old. The trouble occurred in Piano's basement flat at 5729 West 63d street. He told the police that Carver and Edward Church, both intoxicated, tried to beat him after they had been refused a drink. Piano then seized a shotgun and shot Carver in the chest.

Federal Judge George E. Q. Johnson signed a decree yesterday ordering the village of Elmwood Park to redeem approximately $43,000 in bonds held by three insurance companies, which had brought suit against the municipality. At the same time a similar suit was filed by one of the companies against Cicero. In the bill of complaint the insurance companies charged officials of the village with wrongly diverting funds collected to retire bonds to other accounts.

BY MARY MEADE.

Once again everybody's desire for recipes has caught up with us. . . and lest we quite inundate Saturday's column, let's have a few of them here and now.

First, for a trick with potatoes, which comes in for a question or two almost every week. This last one comes from Mrs. H. B., asking directions for making those crunchy potato affairs known variously as "potato soufflés," "potato puffs," and "potato balloons." They're much like Saratoga chips, only puffed instead of flat.

POTATO BALLOONS

Slice peeled potatoes very thin and soak the slices in water and ice until thoroughly chilled. Place in a wire basket and plunge into deep fat [500 degrees F.] for fifteen seconds. Remove and cool. Return to the fat, which has cooled to 375 degrees F. Fry until golden brown and puffed. Drain on rough paper and sprinkle with salt while still hot. The why of this trick is the fact that the first short frying seals the slices, holding in the moisture. After they have cooled the second frying creates steam inside which expands the potato, giving it that puff.

Our next recipe request comes from Miss J. N. K. in Nebraska. It's for a quick bread coffee ring, made like the Swedish ring, only leavened with baking powder instead of yeast.

COFFEE RING.

3 cups sifted flour
5 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
5 level teaspoons baking powder
4 tablespoons solid fat
1 egg, beaten
¾ cup milk
2-3 cup chopped seedless raisins
2-3 cup chopped nuts
1 tablespoon brown sugar
Melted butter

Sift the flour once, then sift together with the salt, sugar, and baking powder. Cut in the fat with two knives, cutting until well blended and mealy. Add the egg and stir in as much of the milk as is required to give a dough which is just soft enough to be rolled. Roll out on a floured board to one-fourth inch thickness, forming the dough into a rectangular shaped piece. Spread over with melted butter and top with the chopped raisins, nuts, and the brown sugar. Roll up, jelly-roll fashion, beginning at the long side. Form into a ring, pressing the ends lightly together. Now slip the ring on to a greased baking sheet and, with floured scissors, cut gashes every two inches around the outside of the ring, snipping about three-fourths of the way to the center.

Next, with fingers, take each section and twist it carefully over to the right, letting each one rest on another. Bake in a moderate oven [350 degrees F.] for about half an hour. When cool, spread the top with uncooked confectioner's frosting.

Or, have you yet cooked your ham steak in orange sauce? This recipe is for Mrs. H. G. and every one else who likes good food.

HAM STEAK IN ORANGE SAUCE.

1 slice ham, cut 1 inch thick
1 1-3 cups orange juice
2 oranges
Flour
Parsley

Sear the ham on both sides in a baking pan over direct heat, then add the orange juice and bake in a moderate oven [350 degrees F.] until tender. Lift out the ham slice and deposit on a hot platter. Now sift in enough flour to thicken the orange juice [add more juice if necessary], and pour the sauce around the steak. Garnish with the two oranges, sectioned, and with the parsley.

MINUTE MYSTERY CAN YOU SOLVE IT?

BY H. A. RIDLEY

OFFICER KINSELLA'S DEDUCTIONS.

Three policemen, O'Roark, Miller, and Kinsella walked along the level, grassy bank of the stream swollen by recent rains, carefully examining every inch of the ground. Suddenly O'Roark emitted a victorious ejaculation! The drooping leaves on a bush, eight feet from shore, partially hid a revolver and battered felt hat with the initials H. S.

Three hundred yards south, i. e., downstream, the body of a man had been caught in the reeds and had been identified as Herman Schwartz.

The police surgeon said he had been in the water about 12 hours but drowning was not the cause of death. There was an instantly fatal head wound which led O'Roark to the conclusion that the man had shot himself, fallen in the water, and the swift current at that spot had carried him downstream.

After discovering that the torn edges of a blood spattered piece of wrapping paper, laying beside the hat, fitted a note found in the dead man's pocket, Miller agreed with him. The absence of a pencil was puzzling until O'Roark pointed out that it might easily have fallen from Schwartz's pocket and floated downstream. Miller agreed.

"Well, you two fight out your conclusions," exclaimed Officer Kinsella who had spoken for the first time. "I'm going to get Prof. Fordney. I'm sure you'll see that he will agree with MY conclusions. Schwartz was murdered!"

WHY DID HE BELIEVE THIS TO BE THE CASE?

House Frocks Acquire Dash and Fashion

Bright Colors, Stylish Cuts Win Approval.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

With every one going domestic, with armies of knitters, crowds of crocheters and busy patch quilt makers grabbing all the fireside seats and the best lamps, one is rather overwhelmed with the present collections of new house dresses that look everything but what they were designed for . . . they are certainly anything but the strictly utilitarian affairs their name implies. Some brilliant person is hiding too modestly, some designer who must have rebelled against the old fashioned drab, limp things that used to come out of the kitchen, for these new frocks are as ingenious a bit of color designing as any French dress.

The colorful frocks that you can wrap around your slim silhouette while you battle with breakfast menus, a dusting trip around the apartment, or a day full of domestic duties, will make you dash about with a flourish.

They are as trim and different and as distinctive as an active sports frock and the price tags will leave you gasping. You can find frocks with tricky sashes, with tri-colored yoke combinations, you can find riotously wild and large dots, as well as neat little dots splattered cheerfully against nice clean, crisp, white and colored backgrounds.

If you like stripes you can cook in an outfit that is striped like a zebra, or diagonally like a barber shop pole, geometrically, or intricately like a Vionnet original.

Sheer, thin frocks of dotted swiss are sufficiently decorative to preside over a porch bridge table, and smart enough for a trip to town. Some have clever scalloped collars, some have fagoted collars, and still others have sheer net contrasts edged with lace. Not so sheer printed cottons, for visibility, but delightfully airy and cool for an overheated kitchen are the best looking frocks any one has seen for years . . . lovely printed designs in pastel colors, floral patterns, with cool green leaves or spotless white models made with smart, straight necklines are the best buys.

Until you have seen the sprightly new black and white prints, the gray and black combinations, edged with snappy white braid, you will not appreciate the possibilities of this combine. Because all shoppers have welcomed gray as a good color the house dress designers have also used it lavishly with splendid results.

For that dull, bedraggled mood of a dismal morning, why not try the blazing yellow dresses, slim, fetching young numbers that will make you sing like a canary in a cage.

And for similar small sums, that will allow you to dress cheerfully in a different colored cotton dress every morning in the week, you can buy kitchen slacks or pajamas of seersucker . . . trim blue, red, and brown or black and white seersuckers made with all the casual swank of a very fashionable beach pajama.

These then are the new flattering clothes for a gal in a mood for domesticity . . . if better biscuits, more cheerful breakfasts and an unbelieving though appreciative, stare from your best male critic across the table isn't a grand and satisfactory result, it isn't the fault of the new "kitchen cottons."

Hollywood Special Visits Chicago on Way to Inaugural Rites

A silver and gold special train pulled out of the Union station late last night bearing Hollywood screen celebrities, inaugural bound, who spent all day yesterday discovering that Chicago is a pretty good place after all.

While the train, called the "42d Street Special," is headed for Washington, it is also making a goodwill tour.

The film stars staged a parade through the loop to the La Salle street offices of R. Cooper Jr., Inc. Here all the stars spoke over the radio. Then they were taken to the Hotel Sherman for lunch.

The visitors were guests of A Century of Progress in the afternoon.

The train, sponsored by Warner Bros., was outfitted by General Electric.

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

The versatile players from the Abbey theater of Dublin offered the most famous item in the contemporary section of their repertory at the Harris theater last night—Sean O'Casey's tragi-comedy, "Juno and the Paycock." This work, which brought a new and gleaming talent into the galaxy of Irish playwrights, is familiar to Chicago audiences through its performances by the extinct Goodman repertory company and also through the visit, a few years back, of Arthur Sinclair's troupe of free lance Abbey alumni.

To refresh playgoing memories, however, it may be stated that "Juno and the Paycock" presents a picture of a Dublin tenement family when the Free State was passing through its birth pangs, and the republican irregulars, called diehards, were waging a guerilla warfare against the government. It was a period of bush-whacking tactics; for the most part, an informal little civil war during which Ireland lived up to her ancient reputation of being the most unhappy country that ever there was seen.

Against this background O'Casey wrote a broad comedy, which occasionally lapses into hints of burlesque and vaudeville, about a fantastic loafer called "the Paycock," his shrewish wife, nicknamed Juno; their offspring, and their neighbors. On its surface the play consists of episodes of uproarious humor, with the blathering Paycock and his ragged boozing mate, Joxer, "colloguing" together in the wildest veins of Irish nonsense. But the shadow of fratricidal strife hangs over the story always; the Paycock's son, crippled by wounds in the Easter rebellion, is to be the next victim of the struggle, and he lurks and shudders in a corner of the shabby domicile until the diehard executioners come to drag him off to the fate of an informer.

There is much hilarity in the antics of the Paycock, Joxer, and the Widow Maddigan. There is stark tragedy in the doom of Johnny Boyle and the unseen Tancred lad whose funeral interrupts the bizarre photograph party of the second act. "Juno and the Paycock" is a play with grief at the heart of its bitter, ironic laughter.

Barry Fitzgerald, successor to Arthur Sinclair in the leading comic rôles of the repertory, plays the Paycock in a manner that is distinctly his own. His characterization is elaborate and grotesque, suggesting a figure out of the wonderland of Dickens' imagination. His touch is harder than Sinclair's; his makeup more extreme. His brogue is a technician's, and is often too thick for my full comprehension. He is exceedingly droll, and his portrayal of the Paycock, although perhaps too lavish in its strokes of caricature, is a remarkable example of character acting.

Eileen Crowe disguises her youth and becomes an excellent tenement housewife in the rôle of Juno; F. J. McCormick is an admirable mate to the Paycock as Joxer; Arthur Shields rings true as the mutilated, haunted son, and Kate Curling as the daughter is the neatest and prettiest colleen in the Abbey's long history.

Ethel Barrymore announces that she will begin a Chicago engagement May 29, at an unnamed theater, in the play she acted last fall under the title "Encore." It will be renamed "An Amazing Career."

Woman's Club Garden School to Open Today

Illinois Federation Offers Series of Lectures.

BY PAUL POTTER.

Twenty authorities on home gardening and landscaping will be heard by the garden lovers who attend the three day school of horticultural instruction which opens at the Hotel Sherman this morning. The school, which is open to the public without charge, is sponsored by the garden department of the Illinois Federation of Woman's Clubs.

Under the direction of Mrs. Wallace B. Combs of Tinley Park, state garden chairman, the school will include an extensive lecture program and exhibits of house plants, Indian arts and crafts, horticultural hobbies and other features of interest to home gardeners.

The school will open with a luncheon in the Bal Tabarin, where August Koch, chief florist of the west parks, will lecture. Others will describe the horticultural exhibits planned for A Century of Progress.

This afternoon four lectures are planned under the direction of F. K. Balthis, florist at Garfield Park conservatory. Italian and French gardens will be discussed, as will the planning of a small home yard, and types of iris and peonies for midwest gardens.

An illustrated lecture on types of gardens in vogue in other cities, compared with those in Chicago, will be given by J. H. Burdette tonight. Lectures tomorrow and Friday will cover formal and informal garden planning, wild flowers, plant care, lawn making, and the growing of special types of flowers.

Society Curbs Parties as Lent Begins Today; Lectures Planned

Francis Henry Taylor Will Address Antiquarian Society at Meeting This Morning.

BY JUDITH CASS.

TODAY is the beginning of Lent, that forty day period when society circumscribes its sophisticated and conventional activities in deference to ancient custom and when society editors dig deep for news to chronicle. Lectures occupy more time than is usual and almost every socialite plans to include in her Lenten schedule several courses of talks, not always of a religious nature, but instructive along some line.

Large parties are seldom given during Lent, even by those who do not observe this period of special penitence and self-denial themselves except on St. Patrick's day, for which the Lenten ban is lifted in the Catholic church, even though it falls on Friday, as it does this year. Being somewhat of a veteran society editor, I remember that there used to be a day, mi-careme, the fourth Thursday in Lent, when the ban was lifted and often a charity party was planned for that night, but the office of the New World yesterday told me that it had been abolished officially and in its stead the fourth Sunday, Laetare Sunday, is a feast and not a fast day.

The lectures will start this morning with one that Francis Henry Taylor, director of the Worcester Art museum, will give before members of the Antiquarian society of the Art institute and their friends in the Goodman Studio theater, starting at 11.

Mrs. Potter Palmer will introduce Mr. Taylor, who lectured at the Art institute yesterday and who is the guest of Robert B. Harshe, director of our own Art institute, and Mrs. Harshe at their residence, 3920 Lake Shore drive, during his brief stay here. His subject this morning will be "The Decorative Unity of Art in the Middle Ages."

Maurice Sachs Lectures Today.

The attractive young Frenchman, Maurice Sachs, who gave such a delightful lecture at the Arts club last Thursday morning, is to give another there this morning at 11:30 o'clock. His subject today will be "The Decade of Illusion: II.—Reminiscences of Proust, Gide, Cocteau, and Others." Last week he discussed the same decade with reminiscences of painters of that period.

M. Sachs, who is a great-grandson of Bizet, composer of "Carmen," and the young painter from California, Henry Wibbels, who is here with him at the Ambasador East, are being entertained in an informal way during their brief visit to Chicago, some of their hostesses having been Mrs. C. Barney Goodspeed, Miss Alice Roullier, Mrs. Harold Pynchon, and Mrs. Byron S. Harvey.

M. Sachs and Mr. Wibbels leave on Saturday for New York, making several stops for the former to lecture on the way, and before he returns to Paris the young Frenchman hopes to return to Chicago to see A Century of Progress.

Because of the illness of the bride's mother, the marriage yesterday afternoon of Miss Eleanor Dennehy to Ralph N. Isham was celebrated quietly at the Dennehy home, 1439 State parkway. Only members of the two families witnessed the marriage, which was performed by the Rev. Joseph Morrison of Holy Name cathedral. There were no attendants.

Gathered in the drawing room for the ceremony were the bride's father, Thomas C. Dennehy; her sister, Princess Josephine Galitzine; Mrs. Charles S. Clarke, and Mrs. Hempstead Washburn and their husbands, and her brothers, Charles, John and Thomas C. Dennehy Jr., Mrs. Lucius Hill of Boston, sister of the bridegroom, and his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Isham, also attended.

FOLLY ISLAND

By Wallace Irwin

SYNOPSIS.

Bart Burgess is marooned in a catboat on Peconic bay, fifty miles from his Long Island home in Wyattville. His companion, Ingalls Frederick Warren, spoiled child of a new-made fortune, known as "Nosey Ingy," rows to town and sends Bart help and taxies home. A girl in a canoe invites Bart over to her family's island. Bart learns that she is one of the Bayleys, who have lived in seclusion on the island fifteen years. The father travels. He invites the girl, Alice, to visit him in Wyattville. Less than a week later Trevor Burgess, Bart's father, dies suddenly from a heart attack. He confesses in a letter left for Bart to being a bigamist. The Bayleys of Folly Island are his second family. They know him as Matthew Bayley. He asks Bart, for his invalid mother's sake, to guard the secret, and leaves a fortune to provide for the Bayleys. Bart calls on Mrs. Bayley, posing as a lawyer, and finds her a lovely woman, not the harridan he expected. Bart is happy to learn from her mother that Alice isn't Matthew Bayley's daughter. But to keep her from visiting his home and seeing his father's pictures is now a problem. When Bart realizes he loves Alice he resolves to stay away from Folly Island. He sees a lot of Lora Sackett, a distant relative and recent divorcée, and soon finds himself unexpectedly engaged. The Bayleys visit New York and Bart sees them. Ingy Warren has been visiting the island and has invited Alice to Wyattville. Bart tells Alice of his engagement. Alice and her mother are guests of the Warrens for the annual Wyattville flower show. Alice wins first prize. Mrs. Burgess has the Bayleys in for tea. Alice sees a photograph of Trevor Burgess.

INSTALLMENT XXXIX.

DISMAL THOUGHTS.

"Bart, I'm going to throw a fit, too," Lora said, "if you don't take me home."

They were uncannily silent, these two, he driving Lora's roadster through the finely planted estate and out into the state road. He felt her hostility vaguely through the lawless clamor of his mind. Fool, fool, he was thinking. I might have thought of some way to keep Alice out of our house. She wouldn't look at me. She wouldn't listen. Ah, her eyes were perfectly blind. She didn't seem to see anything—anything but that horrible thing. I mustn't let her go on thinking—maybe telling it to her mother. . . .

"She's frightfully lovely," Lora was saying in his ear. "And she ought to go on the stage. She sure knows the value of a good exit."

Lora's words were frivilous, as usual, but their cadence was slow and melancholy. He made no attempt to reply, just kept his eyes on the road. For an instant she laid her fingers across his sleeve; the caress touched him strangely, and he found himself wanting to blubber like a schoolboy. Then suddenly she withdrew her hand and asked:

"Stupid, why don't you say something important?"

"That's the very thing I never seem to say." He turned and smiled wanly; in that second, his eyes off the road, he caught her serious gaze,

"If you and she are ga-ga about each other, why don't you run away? It's not too late."

studying him. It took an effort now to go on acting a part, but he felt that he had to deal with Lora now, as with the rest of them.

"Too bad they didn't see mother's garden," he said.

"O, yeah?" dryly.

Like a man with a fever, seeing things hotly, crookedly, his disjointed thoughts were conscious of Lora's own misery. He wanted to console her, but his lips were tightened against the little, caressing words he might have said. How mawkish they would have sounded. But he made an attempt to talk, always away from the subject that was tormenting both their minds. He remembered the steamship folders they had been studying that afternoon.

"That was a swell stateroom on the Bremen," he babbled. "Lora, you looked at the pictures, didn't you? Let's take in Germany first, do practically everything by air. . . . Jump in a plane at Templehofer field, fly over to Vienna, stay places till the beer goes flat, then fly again. End up in Paris, show Ciro's how noisy Americans can get when they try. . . ."

All this just raving, to keep her mind off Alice.

"I don't want to go to Europe," Lora said petulantly.

"Don't let's then."

"O, then you don't want to go. Why did you say you did?"

"It was your idea."

"Haven't you any ideas of your own, except——"

"Except what?"

"You know well enough."

"I don't." Perhaps not, but he guessed before she asked:

"If you and she are so ga-ga about each other, why don't you run away? It's not too late."

She had hinted before, but this was the first time she had accused him outright of loving Alice Bayley.

"I don't know what you're talking about."

"Yes, you do."

"Lora, what's come over you all of a sudden?"

"The other man I married made my life a hell, running round with other girls. I won't stand that again."

For one tempting moment he thought, Now is the time to break it off. Then he remembered his mother and her's, the preparation they had made, the blow it would be to both of them. And the girl beside him had such a troubled look.

"If you think it's Alice Bayley, my dear," he said, "you're all wrong."

"I'm all wrong anyway." A bitter little wail.

Yes, she's trying to break it off, he decided, and said:

"Lora, dear, if you don't love me enough——"

"I love you so much that I'd do anything for you." Her voice was very soft now, and she laid her gloved hand, like a kitten's paw, over his arm. "Maybe I know you better than you know yourself. I'm an experienced woman, Bart."

The kitten's paw was on his sleeve, holding him to his bargain. It's all right with me, he thought. Only he wished that she wouldn't talk so much about herself. He wanted to get away, to do something about that horror he had allowed Alice to see.

He saw that Lora was crying. He stopped the car, tried to kiss her, but she drew away. "I won't blow up any more, precious," she promised, drying her eyes. "Now get me home, will you? I've got to go to town tonight."

"You're tired," he decided. "After we're married I want you to have a good, long rest."

She made a face, puckering up her funny nose and red mouth. "Resting's the very thing I'll never do any of. After I'm dead I'll keep on dancing, I hope."

When they stopped in front of Mrs. Lind's gate he was suddenly aware that Lora had been looking at him for a long time. There was no resentment in the large, soft eyes which he caught poring over him. Then quickly she glanced away.

"Still sore at me?" he asked.

"No." Her voice was frail and thin. "I love you an awful lot, Bart Burgess."

Strange admission for her, who seldom spoke of love, except flippantly. But her laugh was almost mischievous as she hopped down and held up her hand. "Don't get out," she said. "If you come in you'll worry me. I've got to slam a lot of things in my bag."

"When are you starting?"

"Pretty soon. Elsie Pritchard's going back, and I'll be a charity child in her apartment. Any more questions?"

"Only six. When'll you be back?"

"Tomorrow, I guess."

"Dressmaking?"

"Uh-huh. And mother's not going with me, if that's the next question. She gives me the jitters lately. And I want to do my dressmaking all by myself. And that's all the answers I'm going to give you, pie."

"I'll come in town and bring you out."

"You're too good. Now you scoot home and please don't stop liking me a little." And she ran into the house.

Queer people, these women. Queer, queer people, he kept thinking, as his car went up the grade, hastening him back home to find a telephone. For he must talk to Alice before any more damage was done; and he must tell her the complete story of Trevor Burgess, or as much of it as he knew.

Ravel 'Waltz' Shows Skill of Symphony

"Don Juan" Another Event of Program.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Most of what Mr. Stock presented to his Tuesday symphony audience yesterday afternoon had been previously heard this season on one or another of the Thursday-Friday programs, and practically all classified in the well tested, standard repertoire of the Chicago Symphony orchestra.

This is not said in its dispraise, but quite the reverse. In fact, the concert turned out to be one of the liveliest and most entertaining of the season, and this though there was no soloist. To hear what magic Mr. Stock and his expert specialists of the orchestra make out of Richard Strauss' "Don Juan" is always an event, and if for years back it has been an annual event so much the better. The work and its performances hold their years becomingly.

The symphony was Ralph Vaughan Williams' "London," a composition of great merit and also with considerable appearance of lasting youth. There were other and briefer pieces to give their dash of contrast, Sinigaglia's "Le Baruffe Chiozzotte" overture, John Powell's "Natchez-on-the-Hill," a fine example of how to arrange American fiddle dances delightfully, and finally Ravel's "The Waltz." This last is one of Mr. Stock's favorite works for illustrating what an eminent group of virtuosos he has under his baton, and again they proved the point without argument.

Vera Mirova appeared at Kimball hall last night in a dance recital for the benefit of the Pinel sanitarium for mental diseases. An artist of skill, finish, and personality, Miss Mirova has made something of a specialty of dances of the orient, studying them at first hand in their native lands and with native instructors. She presented several of these with first rate effect last night. One group included a dance from Bali which was considerably more than an imitation of the Balinese dances shown on Burton Holmes' screen last week, another represented the sinuous windings of a pair of cobras, a third was of Burma.

Another item in her program was a Tatar bridal dance, and still another a gypsy dance. These were combined with dances more in the western idiom, and all were presented deftly and winsomely. Miss Mirova has a distinctive talent for her art.

BREAKS UP A COLD IN A JIFFY

Feel Like a New Person Almost Before You Know It

If you want quick relief from a cold, go back to first principles and use something you know does the business — don't start "trying" a lot of fancy ideas or remedies.

Get Hill's Cascara Quinine. A scientific formula made to do ONE THING WELL: to knock a cold in a jiffy, not to cure a hundred different things.

Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all. Soon those mean, aching pains in head and body begin to go; the cold breaks up; poisons leave your system and you feel like a new person.

If it doesn't do that, your money back. Get a box now. You'll be surprised at the speed with which it works. Costs only a few cents.

Looks 10 Years Younger Brushes Away Gray Hair

Now you can really look years younger. With an ordinary small brush you just tint those streaks or patches of gray back to your natural shade—whether blonde, brown or black. It is so easy to do—at home—with Brownatone. Over 20 years success. Guaranteed harmless. Active coloring agent is purely vegetable. Defies detection. No telltale, "dyed" look. Cannot affect waving of hair.

No need to guess. First cut a lock of hair from your head and apply a little of this famous tint. If Brownatone does not give your gray, streaked, dull, or faded hair its natural color, youth and luster, your money back. Only 50c.

Wallace Beery Uses a Plane for Rest Cure

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 28.—Wallace Beery practices the height of insomnia cures. When Wally gets tired of the peremptory phone calls, insistent door bells, and the buzz and chatter of Hollywood he hies to a nearby airport, rents a plane, hires a pilot, and has the latter take him up to cruise aimlessly about in the blue for three, four, or five hours, while Wally takes a peaceful snooze. He says it's the best and most soothing relaxation he can get.

Peggy Joyce has gotten Jack Oakie out of those sweat shirts and slacks he used to wear, and into a tailored suit, with now and then a derby hat; all of which makes Jack almost effeminate around Paramount.

The spring transoceanic hegira removed several Hollywood notables over the week-end. J. M. "Beanie" Walker, author of hundreds of Hal Roach yarns, embarked with his wife for a trip around the world. Helen Hayes and friend husband, Charlie MacArthur, left for Havana and New York on the California, as did Norma Shearer and her producer-husband, Irving Thalberg, and two year old son, bound ultimately for Europe.

George Raft left by train for New York and Bruce Cabot left by automobile for an overland journey to explore an underground river in New Mexico, which is his idea of vacation fun; while Ann Harding and Peggy Joyce sojourned at Palm Springs.

2 Fine Novels Prescribed as Spring Tonics

Problems Make Depression Seem Tame.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"One More Spring," by Robert Nathan. [Knopf.]

"Let the Hurricane Roar," by Rose Wilder Lane. [Longmans-Green.]

ROSE WILDER LANE.

ROBERT NATHAN.

Although only one of these two fine novels has to do with the sloughs through which the world has been wading, they both state such courage and such vigor in the face of economic disaster that they are as welcome as pemmican at the south pole and together they ought to cheer up the spirits of anybody.

One of them is more fantasy than fact, the other hard fact [fictionally] and they are written in as divergingly different styles as it is well possible to find, but they both have something of the same quality in their characters.

"One More Spring" is, like most of Robert Nathan's work, as real as a summer dawn and as near and at the same time remote from the earth upon which we tread. His books are sometimes rich and lovely, sometimes not entirely roseate, but always refreshing.

The plot of "One More Spring" is satirically fantastic. It concerns a dealer in antiques who had left from his life work merely an outsize eighteenth century bed which no one would buy when he became a bankrupt and his effects were auctioned; a young violinist who had left only his violin and an insatiable appetite for bread and stew; a prostitute who had nothing but her small body, emaciated by starvation and a hunger for love [as opposed to what she called her business], and a banker who thought he had nothing when his bank failed.

An odd assortment of characters in the oddest possible setting, for Mr. Otkar, the antique dealer, and Mr. Rosenberg, the young violinist, set out, with the great cupid-encrusted bed in a push cart, seeking a homesite in Central park. They manage to put up the bed for one night without being caught by the police, and fate offers them the next day the shelter of a tool shed near the zoo through the courtesy of one of the park scavengers who yearns to learn to play the violin and who presents Mr. Rosenberg with a roof in exchange for lessons.

There they sleep, but they eat only when Mr. Otkar does a bit of skillful egg snatching in the zoo, or Mr. Rosenberg manages to wheedle a few pennies by doing his practicing in the street.

In one of his foragings Mr. Otkar is about to put his arm through the window of the kitchen of the Casino where the mayor is ironically dining in luxury, when another arm reaches in ahead of him and Elizabeth Cheney grabs a bunch of celery. They are both pursued by the police, and only the quick thinking of Mr. Otkar, who plumps her down on a bench and pretends to be absorbed in a petting party, saves them.

There is no place for Elizabeth to go, so he takes her home with him to the tool shed and she sleeps between him and Mr. Rosenberg in the vast bed. The bed becomes a little overcrowded when Mr. Otkar rescues Mr. Sheridan, a bank president, from the pond in Central park and takes him home to dry out and Mr. Sheridan stays on, harassed by a cold and a fear of the bank examiners.

"One More Spring" is something vastly more than amusing—though it IS that. There is reality of life in it and gallantry of the spirit embellished, not dimmed, by its satire.

"Let the Hurricane Roar" is a classic of the spirit of pioneer courage and of the armor of love. It is the story of a boy and a girl who had loved each other as children and had married and gone west to a homestead. Alone on the prairie Caroline bore her child, with only Charles to cling to when the pain made her delirious. Alone on the prairie they created a home out of a hole hollowed in the ground. Their first crop of wheat promised them contentment in tangible things as they had it in all of the intangibles of the spirit.

Then came the grasshoppers, which they fought—vainly—together. And after the grasshoppers the horrors of a tragic winter which they fought separately, Caroline alone in the dugout with her baby, and Charles with a broken leg in Iowa, where he had gone to seek work. Every conceivable physical terror was Caroline's. But her courage never failed. And that simple story, told with the strength of brevity and conciseness and a sparseness of recorded sentiment, is an epic of the beauty of the spirit.

After a dosage of "One More Spring" and "Let the Hurricane Roar" anybody ought to feel a little ashamed to yerp about anything. They are both superb spring literary tonics.

Paris Ensemble of Cape, Dress Preferred Kind

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—Spring styles, now being tried out along the Riviera, show that fashionable women like the ensemble composed of cape and dress, which the French dressmakers launched in their midseason shows. The wool dress and matching cape, which buttons up like a jacket, make the most popular of these ensembles. They are usually tailored and trim looking and replace the tailored suit for a morning walk on the Boulevard de la Croisette.

The Molyneux cape ensemble, shown in our sketch today, is the preferred kind and is worn by Mme. Jacques Balsan, who was Consuelo Vanderbilt. It is made of brown rough woolen. The cape, tailored to fit the shoulders, is just waist length and buttons on three buttons, above which are the wide revers that fall in folds at either side of the V-shaped neckline. A yellow flower is placed on the left revers and the round yoke at the neckline of the simple dress is made of yellow crêpe de chine, as is the belt that circles the waistline. The dress has plain sleeves and a skirt which is bias cut with a seam down the center front.

The short, slipon gloves are of yellow chamois skin and the beret is yellow felt with a band and bow of brown ribbon.

Brown oxfords and light beige stockings are worn and the brown calfskin bag has two gold buckles on the flap.

Force Yourself to Talk, Doris Tells Shy Folk

It's Only Way to Overcome Timidity.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Whenever I go to a party I do not know wht to do or say, so I just sit there."

So "Nola" tells it. But it's a complaint quite common among both girls and boys. The tongue refuses to work once one of the opposite sex appears on the horizon.

The trouble dates back to childhood, as a rule—to school days, or to censored out-of-school playmates. A girl who is brought up with a bunch of boys is rarely afflicted with the tied tongue. A girl who has played around with boys since she was a youngster learns that the approach with them is the natural one. They're not another sex, a distant, terrifying sex as she knows them. They're boys—but you talk to them as you talk to the girls you like.

So, too, with boys brought up with girls. There's none of the self-consciousness seen in the girl and boy isolated in youth to the company of their own sex either through accident or censorship.

This is why parents should encourage the mingling of the sexes in play when girls and boys are young. It's a wholesome introduction of girl or boy to adult social contact. However, this does not answer "Nola's" problem.

It isn't easy to order yourself to perk up and speak up. But only one person can effect the cure and that's the word-shy one herself, or himself.

The late Arnold Bennett told of overcoming this "company-shy" habit of his by forcing himself to go into stores and talking with the clerks; talking with delivery men, doormen, with every one he could aim a remark at.

A girl in her 'teens, or a boy, is quick-witted enough to catch the conversational trend of his or her contemporaries. Train yourself to do this. Watch how other girls and boys open up a conversation. And in the meantime nail everybody you can with a "Good morning" and follow up with some remark, no matter how banal it may seem to you.

Sarcasm Unfair Weapon to Use on the Children

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

There is a weapon some grown people use upon children that cuts and bewilders them. They cannot understand it. Besides cutting and bewildering them, it often humiliates them. And they bitterly resent the use of it.

The weapon I mean is sarcasm. Directed against children it is a cruel lash. That may sound extreme, but any one, now grownup, who cringed under it as a child knows it cuts deep. Some grownups can stand sarcasm, but not children.

Of course very little children don't understand it. But as soon as they are old enough to do so—to feel the edge of a sarcastic remark or correction, how it does hurt! And not in a wholesome way, either! It leaves a resentment, a sting that an honest scolding or even fair punishment does not leave.

A little girl of 10, high spirited but well managed at home, came in from school the other day seething. She is subject to severe headaches following a chronic illness. She had gone late to school, really forcing herself to ignore a bad headache, bearing a note of excuse. Still with the headache, but in a fury she told her tale when she got home in the afternoon.

"I hate that Miss Allen," she burst out as she threw her books down. "I came up to the office three steps at a time the way I always do. She read the note and then she looked at me and said, 'It must be a terrible headache to make you leap upstairs like that!' I hate her and all the kids do, too."

It was that little girl's first experience with sarcasm. She had always had the nicest of teachers and of course nothing of the sort at home. Her mother tried to help her to take it, being glad all the time that the child was angry instead of being crushed by it.

Fibrous Fruits, Vegetables Needed in the Healthy Diet

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

We've been talking the last few days about attacking beauty from a new angle. It's really not new at all. But I want you women to get to thinking it is a new and magic formula. I, knowing you well, believe that you'll fall harder for it if it is presented as a new beauty discovery.

Your external treatments have become pretty much of a habit now. Still, you wonder why your hair keeps on falling, or fading; why your skin isn't silky velvet to the touch; why your teeth are acting up—and why you're not up to your old girlish pace.

So, we must probe deeper than the scalp or the epidermis or the tooth enamel to see what we can see. I've been jacking you up a bit lately on the kind of food you're feeding bone, blood and tissue, asking whether you're getting your daily pint or quart of milk, your two vegetable servings a day (beside potato), and fruit juice twice a day, one of these a citrous fruit.

Now let us go on with the fruits, vegetables, and grains for a good reason. You know as well as I that irregular bowel movements and chronic constipation are the commonest ailment known. But maybe you don't tie that ailment up with the dull hair, the dull eyes, the dull skin and the lethargic steps! Here's where so many of our eager pursuers of the latest cosmetic wrinkle collapse in their beauty search.

They stimulate the facial skin with their cold creams and massage—but they don't think about stimulating the intestinal tract with the fibrous parts of fruits, vegetables and similar bulky cellulose. How many women do you know, including yourself, who take one raw vegetable such as lettuce, celery, radish, onions, etc., a day? How many substitute bran for other food items to act as roughage or internal cleanser?

Two glasses of water taken on rising are a corrective, but few women take it. If lemon juice is added, or the water is slightly salted, so much the better. This is a simple enough corrective of a habit that is disastrous to youth and beauty. An abdominal muscle exercise—just one a day done ten to twenty times, would make a new, fresh person of the constipation victim.

Brewsters Back from Washington.

Every train from here to Washington this week will carry Chicagoans to the capitol for Saturday's inaugural festivities, but a train that arrived here yesterday morning from there brought home two socialites who spent last week-end there, Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Brewster. Mrs. Brewster went to New York about ten days ago and Mr. Brewster joined her there the middle of last week and together they went to Washington, where they attended the reception at the White House last Saturday.

Miss Eleanor McCormick, daughter of Mrs. Robert H. McCormick, and Miss Dorothy Ranney, daughter of the George A. Ranneys, left Sunday for Miami Beach to visit the Conway Olmsteads. Their plans are a bit uncertain and they may be down there two weeks or a month.

Mrs. Farley Hopkins, who has been in town visiting relatives, has gone to Davenport, Ia., to visit other relatives. After a week there she will return to her Phoenix, Ariz., home.

Miss Alice May Dickinson, daughter of the Francis R. Dickinsons, went east yesterday to visit Mrs. Roswell Gilpatrick in New York.

When the Allen Kempes motored out to Arizona to spend a month they found it so delightful that they have stretched their holiday a bit and are not coming home for another three weeks.

Society Folk Tell Plans to Observe Lent

BY RUTH DE YOUNG.

During the Lenten season that has its beginning today society will devote itself to a religious awakening unknown in years. It won't be a giving up of French pastries, but rather, a concentration of attention on church and home meditation.

This was the opinion expressed yesterday by the ministers of a half dozen churches attended by the city's socially prominent families as well as by half a hundred debutantes, matrons, and business men.

"This economic depression is an enforced Lent," explained the Rev. Frederick L. Gratiot, pastor of the Church of Our Savior. "For months we have been giving up and we are continuing to give up. It is a matter of necessity. There are those who will choose some further measure of abstinence during this Lenten period, but more significant will be the feeling for prayer, for a genuine religious observance. Especially will this be found true among young people."

The Rev. Mr. Gratiot spoke not only for himself but for a half dozen of his fellow ministers and hundreds of their parishioners.

"Fasting or 'giving up' has not the same significance that it had in years gone by," said one of the leaders of the chapel guild of the Cenacle. "In the days when a meal was a feast it meant considerable to give up some item of food. Today in contrast we are fasting—or call it dieting if you will—more than ever before in the world's history. It is not done for form or for the sake of negation, but rather for a more abundant life, for the sake of strong bodies and clear minds. It is a 365 day fast."

Miss Susan Follansbee, who recently made known a definite interest in the Buchman movement, bears out these expressions of opinion. "One year I gave up chocolate ice cream," explained Miss Follansbee yesterday, "but before the second day I had broken my fast so my observance has never again taken this form. It is the religion a person feels, not the material things he gives up."

Miss Isabel Gordon and Miss Charlotte Welch were among those yesterday who indicated intentions of complying with the ancient observance of Lent. "I intend to do without smoking," explained Miss Gordon. "And I will follow suit," said Miss Welch.

The word Lent, both in its old English and German derivatives, means spring and refers to the lengthening of the days at this season of the year. Surely there is something beautiful in this, as Herbert Winston Hansen has pointed out in his "New Conception of Lent." Instead of the feeling of contraction, the word itself is expressive of expansion, joy, and new life.

Mid-Lent, or the fourth Sunday of Lent, has long been observed as "Mothering Sunday" in the British Isles—a time for rejoicing. On that day it is the custom for girls in the employ of others to be allowed to return to their parents. In token of their homecoming they bear a rich cake or plum pudding.

Fifty and Fit

Why go along with "fairly good health" when you might be enjoying vigor you haven't felt for years?

There's a simple little thing anyone can do to keep the vital organs stimulated, and feel fit all the time. People don't realize how sluggish they've grown until they've tried it. The stimulant that will stir your system to new life is Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. It will make a most amazing difference in many ways.

This famous doctor's prescription is a delicious syrup made with fresh herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. It starts its good work with the first spoonful. That's all you need to drive away the dullness and headache of a bilious spell, and rid the system of that slow poison that saps your strength. It's better than a tonic for tired bowels, and unlike habit-forming laxatives you can take it freely or give it to any child. And it isn't expensive.

Get some syrup pepsin today, and take a little tonight. Don't wait until you're sick to give your system this wonderful help. You can avoid those spells of biliousness or constipation. A spoonful every now and then is better than constant worry about the condition of your bowels, or fear of auto-intoxication as you grow older. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin protects the system. All druggists keep this preparation.

Raw, Tender Nose and no wonder!

Rubbed, inflamed with harsh, damp handkerchiefs, when it should be gently treated with KLEENEX Soft, absorbent—now costs but 25c

This discomfort is avoided when you use Kleenex—a soft, cloth-like tissue, many times more absorbent than cotton or linen.

Since the cost is very low, a tissue need be used but once. Thus, you have a clean tissue every time—soft, soothing and dry.

Much more healthful

Kleenex is not only more comfortable, it is infinitely more sanitary. A cold-filled handkerchief re-infects the user, spreads infection to others. Kleenex fibers are so powerfully absorbent that they hold germs securely, harmless, until the Kleenex can be destroyed.

No disagreeable laundering

TOURNAMENT OF CHAMPIONS CLIMAX TONIGHT

CUB PARTY IS COMPLETE; PLAY GAME FRIDAY

Grimm Picks Lineup for Giant Series.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., Feb. 28.—The Chicago Cubs now are 100 per cent present on Catalina island. The ten members of the second squad arrived a bit after noon today, the boat being somewhat late because it paused to participate in a movie shot at the Catalina isthmus 12 miles northwest of Avalon.

Infielders Stanley Hack, Gink Hendrick, Bill Jurges, Harry Taylor, and Del Young Jr., and Outfielders Vince Barton, Kiki Cuyler, Frank Demaree, Mike Kreevich, and Paul McCarren are the fellows who arrived today. McCarren is a young man signed when the Cubs recently disposed of the Albany club of the International league. The squad was accompanied by Art Neeley and John Yelovitch, batting practice pitchers loaned by the Los Angeles Angels.

Today's joiners reported at 2 o'clock for their first workout. During the first session Manager Grimm relented in his plan to play intraclub games Thursday and Friday. There will be no game Thursday, but Friday the lads will loosen up for the Giants in a regulation contest, according to the present plans.

Ah! They're Using Curves.

Before the newcomers showed up, the training camp veterans engaged in their heaviest drill to date. The pitchers started bearing down for the first time and curve balls were thrown for the first time.

At the conclusion of the day's doings Mr. Grimm had decided upon his lineup for the games against the Giants this week-end.

In Saturday's game Malone, Herrmann, and Henshaw will pitch, and Sunday, Warneke, the National league's winningest pitcher, will make his 1933 debut, followed by Bush and Yerkes.

The remainder of the lineup reveals Babe Herman in the cleanup spot. Here's the way Boss Charley will send 'em against Bill Terry's boys: Bill Herman, 2b; English, 3b; Cuyler, cf; Babe Herman, rf; Stephenson, lf; Grimm, 1b; Leo Hartnett and Campbell, c, and Jurges and Koenig, ss.

The Babe and Gink Hendrick, teammates in Brooklyn and in Cincinnati last year, did not meet to congratulate each other until after the day's work was over. Herman had finished his chore before Hendrick got on the scene.

Hendrick Down to Weight.

Hendrick, who is 35½ years of age, is old enough to come to camp in a fattened condition, but he didn't exercise his prerogative. He showed up in the pink of condition and worked as hard in the opening drill as any of the youngsters, some of whom are callow enough to call him Pappy.

The only one of the second squad who seems to be toting extra pounds is Frank Demaree and Frank welcomes the additional weight and hopes to hold it.

P. K. Wrigley's chef at Rancho Escondido, who will prepare the barbecue for members of the Cubs and Giants Saturday night, announced today that he will not serve cabrito, or baby goat, this year.

It's All Beef This Year.

Last year there was a choice of steak, cabrito, as such, and cabrito in the guise of lamb. Some of the guests had never undertaken goat meat and got to thinking that the beef might be Shetland pony or something. The result was a virtual vegetarian barbecue. So this year it will be beef and nothing else but, in so far as meat is concerned.

THE GUMPS—THE CLOUDS ARE DARKENING

Red Kress Proves He Can't Play Second Base for Sox

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pasadena, Cal., Feb. 28.—One camp experiment which Lew Fonseca, the White Sox manager, hoped would prove a success blew up on the second day of training. It involved Red Kress' playing at second base. Red, after being obtained from the St. Louis Browns last spring, couldn't be located satisfactorily in any particular spot.

The idea of making him a second baseman was a good one because there is a possibility he might come back as a hitter. Hence the desire to have him present daily. His hitting will be the same whether he plays an infield post or in the outfield, but it so happens that if he could be kept at second he wouldn't be crowding out another man with batting capabilities. But the second base scheme for Red now is definitely out for the simple reason that he cannot play the position.

Fonseca Agrees Quickly.

Kress had heard what Fonseca had in mind, so before today's drill he stepped up to the camp teacher and said that to try him at second would be a waste of time. He had tried it before and found he couldn't master the finer points of the right side of the infield. He then put on an exhibition at the spot Fonseca had in mind and it took the manager only a few minutes to detect that the red-head wasn't kidding.

Kress can't flip a ball underhanded. That's what a second sacker must do if he hopes to get any of the close decisions at first base or act as pivot man in a double play.

After watching the demonstration Fonseca told Kress to spend his time as he saw fit at short, third, and in the outfield. Thus Jack Hayes has second base to himself and his presence at least assures some brilliant, steady fielding thereabouts. There is even a possibility that he might improve as a hitter. He adopted Fonseca's stance at the plate late last season and immediately boosted his average considerably. However, he finished the year with a mark of .257, which was about 25 points shy of being a star infielder. He'll be with a better hitting team this season and that should help him.

Manager's Legs O. K.

The infield practice involving Fonseca, Hayes, Appling, and Dykes, reading from first around to third, was again the feature of the day's muscle stretching exercises. There has been considerable doubt as to whether Fonseca's legs would prove rubbery enough to let him play first regularly after a year's layoff, but he's already stepping around at a fast clip. He put in six weeks this winter playing squash, which is a strenuous game. His legs gave him no trouble and he figured that was a good sign. Six weeks on the squash court provide more violent exercise than a first baseman would get in a full season of 154 games.

It became apparent today that there are more fat men on the squad than was suspected when all hands made their first appearance yesterday. Red Lyons had been ill, but despite that his cheeks are puffed out as if somebody had been giving him chewing candy. Jimmy Dykes was surrounded by a leather coat while he worked today. Vic Frasier must shed about a half dozen pounds and is using a rubber shirt as a helper in the process. Even Pitcher Paul Gregory, only 24 years old, has accumulated so much beef that he will have to labor overtime or delay the course to stardom which everybody has predicted he'll take eventually.

Walsh, Gregory Sprint.

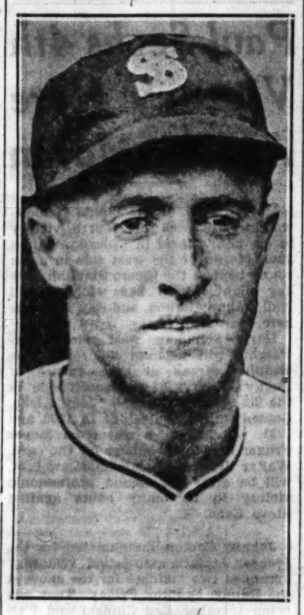

Young Ed Walsh appeared today, and he, too, showed the results of taking life easy during the winter. As soon as he showed up he was given a prescription calling for sprinting back and forth around the outfield in company with Gregory. The appearance of Walsh cut down the absent list to Joe Chamberlin, a six foot shortstop from the Waterloo, Ia., club.

The only others not present are Al Simmons, who is working out at Hot Springs, Ark., meanwhile waiting for his new false teeth to be constructed, and Billy Sullivan, who is busy poring over legal tomes at Notre Dame.

The spirit in the camp was evidenced today by the actions of some of the older pitchers who usually hang around the sidelines for the first ten days. When practice opened at 11 o'clock under a hazy sky, Red Faber, 45 years old next September, was the first to pitch to the hitters. He was followed by Lyons, Gaston, and several younger gentlemen, such as Chad Kimsey, George Murray, from the Dallas club; Ed Durham, obtained in the deal with Boston, and Clarence Fieber, the six foot four southpaw who in time is expected to be another fire baller, such as Bob Grove of the Athletics.

Louis Comiskey, owner and Sox president, started back to Chicago tonight. Hotel life doesn't appeal to him.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, England, Feb. 28.—Hubert Scott-Paine, one of England's leading speedboat drivers, today challenged Gar Wood, Detroit, to race for the Harmsworth trophy. A motorboat designer and builder, Scott-Paine, cabled the Yachtmen's Association of America today that he was ready to race for the cup. The races are scheduled at Detroit, Sept. 2 and 4. If necessary another race will be run on the following day.

Scott-Paine disclosed that he has been working on a hull design for six months. The boat has been named Miss Britain III. It has a 1,350 horsepower motor.

Scott-Paine's challenge is the eighth which has been filed for the Harmsworth trophy since 1920, when Wood captured it on Osborne Bay, England. Betty Carstairs failed three times in an attempt to defeat the Detroit sportsman. Later Lord Wakefield, with Kaye Don as his driver, was unsuccessful in 1931 and 1932.

Last fall, after the breakdown of his boat, Lord Wakefield announced he was through with speedboat racing.

9,000 See Champion Halt Mexican's Rushes.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Another Mexican fighter failed to scale the championship heights tonight when Freddie Miller, Cincinnati featherweight, successfully defended his title against Baby Arizmendi by winning a convincing ten round decision before 9,000 in Olympic auditorium.

There was no question of Miller's superiority. He outboxed the 19 year old Mexico City lad throughout most of the fight, staved off his opponent's wild rushes, and kept the upper hand all the way.

Crowd Scorns Decision.

The decision by Referee Harry Lee was not greeted unanimously by the crowd, however. Pop bottles, apples, oranges, peanuts, and programs were showered into the ring. One of the ringsiders received a severe scalp wound when struck on the head by a bottle hurled from the balcony.

Miller started out by jabbing his opponent away with a flicking right hand which he kept in Arizmendi's face the remainder of the evening, and in the second round started bringing his left in to the head.

Arizmendi started in with his terrific rushing tactics and in the third round built up a slight edge as he drove his opponent repeatedly to the ropes, but Miller regained his equilibrium to hold the advantage handily in the next three rounds.

Mexican Gets Sulky.

The Mexican seemed to sulk as he found difficulty getting in to his opponent with his usual wild tactics, but occasionally burst forth in the last three rounds with an enthusiastic barrage of lefts to the head and rights to the body.

Miller opened a cut over his opponent's eye in the early rounds and kept peppering away at it to the end.

Maroons' Two Rallies Beat Detroit, 6-3

MONTREAL, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The Montreal Maroons, second place club of the Canadian division of the National Hockey league, put on two great scoring bursts tonight to wallop the Detroit Red Wings, American group leaders, 6 to 3.

The Maroons scored twice in 13 seconds during the first period and came back to sink three goals in less than seven minutes of play in the third after the Red Wings had tied the count at 3-3 in the first few seconds of the final period.

BOSTON TIES OTTAWA

Boston, Mass., Feb. 28.—(AP)—The Ottawa Senators held the Bruins to a scoreless overtime tie tonight in their last Boston appearance of the season. It was a dull spectacle during most of the 70 minutes and the only redeeming feature was the superlative performance of Bill Beveridge in the Senators' cage. He turned back 55 shots, including a dozen extremely difficult ones, to hold off the Bruins.

CANADIENS, 2; TORONTO, 1

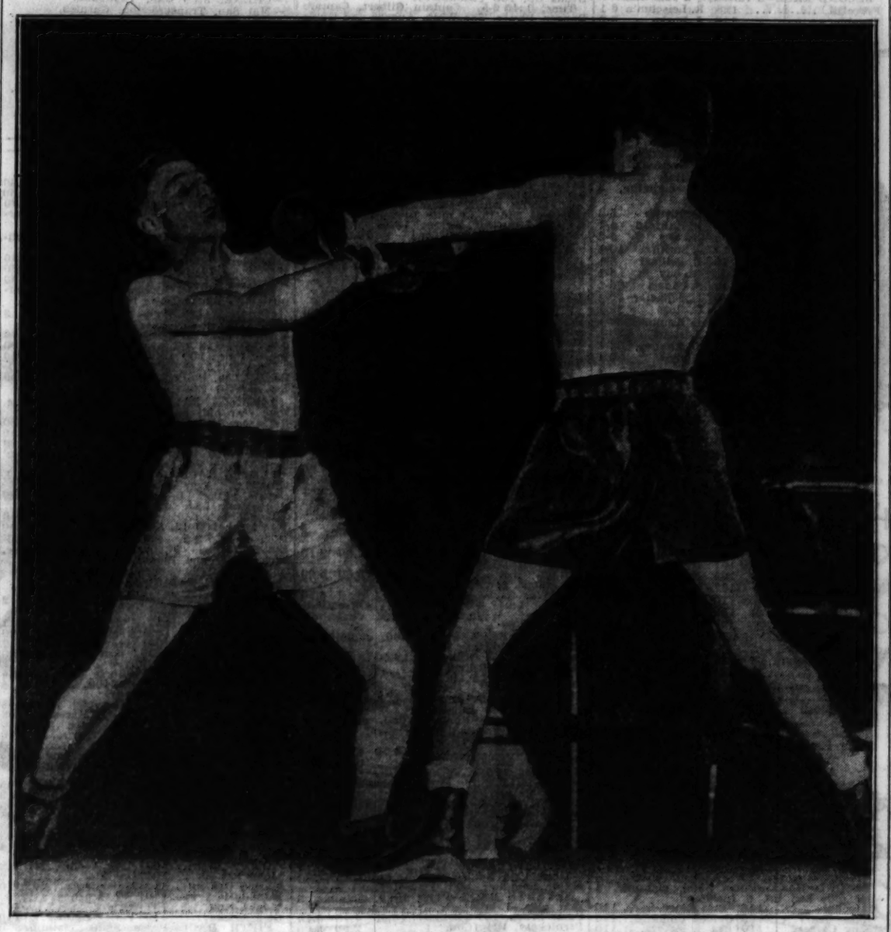

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Two-third period goals by Pit Lepine gave the rejuvenated Montreal Canadiens a 2-1 decision over the Toronto Maple Leafs, pace setters of the Canadian section of the National Hockey league, here tonight.

Their unexpected victory left the Canadiens only two points behind the third place New York Americans who were idle tonight.

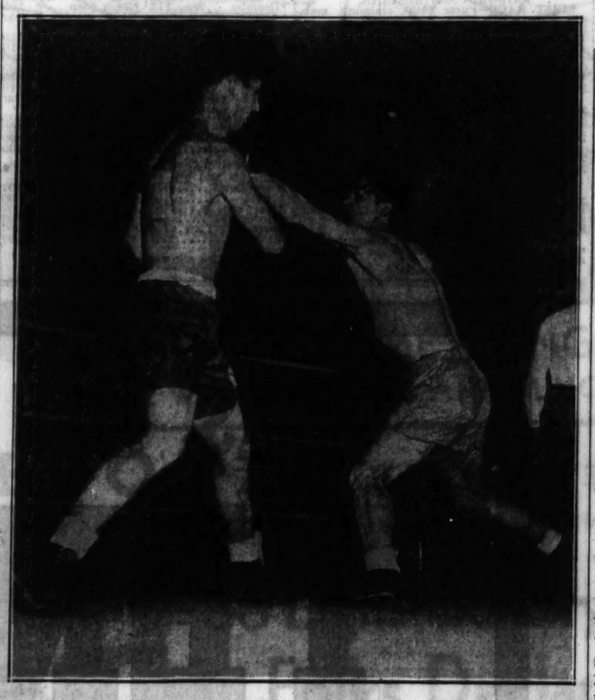

Gorilla Jones Stops Oster in Third Round

A Marshall Defends Honor of Old South

BY FRENCH LANE.

The southern troops were about ready to beat a hasty retreat from the Tournament of Champions at Chicago Stadium along about 11 o'clock last night.

The boys from below the Mason and Dixon line were being hammered all around the ring. They didn't appear to be able to hold their own with the kids from up no'th.

Then along came Billy Marshall, the Nashville gasoline salesman, who whipped the tar out of two boys. His last victim was Earl Watson, Chicago Negro, who has come dangerously near winning a Golden Glove for the last two years.

A Bad Beginning, But——

The Nashville boy just wouldn't let the dusky lad from the south side whip him. He didn't fare so well in the first round and for about a minute it appeared as if the folks down in Nashville wouldn't have anything but bad news to read this morning.

Then the old rebel yell went out from way up in the top gallery. Marshall must have heard it. He tore into Watson. For two rounds he gave the skillful Negro boy a terrific lacing. He hit him here, there, and everywhere. The sudden attack had bewildered Watson. The referee lifted Marshall's hand as a signal of victory.

The gallery gods let out another noisy rebel yell and the southern troops did not retreat.

Grandpap Would Be Proud.

Marshall is a typical southerner, and if our granddaddies could have seen him they no doubt would say he was of the hard fighting type who helped old Jeb Stuart carry on in the fight between the states.

He's been one of the most popular kids in Nashville for quite some time, for his gasoline selling job is at the busiest corner down in Andrew Jackson's old territory. He was able to get away from his post just long enough on the night of the Nashville

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Sixty-four amateur boxers tonight will complete the three day Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions at the Chicago Stadium. Beginning at 8 o'clock these fighters from seven states will fight once, reducing the field to the semi-finalists who will meet one week from tonight for the championships.

In addition to the competition in the Tournament of Champions, the championships of Chicago's first novice tournament will be decided. Thirty-two of Chicago's best novices will open tonight's program of 56 fights with the semi-finals of the novice division. Later these winners will face each other in the title bouts.

Admission tonight, conforming to the schedule for the Tournament of Champions, remains at 40 cents, 75 cents, and $1.10.

Later Starting Time.

All contestants must report for physical examinations at the Stadium by 6:30. The pairings will be made by lot by 7:30. The first bouts start at 8 o'clock, one hour later than the usual time.

Last night 8,000 saw the first and second rounds of the welterweight, middleweight, light heavyweight, and heavyweight classes of the Tournament of Champions and the first round of the novice meet in the same weights. While the big boys perhaps were not as clever as the smaller lads who fought Monday night, the crowd liked the show better. The hard hitting fighters in the heavy division again bore out the statement that the talent in the tournament is far superior to that of last year.

Chicago should have a much better team than that which lost in Madison Square Garden last year, 12 bouts to 4.

Rothier Wins Twice.

Henry Rothier, 1932 Golden Gloves lightweight champion, who won his match in the international fights last summer with the German champions, and this year has won the 147 pound title of the Catholic Youth Organization, won two bouts last night. In his first appearance Rothier outpointed Adam Latoz of Danville, Ill. Later he won in three rounds from Anthony Zale of Gary, Ind.

Billy Miller of Milwaukee, Wis., looms as one of Rothier's best opponents. Miller, as Chicago fans will remember, knocked out Laddie Tonelli in one of the preliminary bouts at Soldiers' field last summer. Miller won a decision from Ralph Carnegie in his first match. Carnegie was a member of the 1930 Golden Gloves team. In his second fight Billy outpointed Elwood McReynolds of Rockford, Ill. This was a battle all the way.

Caserio Wades Through.

Freddie Caserio, the National A. A. U. middleweight champion, member of the United States Olympic team and captain of the 1931 Golden Gloves team, won two bouts last night. His first was a rip roaring battle with Julius Denny of Rockford, Ill. There were many who thought that Denny might get the decision, but none disagreed when Caserio received the official recognition. Freddie is representing Kid Howard's gymnasium.

Ty McKee, Davenport, Ia., middleweight, was Caserio's second opponent. After a slow start in the opening round, Freddie opened up with body punches and in the third round, when McKee was hanging on, the referee stopped the bout.

Jim Cummings, another mighty good Chicago 160 pounder also from Howard's gymnasium, upset two of the out of town champions. Cummings stopped Leo Ambrose of Cleveland, O., in the first round and then two hours later won from the Green Bay, Wis., champion, Joe Anderson, in three rounds.

Bukowski Is Stopped.

William Treest, middleweight member of the Joliet team, who is ranked on a par with Fred Caserio and Jim Cummings, won two bouts. He knocked out Bob Britton of Burlington, Ia., and then won a decision over Charles Wozniak of the C. Y. O.

Arlo Soldati, hard hitting Rockford heavyweight, stopped Chester Bukowski, Catholic Youth champion, in the third round of their opening match for one of the surprises of the evening. However, where Bukowski failed, Max Marek, his team mate, came through with two one round knockouts to stay in the light heavyweight race for a diamond studded golden glove. Marek stopped Geno

A tie for second place in the west section of the Chicago Public High School league was created yesterday when Crane Tech's heavyweights defeated Harrison Tech, 21 to 16, on the former's court. It was Crane's 10th consecutive victory and Harrison's fourth defeat. Harrison now is tied with Tuley and Marshall for the runnerup position in the section and the right to accompany Crane Tech in the quarter final round of play for the league championship, which starts Friday.

Harrison will get another opportunity to enter the title playoffs today. It will meet Tuley on the Harrison floor. The winner of the game will play Marshall at the Marshall gymnasium tomorrow.

Harrison took a 10 to 8 lead at the half, but in the final minutes of the game the score was 16 to 16. Then Embliss and Payne each scored a basket. A second later Payne added a free throw. Lou Possner was Crane's high point scorer, contributing two field goals and three baskets.

Leo, led by Ryan, defeated the Calumet heavyweights, 39 to 23, on the latter's court in a practice game. Ryan scored six baskets. Hayda starred for Calumet, collecting four baskets and two free throws.

That Jointed Snake Proves Just a Lizard

BY BOB BECKER.

That ancient but persistent myth about "a joint snake in Illinois which flies apart when it is struck" and that even more spectacular fairy story about small snakes running down their mother's throat are being resurrected again by outdoor fans in the central states. Spring must be just around the corner! Practically every spring brings out of hibernation the jointed snake story, the pickerel versus northern pike argument, and several other controversial questions.

J. W. A. of Jacksonville, Ill., is the first one under the wire with an inquiry about the marvelous Illinois snake which breaks up like glass when struck and in a few hours knits its body together again. The origin of this story and the facts concerning it are easily assembled.

It's No Snake, It's a Lizard.

In the first place, there is no such snake in Illinois or any other state. However, this story has a much more authentic background than most snake stories. We do have a joint, or "glass snake" in this territory. It is a lizard. In other words, there exists a lizard commonly called glass snake which has developed to a high degree the capacity to lose its tail. It is not generally known that all lizards are able to lose their tails without serious injury. The result is that many a lizard when attacked gladly sheds his tail and frequently runs to safety while the enemy is dealing with the detached appendage.

In our glass or joint lizard [commonly but inaccurately labeled a snake] the tail breaks at a special place and the muscles are so arranged that they immediately swell up to stop any flow of blood. When you grasp the tail of this lizard it comes off easily. Moreover, it is endowed with an active reflex motion so that it may squirm and jump and thus attract your attention while the animal runs away from you.

He Grows New Tail.

The lizard can grow a new tail. But he cannot go back in a couple of hours and fit the discarded tail to his body. We sum up the facts concerning the so-called jointed snake: It isn't a snake, but a lizard. It does lose its tail when seized. It can't go back and attach the discarded tail to its body, but it is able to grow a new tail.

Mr. Sponge Wins After 5 Losing Starts

Miami, Fla., Feb. 28.—[Special.]—The 6 year old Luke McLuke gelding, Mr. Sponge, bred and owned by Joseph E. Widener, was the winner of the Key West purse, feature at Hialeah Park today. It was the first winning effort of the old fellow in six starts at this track. He was made the favorite in a field of six despite his poor local record, and led practically from start to finish.

The payoff at the end of the six furlongs was $4.70 for $2, with My Dandy second to the wire, a length and a half back of the winner and three-quarters of a length before Miss Tulsa. The field was completed by Leros, General A., and Finite.

What Are a Few Pounds?

Mr. Sponge was top weight of the field with 114 pounds, but made light of his impost and finished out the six furlongs in the smart time of 1:11 3-5. He was handled by Buddy Hanford, who is riding for Mr. Widener at this meeting.

Jockey Johnny Gilbert, who rode the most winners in 1932, scored a double on the day with Aegis and Fervid. The former is the gelded son of American Flag, which is known as a nervous post horse.

Winner Returns $4.40.

Don Romiro was second, a neck before Sun Manor. Aegis was the favorite and returned $4.40 for $2.00. He finished the seven furlongs in 1:24 4-5. Aegis now is owned by D. A. Wood.

With Fervid Gilbert was up on an $18.50 to $2.00 shot and had to ride his hardest to win by a neck.

Seek Dempsey as Londos-Stecher Match Referee

Jack Dempsey was being sought yesterday by Promoter Doc Krone to referee the Jim Londos-Joe Stecher heavyweight wrestling bout at the Chicago Stadium Friday night.

Dempsey was suggested as the referee by Stecher. Jack arrived yesterday from the coast and this afternoon will appear with Krone before the Illinois athletic commission and ask that the commission rule which permits only Illinois referees to officiate in matches in the state be lifted for this match.

Dempsey has acted as referee in many boxing and wrestling matches and is familiar with all the rules of the mat game. Dempsey, as a referee, also is agreeable to Londos.

Paul Seeks 4th Victory Here Against Moran

Harry Paul, Philadelphia middleweight, will seek his fourth victory in as many starts in Chicago against Jack Moran of the west side in a six round bout at the Cicero Stadium, Friday night. Paul has whipped Bill Hall, Johnny Baima, and Ray Tramblie here.

Joey Kleko, Golden Gloves contestant in 1930 and 1931, will receive a test from Meyer Frager in a four rounder on the card. Walter Jerz, Lawndale middleweight, will be after his second professional victory in as many bouts against Steve Zene.

Johnny Coulon, matchmaker for the Pioneer Athletic association, yesterday arranged two matches for the show at the Rainbo Fronton Friday. They will bring together Red Chinski and Fershie Wilson, George Shrosbree and Jerry Kucera.

Bud Saltis, Minneapolis, Minn., 160 pounder, and Marty Sampson of New York signed last night to meet in the eight round main event at White City on Monday night. YANK BATTERIES TO WORK TODAY; RUTH PLAYS GOLF

Has Babe Signed? Not by a Long Shot!

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 28.—[Special.]—An assortment of the champion New York Yankees' pitchers and catchers will open the spring training season at Miller Huggins Memorial field here tomorrow with Manager Joe McCarthy, Scout Paul Krichell, and Coaches Arthur Fletcher and Jimmy Burke directing activities and George Herman Ruth among the missing.

The Babe has been in St. Petersburg for a couple of weeks but is not due to report for training until March 8, when the infielders, outfielders, and Pitcher Herb Pennock are expected to surrender. Ruth has been playing from 18 to 36 holes of golf about every other day and catching up with his deep sea fishing when not otherwise engaged.

Has he signed that contract?

"Hell, no," he said today and apparently he doesn't expect McCarthy to bring up the subject in the near future.

The Babe, incidentally, isn't living with the ball club this spring. He and his family have taken an apartment in town while the club is quartered at the Don Ce-Sar hotel, on the island of Pass-A-Grille, which has the Gulf of Mexico in its backyard and only one noticeable drawback. It is ten miles and $3 by taxi from St. Petersburg and except on Saturday night there is no bus service after dark.

GIANTS NEAR FULL STRENGTH.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 28.—(AP)—An infielder and two outfielders joined the baseball camp of the New York Giants today when John Vergez, Henry Leiber and Joseph Martin reported to Manager Bill Terry.

The remaining infielders and outfielders will reach Los Angeles tomorrow and by night fall Terry will have his full strength on hand.

The pitchers, with a week's work behind them, will be well ahead of the batters. The regulars will have only two days' practice before going into action. The Giants open their training camp season Saturday with a game against the Chicago Cubs on Catalina island.

SENATORS PLAY TAG.

BILOXI, Miss., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Trainer Mike Martin had the Washington Senators playing tag with a hefty medicine ball today.

Martin added some innovations to the game to improve its training qualities and, after half an hour, some of the boys had wobbly legs.

Catcher Moe Berg has arrived, and Cecil Travis, Buddy Myer and Heinie Manush were others expected at the training camp ahead of the main contingent.

HOYT'S SPEED RETURNS.

Paso Robles, Cal., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Waite Hoyt, veteran right handed pitcher, appears to be headed for a comeback with the Pittsburgh pirates even though he was released last fall by the New York Giants in the belief he was all through as a major leaguer.

Hoyt pitched in batting practice today and gave an exhibition reminiscent of his form with the Yankees years ago. Batters today said he had everything on the ball with plenty of speed and fine control. Hoyt said he was in the best condition he had been in years and expressed belief he could pitch an opening game at this time.

Larry French, southpaw pitching star, also has shaped up quickly. He was in exceptionally good condition when he arrived for spring training.

SPENCER SIGNS CONTRACT.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 28.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians' catching staff was completed today when Roy Spencer, who was obtained from Washington in a trade for Luke Sewell, telegraphed General Manager Billy Evans he had placed a signed contract in the mails.

The vanguard of the Indians will reach the New Orleans training camp tomorrow. Spencer previously had notified Evans he would appear for the first workout.

Evans also announced the receipt of a signed contract from Bill Knickerbocker, shortstop who set a new American association record for two base hits while playing with the Toledo Mudhens last year.

Only four players have not yet come to terms. They are pitchers Wesley Ferrell and Willis Hudlin, both officially due to report at New Orleans tomorrow, and Outfielder Dick Porter and First Baseman Harley Boss, who have been instructed to report at New Orleans Monday.

JOHNNY FREDERICK' SIGNS.

New York, Feb. 28.—[Special.]—Johnny Frederick, center fielder for the Brooklyn National League Baseball club, visited the Dodgers' office today and affixed his signature to a contract to play during the 1933 season. Frederick, who set a major league pinch hitting record last year, refused to disclose the amount of the contract.

Nine other Dodger players have yet to sign. The holdouts include Hack Wilson, Danny Taylor, Joe Stripp, Al Lopez, and Ray Phelps. Wilson and Taylor formerly played with the Chicago Cubs.

Pick Judges for Chicago's 33d Annual Dog Show

Dog judges of national and international fame will officiate at the 33d annual show of the Chicago Kennel club in the First Regiment armory, March 24, 25, and 26.

Leading the list is George Steadman Thomas of Hamilton, Mass., who has been judging shows in all parts of the United States and Europe for more than 30 years. Mr. Thomas will pass on the merits of many breeds, ranging from wolfhounds to terriers, setters, and dachshunds.

Livingstone E. Osborne of Chicago will judge chows; Harry Osborne, also of Chicago, will preside in the judging of Boston bulldogs; Dr. C. L. Lee of Iola, Wis., will judge cocker, springer and English spaniels; and Alfred Delmont of Wynnewood, Pa., will judge several breeds, including German shepherd, great danes, keeshonden, doberman pinchers and poodles.

TOURNAMENT OF CHAMPIONS ENDS TONIGHT; 2 RINGS

Last year Marek was beaten in the light heavyweight finals by Vernon [Farmer] Miller of Davenport, Ia. Marek, however, fought as a middleweight in New York in the intercity series and was one of Chicago's four winners.

Buzz Green of Davenport, Ia., who since Adam Smith of Rockford turned professional is the veteran of the Golden Gloves heavies, lost his first fight of the tournament. He was outpointed by Owen McCarthy of Joliet.

Adolph Wiater, who last year as a 175 pounder licked the champion of Germany, marched through two heavyweight matches. He whipped John Patier of Trafton's gymnasium and repeated against Joseph Sommers, also of Trafton's.

Allen Packs Punch.

Jack Allen, fifth of the Cleveland team of eight to reach the quarter finals, was probably the sensation of the heavyweight ranks. Allen can punch harder than any of the big boys who were booming away in both rings. Art Cook of Peoria stayed the limit with Jack, although he lost. In the next battle, Allen knocked out Tony Susnis of the C. Y. O. in the second round. The bell saved Susnis in the first round but a mighty right hand blow to the mouth stretched him out soon after the start of the second session.

Karpinski Hits Floor.

Joe Jeffers, Springfield, Ill., was Karpinski's next opponent. In the first round Karpinski caught a smash to the side of the head and went down for a short count. From there on, however, the fight belonged to Karpinski. Jeffers either couldn't take blows to the body or didn't care to try, for he went down several times to rest, with no real damage done. The referee stopped the bout in the second round.

Jack Kranz of Gary, Ind., the Golden Gloves 1931 light heavyweight champion, drew a bye in the first round of the heavyweight division last night, but later won a three round decision from William Meucci of Trafton's gymnasium. The bout was very close and the result was booed. Kranz's narrow escape from defeat made up, to an extent, for his bit of bad luck last year when he stepped into one of Karpinski's blows and went down and out in the first round of his first fight.

LANGFORD WINS OPENER, 6 AND 4, AT PALM BEACH

The defending champion, Tommy Goodwin, Monroe, N. Y., was eliminated by G. M. Scott, Pittsburgh, 1 up, in 19 holes. First round results follow:

Jack Ryerson, Cooperstown, N. Y., defeated David Brooks, New York, 3 and 1.
Walter L. Carey, New York, won from G. F. Henneberry, Chicago, by default.

BASEBALL ON SUNDAY NEARS IN PENNSYLVANIA

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 28.—[Special.]—Philadelphia's two baseball teams, the Athletics and the Phillies, and the Pittsburgh Pirates moved a step nearer Sunday baseball today when the senate law and order committee recommended the passage of the Schwartz bill, which was approved by the house a month ago.

The measure will come up for final passage on Monday night. As amended by the senate the bill requires a referendum of the voters in each community to determine whether outdoor sports shall be legalized between 2 and 6 o'clock.

Both the National and American leagues have delayed drafting their 1933 schedules pending final action on the bill.

Monmouth's Second Half Drive Beats Knox, 41-25

Just One Bout Places Rodak with Leaders

BY ARCH WARD.

It required only one bout for Leo Rodak, Chicago featherweight, to progress to the quarter finals of the Tournament of Champions last night. Leo, who captained last year's Golden Gloves team, qualified for the present tournament without entering a single fight due to drawing two byes in the far south side trials, Monday night he drew another bye and then won his second round bout by a decision. His Chicago following expect him to land a place on this year's team.

Crawfordsville, Ind., has reason to be proud of little Dick Baker, the 118 pounder, who won his first two bouts on the opening night. Dick was the only member of the Lafayette team to enter the quarter-finals in the lighter weights. This is his first visit to Chicago and needless to say he will have a lot to tell the folks on his return.

Max Marek, C. Y. O. light heavyweight champion, who won both of his bouts last night in the first round, is soon to enter St. Viator college. His expenses will be paid by the Most Rev. B. J. Sheil as reward for his victory in the Catholic Youth tournament. Bishop Sheil plans to use profits of the C. Y. O. meet to educate boys who take part in the tournament.

Witt Sparks, hard hitting lightweight from Milwaukee, had the opening night fans blinking their eyes in astonishment at the way he proceeded to win a decision over Ed Sparrow, C. Y. O. favorite. Sparks has engaged in only seven bouts since putting on the gloves, and the wise ones are beginning to wonder what he will do once he gets a little more experience.

John Baltzer, pride of Davenport, proceeded to demonstrate that he has lost none of the effectiveness which won him a place on last year's Golden Gloves team. John is a flyweight and after drawing a bye in the first round won his second bout by a wide margin to earn his way into the quarter-finals tonight.

Ted Kara, 112 pounder from Cleveland, hung up his 20th straight victory when he outpointed Henry Fuscaldo of Chicago in his second bout Monday night. Johnny Dobler, 135 pounder, was the other Cleveland lad to win a spot in the quarter finals.

Failure of Joe Romano, Rockford's 126 pounder, to weather the opening night trials was tempered somewhat by the success of two other Rockford battlers—Hubert De Shepherd, flyweight, and Bruno Galvanoni, 135 pounder. De Shepherd outpointed Kenny Jackson of Peoria in a whirlwind engagement that stamped the Rockford lad as a fighter to keep an eye on.

Winners Monday and last night each will fight once tonight. This competition will reduce the field to the semi-finals which will be run off a week from tonight with the finals.

Nick Micelli, west side welterweight, tried out a new punch last night—the cork screw. The wallop was recently taught him by Packey McFarland, former lightweight boxer, present Illinois athletic commissioner. It is the famous punch Kid McCoy invented when he was boxing some years ago.

A MARSHALL, SUH, NEVER GIVES UP, CHICAGO LEARNS

championship matches to step into the ring and carry away the title.

Ten minutes later he was back selling gasoline, whistling and singing away in a manner that pleased the southerners. It took quite a bit of negotiating before he was able to arrange to get away from the job long enough to invade the Tournament of Champions.

Marshall is a welterweight. He may not wind up as the champion, yet it is hardly likely he will encounter a more stubborn foe than Watson. Henry Rothier, the Belgian kid, is still in there and so are several other brilliant boxers.

Nashville's Proud of Him.

Regardless of what happens, Billy has done things in a big way for Nashville. He has demonstrated there are some great fighters way down south and no doubt the chamber of commerce will honor him when he gets back home, tosses away his boxing gloves and prepares to sell gasoline again.

MY NEW BRUSHLESS SHAVE IS A CREAM

NOT A GREASE

Bill Menneu

And that makes brushless shaving O.K.!

"YOU MEN who like a brushless shave—here's news for you!

"Now you don't have to smear up your face with greasy, lard-like preparations. Now you don't have to clog your razor with sticky stuff. I've got a brand new Brushless Shave for you—one that's a cream—not a grease.

"Because it is a cream, it improves your shave four ways. Are these improvements important to you? You be the judge. . ."

THE 4 IMPROVEMENTS

1. Wilts whiskers—and smoothes the path of the razor. The blade sails over the skin—sails through the wilted stubble—cuts clean. Swift! No 'bucking'! No pull! No scrape!
2. Washes off easily. No sticky residue on your face, no clogging of razor!
3. Economical. It spreads easier so you can use less (about ⅓ less.)
4. Protects your skin. Particularly good for dry, tender, easily chapped skins.

So Light-So Dry . . . So Keen-So Spry Folks Declare It Is Bewitched

"What have you done to gasoline to effect a change so strange?" Thousands have asked us this, and so will you when you try it. It does seem uncanny, but it isn't the work of spooks. Thank Science . . . and Conoco engineers.

Science calls it volatile because it changes from liquid to vapor in the twinkling of an eye. The vapor is light, dry, sensitive. In the cylinder, one spark ignites it. It bursts into an all-consuming flame of driving power.

It has a higher octane rating—improved anti-knock. This makes it fire in a smooth, evenly balanced rhythm. It has substance, too; endurance for long, economical mileage. Try it and rejoice.

PLEASE BE PATIENT!

The contest is closed. Mail by the truckload must be opened, read and judged until only the winners remain. We'll hurry, but it takes time. Meanwhile, radio will bring contest news, Wednesday evenings over N. B. C., 10:30 to 11 P. M. (E. S. T.); 9:30 to 10 (C. S. T.); 8:30 to 9 (M. S. T.); 7:30 to 8 (P. S. T.). JUGO-SLAV KING ROUNDS UP FOES OF DICTATORSHIP

Alienates Support Even of His Backers.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, Feb. 14.—[By Mail.]—A brave opposition in Jugo-Slavia wages an incessant battle for a return to constitutionalism and local autonomy, which will permit local self-government without compromising the unity of the kingdom.

Its leaders are spied upon, arrested, and thrown into jail, but it nevertheless persists, asserts itself, and has not been stifled out as it has been in Italy. In the king's most recent police measures against the opposition the aged Ante Trumbich, Croat leader and one of the founders of the kingdom, has been arrested.

Serbs Join Movement.

But that does not keep down the movement for reform, in which opposition in Serbia itself is as active as it is in Croatia and Slovenia. Among the chief leaders of the opposition in Serbia is former Premier Davidovitch, head of the Serb Democrat party. Davidovitch a short time ago circulated a manifesto to his party proposing a solution for that outstanding question of the country—reorganization of the state.

He proposed to make four groups—first, Slovenic; second, Croatia and Dalmatia; third, Bosnia and Herzgovina; fourth, Serbia, with southern Serbia and what is known as the Voivodine. Montenegro was to be attached either to Serbia or to Bosnia.

These four provinces, thus organized, were to have relative autonomy, the central government only giving general directions and making laws which would have general application to the whole.

Opposition Leaders Jailed.

These suggestions have not yet got beyond party proposals, but they became generally known in Belgrade and they were immediately followed by a rounding up of opposition leaders by the king's police.

The Serb Democrats are the strongest political group in Serbia itself, now in full tilt opposition to the dictatorship. Its ideas on the political mess in which the country finds itself were outlined in detail for THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE by one of its important leaders.

The dictatorship, he said, has been ineffectual. It did not swim with the current of the times, as some other dictatorships have done.

"The dictatorship is not based on popular approval any more," he said. "It was established to unify the three Slav elements of the country, of which two, the Croats and the Serbians, were practically at war with each other. But after three or four years of experiment now we liberals find that the dictatorship did not supply that principle of unity on the basis of which we consented to it at first.

Charges External Influence.

"External influences also had a part in the forming of the Jugo-Slav dictatorship. France, our ally, did not directly suggest it, but may have induced it by tacit consent or by diplomatic neutrality. France looks on us to supply her with soldiers. The French are occupied with their own problems. We are much dependent on them economically and financially. The French were interested in having a stable government in Belgrade, and they thought the king, supported by the army, could supply this.

"By thus giving their moral support to a dictatorship they have lost prestige among Serbians who are Francophile and have aroused the outright hostility of the Croats and Slovenes, who are by culture and the past more orientated to Vienna and Budapest than they are to our postwar Gallic allies."

Moderate Toward Italy.

Judging from the furious attacks against Jugo-Slavia in Italy it might have been expected that the spokesman would have spoken with bitterness about Jugo-Slavia's neighbor across the Adriatic. On the contrary he spoke with extreme moderation, stressing that Jugo-Slavia has many trade ties with Italy.

Turning to internal questions, he continued:

"What we Serbian Democrats want is a federal system of government which will preserve the union of the three Slav branches of our country. This may be with or without the monarchy. We would not necessarily sacrifice the monarchy if we can have union with it; on the other hand, we would not allow it to be an obstacle to federation by any other method."

BUSTER KEATON WED TO FORMER NURSE, HE SAYS

But U. S. Divorce Isn't Final Yet.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Buster Keaton, frozen-faced film comedian, announced here today he and his nurse of several months, Miss May Scribben, were married Jan. 8 in Mexico, although his divorce from Natalie Talmadge in California is not yet final.

"I guess I'm not legally married in the United States, for I'm not legally divorced yet," Keaton said, "but the marriage is okay in Mexico."

Surprises Hollywood Friends.

Despite Hollywood friends, who said the comedian was "either kidding or not fully aware what he was saying," Keaton and the bride insisted they had been married by a Mexican official at Ensenada, Lower California, and that they had sought to keep the marriage a secret.

Miss Scribben, a young and attractive brunette, said she had always admired Keaton on the screen.

"Then a mutual friend introduced us," she said, "and we fell in love. We are very happy."

Divorce Final Aug. 12.

Keaton's divorce from Miss Talmadge, a sister of the Talmadge girls of the screen, becomes final Aug. 12. The first family flareup between the Keatons occurred last year when the comedian, en route from Los Angeles to Mexico, accompanied by his two sons, was halted by San Diego authorities at Miss Talmadge's request. She protested Keaton taking his two young sons for an airplane ride to Mexico.

Keaton said he and his bride planned a trip to Mexico City, but would remain here for a day or two.

CLARA, LU 'N' EM LEAVE TO ATTEND INAUGURATION

Clara, Lu, 'n' Em, those three chattering girls whose gossip is broadcast daily over W-G-N and a National Broadcasting company network of stations in all sections of the country, departed yesterday for Washington, D. C. The girls will attend the Roosevelt inauguration on Saturday as the guests of Admiral Cary T. Grayson, chairman of the inaugural committee, and will broadcast from Washington.

The girls, who in real life are, Isobel Carothers, Helen King, and Louise Starkey, will also write their impressions of the ceremonies during their visit in Washington for THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Before they departed yesterday the trio held an impromptu reception at the Union station, greeting more than 500 of their fans who gathered there as they went aboard the Liberty Limited.

When the train stopped at the Englewood station 200 more fans were on hand. One woman presented the girls a large bunch of bananas, having heard them talking about packing "bananas" in their lunch boxes. At a later stop made at Fort Wayne, Ind., another large group of women greeted the radio trio, the welcoming committee being headed by Mrs. Stephen Fleming.

After leaving Washington the girls plan to stop at Baltimore, New York, and Boston before returning to Chicago.

There will be no Clara, Lu, 'n' Em broadcast this morning at their regular time, 9:15 o'clock, but on Saturday, the morning of the inauguration, the girls will present a special broadcast at the regular hour.

MRS. O. H. P. BELMONT LEAVES FORTUNE TO DAUGHTER CONSUELO

New York, Feb. 28.—(AP)—A daughter, Madame Consuelo Balsan, former duchess of Marlborough, was named chief beneficiary in the American and French wills of her mother, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, filed in Surrogate's court today.

The National Woman's party of Washington, D. C., of which Mrs. Belmont was once president, received the only bequest to any organization, $100,000.

Harold S. Vanderbilt, a son, was given "Marble House," the Newport residence of his mother; his brother, William K. Vanderbilt, received the Paris residence at 9 Rue Monsieur.

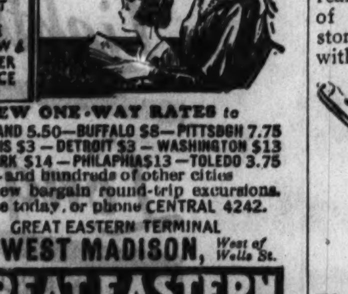

To four children of the late August Belmont and the late former Alice de Goicuria, $50,000 each was left. The children are: Mrs. Bessie Belmont Timmerman, Alice, Barbara, and Cecilia Belmont, all of New York.

August Belmont of New York, son of the late August Belmont, was left $100,000 and the Newport property known as Belcourt, subject to life tenure by Perry Belmont.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

Most Coughs Demand Creomulsion

Don't let them get a strangle hold. Fight germs quickly. Creomulsion combines the 7 best helps known to modern science. Powerful but harmless. Pleasant to take. No narcotics. Your druggist will refund your money if any cough or cold no matter how long standing is not relieved by Creomulsion. (adv.)

ONE OF FARRAGUT OFFICERS DIES IN EAST AT 95

The admiral had been in excellent health, considering his years, until recently, and death was due chiefly to old age. Burial will be in the National cemetery at Arlington.

Admiral Stewart was a native of New York and entered the navy in 1861 as assistant paymaster. He saw action promptly, for he was assigned to the U. S. S. Pembina and was on board on Nov. 7 when it went into action against the confederates at Port Royal.

Under Farragut's command he saw further action in the battles of Port Hudson and Mobile bay.

In 1890 the admiral was appointed paymaster general of the navy by President Harrison and was twice reappointed prior to his retirement from the service in 1899 on reaching the age limit.

E. B. WILLIAMSON, ENTOMOLOGIST, IS DEAD OF STROKE

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Edward Bruce Williamson, research associate at the University of Michigan museum and a noted entomologist, died at his home today following a stroke of apoplexy suffered a week ago.

Mr. Williamson was regarded as one of the world's foremost authorities on dragon flies. He spent more than 40 years studying the subject and through his activities the dragon fly collection at the university has come to rank ahead of any other in the world.

Mr. Williamson also specialized in iris. From his experimental farm at Bluffton, Ind., came a number of new species. He was vice president of the American Iris society for many years.

Born at Marion, Ind., July 10, 1877, he was graduated from the Ohio State university in 1898. He was a fellow of the Vanderbilt university in 1900-'01 and assistant curator at the Carnegie museum in 1898-'99. He was a fellow of the Entomological Society of America.

Geo. Gardner Dies of Heart Attack at University Club

George Gardner, 36 years old, died early yesterday in his room at the University club, 76 East Monroe street. Death was attributed by his physician, Dr. Edward F. Addenbrooke, to heart disease. Gardner was the son of Franc E. Gardner, president of the Gardner Chemical laboratories, 3132 Bloomingdale road, and widely known chemical engineer. His physician, it was said, recently advised him to go to a hospital for a long rest, but he declined. Gardner had resided at the University club for about two years.

NOW! PILES MEET THEIR WATERLOO!

No more pain! No more itching or scratching! No more torture when you sit or walk! No more torture at the stool! The relief of Piles has now been solved. No matter what the form of Piles you suffer from—genuine relief for you lies in Pazo Ointment.

Pazo not only stops the pain and itching and makes defecation easy but it tends to correct the condition of Piles as a whole. This is because Pazo is threefold in effect. It is (1) soothing, (2) healing, (3) absorbing. Thus, it not only allays the inflammation and repairs torn tissue, but actually reduces the swollen blood vessels which are Piles. The method of application makes Pazo doubly effective (see picture below). Thousands say it saved them the need of a painful operation. Try Pazo yourself and realize from one trial that your days of pile suffering are over. All drug stores sell Pazo in Collapsible Tube with special Pile Pipe, complete for 75c.

Perforated Pile Pipe attached to Collapsible Tube Makes Application Correct and Easy

The PAZO Collapsible Tube and Perforated Pile Pipe make it very easy to apply the Ointment high up in the rectum where it can reach and thoroughly cover all the affected parts. Complete interior treatment in all cases of Piles is plainly important.

PEOPLES GAS OWNERS NAME 6 NEW DIRECTORS

Only One Member of Board Re-elected.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Six new directors were elected to the board of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company yesterday at the annual meeting of stockholders. George F. Mitchell, president of the company, was the only director re-elected. New directors are:

Melvin A. Traylor, president First National bank.

Sewell L. Avery chairman, Montgomery Ward & Co.

H. W. FENTON.

Charles B. Goodspeed, director, Buckeye Steel company.

Donald R. McLennan, president, Marsh & McLennan, insurance.

James Simpson, chairman of the company.

The meeting, which was held in the auditorium of the Peoples Gas building, 122 South Michigan avenue, was attended by more than 200 people. Several stockholders voiced protests when Chairman Simpson announced that after reconsideration directors of the company had decided to continue to pay the $9,000 annual pension to Samuel Insull, former chairman.

Stockholder Protests.

"The directors are on dangerous ground when they vote to pay a pension to a fugitive who is under indictments of the United States government and the state of Illinois," George Paullin, a stockholder, asserted. "I dissent in this particular, but support the remainder of Mr. Simpson's report. I believe that the directors should realize the position they put themselves in when they grant a pension to a man under indictment," he added.

Another stockholder rose to ask "What did Insull do with the money he obtained through stock sales?" Chairman Simpson replied that he did not know. A motion to adjourn the meeting was made and the stockholder became enraged because he felt that his question had not been answered satisfactory. "I demand an answer," he shouted. When he was ignored by the chair he launched into a profane tirade against the directors of the company. Scattered applause and shouts of "sit down" greeted his remarks.

Meeting Ends in Confusion.

In explaining the pension stand of the directors, Mr. Simpson pointed out that the company's counsel held the opinion that they were legally bound to pay the annuity to Insull. It would be a blow to the morale of the employé organization if the pension were cut off, he said.

Of the $9,000 paid to Insull $6,000 is furnished by the parent company and $3,000 by the Peoples Gas Subsidiary corporation. Mr. Simpson said that the funds were paid out of the service annuity funds established for the express purpose of retiring veteran employés.

In his opening statement Mr. Simpson defended the present rates which are being charged by the company. A hearing before the Illinois commerce commission is pending.

Company Investments Shown.

A supplemental report giving a schedule of the investments of the company and its subsidiaries was issued to stockholders at the meeting. It is the first time the company has ever made public a complete list of its investments.

Forty-nine per cent of the investments is represented by holdings in natural gas developments. These are carried at a book value of $15,232,000. Cost prices are used in figuring values. The bulk of the gas investment is in the bonds of the Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America which built The Chicago-Texas pipe line.

Holdings in the securities of the Midland United company and subsidiaries total $10,692,000. Investment in the Peabody Coal company and the Chicago and Illinois Western railroad totals $1,725,000.

Among the miscellaneous investments 649 shares of $100 par stock of the Great Lakes Broadcasting company and $125,000 in the debenture bonds of the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad.

Retiring directors are Stanley Field and Stuyvesant Peabody. The other vacancies were created by the earlier resignations of Samuel Insull, Samuel Insull Jr. and Martin J. Insull and the death of Edward F. Swift.

Democrats Ask More Millions to Peg Cotton

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—Southern Democracy in the house of representatives rallied today to the support of its principal product and passed a cotton stabilization bill, which would force the federal government to add new millions to those already spent in stabilization ventures by the federal farm board.

The bill, which claims as its chief feature a novel proposal for curtailing cotton production, is a direct outgrowth of the farm board's efforts to peg farm prices. It provides for the creation of a federal "cotton board" financed with federal money, to buy up all the surplus cotton piled up by the farm board's activities.

Bill Passed by Senate.

The senate approved the measure last week. It was passed by the house on a party vote of 188 to 182 today, but will have to go to conference before it is sent to the White House for an expected veto by President Hoover.

Cotton farmers, under the bill, would be permitted to compensate for acreage reduction by purchasing from the holdings of the "cotton board" an amount of cotton equal to their cut in production. According to proponents of the measure, such a plan will serve the double purpose of ridding the cotton market of a price depressing surplus and, at the same time, reducing the annual production of cotton.

Senate Provision Eliminated.

In approving the measure, the house eliminated a senate provision providing for the cotton board's purchase of the cotton already donated by congress to the Red Cross and now being held by the relief organization. As all cotton held by the farm board's stabilization corporation has been so donated, only that cotton purchased by coöperative associations with farm board loans and cotton taken over by the department of agriculture on crop production loans, remain to be bought up under the bill.

It is estimated that 3,000,000 bales now constitute the surplus. The cost of purchasing it would amount, it is estimated, to $90,000,000, while carrying and administrative charges, which would have to be borne by the proposed federal board, would amount to approximately $12,000,000.

Report More Cotton Used.

New York, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The New York Cotton exchange estimated today world consumption of all kinds of cotton from last August through January was the largest in three years. The total consumption was about 12,067,000 bales, compared with 11,660,000 for the preceding six months.

R. F. C. DIPS INTO TREASURY FOR NEW 75 MILLION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—To supply the Reconstruction Finance corporation with another $75,000,000 for meeting current emergencies, the treasury department will borrow immediately that amount, pushing outstanding public debt over the 21 billion dollar mark.

Secretary of the Treasury Mills announced the new borrowing today. It will be in the form of an issue of 93 day bills, dated March 6 and maturing June 7, which will be sold on March 3 on a discount basis to the highest bidders.

Although Mills did not say that the new money would be thrown into the work of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, the fact that the treasury itself has a balance of $255,700,000 on hand was taken to mean that the treasury itself had no need for the new funds.

The public debt will be pushed over the 21 billion dollars for the first time since the war when the new issue is floated. The debt has increased $207,000,000 during the last month.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL JANUARY NET TOTALS $610,309

Electric Power Production in the United States

War of Silver vs. Gold Waged in 16th Century

BY REUBEN CAHN.

Currency systems of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries were profoundly affected by the doctrine of mercantilism. According to this theory, a nation should shape all its ends to have the largest possible hoard of gold and silver.

The central idea in national policies at that time, therefore, was to export commodities of high value and to import products of low value. The result would be a difference which would make it necessary for other countries to relinquish some of their precious metals. It is the hangover of mercantilism which today accounts for the fact that when exports are greater than imports we say that the trade balance is favorable, while when the contrary is true, we say that it is unfavorable. Mercantilism dictated the prohibition of exports of precious metals from England as late as the beginning of the nineteenth century.

Used Bounties and Bars.

Other steps taken to build up the stocks of metals used as money were the stimulation of exports by bounties, such as the famous corn bounty of the reign of William III. in 1689, the discouragement of imports by tariffs or absolute prohibitions of imports, and in particular the discrimination toward countries with which the trade balance was unfavorable.

The mercantilism of the two or three countries which followed the middle ages was a difficult policy to pursue, for the reason that the nations were at the same time practicing bimetallism, gold and silver both being minted into money at a fixed ratio. Here were the leading nations engaged in a scramble for gold and silver and at the same time each specifying a price relationship between the metals, which was different from the price relationship specified by other countries.

Metals Vary in Value.

Now it has been definitely established by experience that two metals cannot at the same time circulate as standard money for any extended period of time, for the reason that the metals vary in the amount of their production and in the demand for them apart from their monetary use. The consequence is that the metals have one relationship at the treasury and another in the metal market.

If the treasury is paying more for gold than are the metal merchants, then gold is the standard money used, and silver is sent to the metal merchants. When the price of silver is higher at the treasury than in the metal markets, then silver is sent to the treasury for use as money and gold is sold to the metal merchants. The tendency of the overvalued metal to drive out of circulation the undervalued metal was given the name of Gresham's law, after Sir Thomas Gresham who first made a formal statement of it.

It was the practice of nations in the two centuries after Columbus when they saw one of the metals leaving the country to strive to attract the departing metal by raising the price paid for it at the mint.

How It Offected Standards.

Throughout the eighteenth century, the mint ratio in France favored silver (gold was worth more as metal than as money), and her currency was almost exclusively silver throughout the century. The mint ratio in England, on the other hand, favored gold (gold was worth less as money than as metal). The money which was used was, therefore, almost exclusively gold and silver was exported.

These divergences account undoubtedly for the fact that in England the gold standard was adopted in practice about 1778 and formally in 1816. In France, on the other hand, bimetallism lingered until 1876.

CREDITORS ACCEPT CUT IN MIDDLE WEST INTEREST PAYMENTS

Secured creditors of the Middle West Utilities company, including five New York and Chicago banks, have consented to a reduction in interest rates on loans to the company, the receivers yesterday informed Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley.

The interest on $28,050,000 of secured loans has been cut to 4 per cent, or $1,122,000, a year. The company has been paying $1,395,000 in yearly interest on the loans or at the rate of about 5 per cent. The cut results in an annual savings of $273,000, Receivers Edward N. Hurley and Charles A. McCulloch told the court.

The new rate brings the interest charges more nearly within the income being received on the collateral securing the loans. The creditors who consented to the cut are the First National bank, Chicago; Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, Central Republic Bank and Trust company, Halsey, Stuart & Co., Bankers Trust company, New York, and two operating subsidiaries which are creditors of Middle West. The subsidiaries are the Kansas Electric Power company and the Kentucky Utilities company.

CHICAGO "L" TRAFFIC LOWEST IN 27 YEARS

Fewer persons rode the "L" lines last year than any time in the last 27 years, stockholders were told at the annual meeting yesterday. Traffic was the smallest since 1905, when the Evanston, Englewood, and Ravenswood branches were not in operation.

Traffic has closely paralleled the trend of employment, and improvement must await betterment in working conditions, said Bernard J. Fallon, vice president in charge of operations.

Earnings of the Chicago Rapid Transit company in 1932 fell $2,541,000 short of mortgage interest charges. The system has been in receivership since last June.

Mr. Fallon told shareholders that taxes ate up 14 cents of every dollar in revenue that the company received. Wages took 51 cents of every dollar, despite general reductions in wages.

Gross revenue was $12,656,000, a decrease of $3,134,000 from 1931. Operating expenses and taxes totaled $12,369,000, a cut of $2,208,000 from the preceding year. A balance of $118,223 remained for mortgage interest, after payment of rentals for leased facilities. In 1931, the company had a deficit, after interest, of $1,082,000. No appropriation was made in either year for depreciation.

Charles E. Thompson and Mr. Fallon were made directors.

Wm. Wrigley 1932 Income $3.55 a Share

Earnings results for 1932 were reported yesterday by a number of corporations. Among the most important firms reporting were the William Wrigley Jr. company, Atlantic Refining company, American Steel Foundries, and the North American company.

Wrigley earned $7,096,000, equivalent to $3.55 a share. This compares with $10,148,000, or $5.07 a share, in 1931. Depreciation was charged last year at the same rate as in 1931.

Atlantic Refining reported profit of $3,918,000, against $513,749 in the preceding year. Gross income was $84,631,000, a decline of $13,621,000. The shrinkage was more than offset by a reduction in operating charges.

North American Earns Less.

North American company reported earnings of $16,416,000 available for dividends and surplus. This compares with $24,273,000 in 1931. Gross earnings were $107,412,000, against $117,922,000.

American Steel Foundries incurred a loss of $1,526,000, compared with 1931 loss of $791,373. The balance sheet showed working capital of $10,705,000. The ratio of current assets to liabilities was 2½ to 1 at the close of the year.

Philip K. Wrigley, president of the Wrigley company, in his letter to stockholders said that results so far in 1933 have continued satisfactory, and that the management is hopeful that the same relative level will be maintained for the balance of the year.

The North American earnings were equivalent to $2.01 a share on the average number of shares outstanding during 1932. Net in 1931 equaled $3.41 a share.

F. L. Dame Protests Taxes.

Frank L. Dame, president and chairman, complains of the mounting tax costs in his letter.

"There was a reduction in the operating ratio," he said "from 53.25 per cent in 1921 to 52.51 per cent in 1932, which reflects efficient and economical operation of the properties. The management was, however, entirely helpless in dealing with taxes, which were again a relatively greater burden, although the total amount was a slight decrease from the 1931 tax item. Despite substantial decreases in net earnings upon which income taxes are levied, total taxes decreased only 1.17 per cent and took 13.01 cents out of every dollar of gross earnings in 1932 compared with 11.99 in 1931."

General Motors Takes on More Employes in January

The General Motors corporation yesterday announced that the number of its employés in the United States increased 2,917 in January, the fifth consecutive monthly gain. In the last five months employment by the company rose 29,293. Although this reflected seasonal tendencies, the corporation said the gain was larger than occurred a year ago.

La Grande, Ore., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Officials of the First National bank of La Grande late today received permission from the comptroller of currency at Washington to reopen the bank Thursday, March 2. The bank has been closed since Oct. 19. Residents are planning a city-wide celebration in connection with the reopening.

STOCKS RALLY SHARPLY NEAR END OF SESSION

Buying Drives Shorts to Cover Lines.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 28.—Shorts were driven to cover rather brutally in the late stock market trading today and one of the most spectacular little rallies of the young year resulted. Prices shot up 1 to more than 3 points from their lows of the day and healthy looking plus signs were strewn all over the list.

Reported assurances from Washington that the new administration would stand steadfast against the various inflationary measures now being debated and follow the lead of President Hoover and his advisers in lending strong support to the banks of the country were supposed to be the big reason for the abrupt outburst of enthusiasm on the bull side.

Run in of Shorts.

Up to the time of its abrupt turnabout midway of the afternoon dealings, the market had been drifting sidewise, with prices fluctuating now above now below last night's closing levels. Suddenly it began to be discovered that there was a scarcity of offerings in the loan crowd. Premiums of as high as $6 a hundred shares were slapped on American Telephone and Allied Chemical, in both of which a large short interest had been built up and would-be borrowers of a long list of other stocks found they had to pay substantially more for accommodations. Union Pacific and United States Steel became exceedingly hard to obtain.

Something mildly suggestive of a panic developed in the bear camp. Prices went scooting up, the ticker clicked up as if sharing the excitement and traders caught out on the proverbial limb began galloping about in their eagerness to cover before prices got out of reach.

The flurry was a short lived affair, however, and most of the big beneficiaries finished fractionally below their best prices. Allied Chemical lost a point of its newly won ground in the last few minutes of trading and American Can had to give up almost as much ground. Union Pacific in the rails surrendered nearly a point of the 4 point gain it had scored. The leaders held from 1 to 2 points generally of their runups, however, and minus marks were few and far between in the final tables.

Rails Lead Advance.

Of the groups the rails put on about the best performance, being aided in addition to the general market stimulant by the improved new outlook for a bankruptcy law which, it is felt, will help avert some threatening receiverships, and also by the January earnings reports showing better income for some of the roads in comparison with their statements of a year ago. Besides Union Pacific, Atchison, Illinois Central, Baltimore and Ohio, Delaware and Hudson, and New York Central enjoyed a whirl on good buying.

In the motors group Chrysler rallied for a net gain of 1⅝ points on spirited short covering. This issue has been heavily sold for weeks on reports that the regular dividend would be either omitted or sharply reduced. General Motors bumped its old low of 10 in the early forenoon, recovered slightly and then fell back to close unchanged from yesterday.

Anaconda broke to a new low for the year, unsettling the copper group, and could never get back. Greene Cananea on its first sale of the year dropped 14⅝ points.

BONDS WEAKEN AS BANKS ADD TO CASH ASSETS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 28.—Bond prices receded irregularly today in a nervous market. Losses were the rule in all sections, except the foreign, as the market remained unreceptive to offerings dislodged by the banking situation.

Weakness in the banking structure, giving rise to fear of further banking holidays throughout the country, continued to be the all important factor in shaping the trend of prices. With each new restriction, affected banks sell fixed income securities to prepare for possible withdrawals which may follow lifting of withdrawal regulations.

United States government securities were mixed in trend after a soft opening. Announcement that the federal reserve system is resuming its purchases of governments on a broad scale did not stimulate the list appreciably.

German bonds supplied most of the gains in the foreign list, though some Reich issues were a trifle easier.

New Laws on Banking Seek to Benefit All

BY HOWARD WOOD.

In the series of new banking laws enacted during the last ten days in several states there has persisted a certain continuity of thought and action.

It began with the Broderick bill in New York, named for the New York state commissioner of banking. Then Michigan, looking for sound ideas, patterned some legislation after the New York law. Other states followed. Ohio now has a new law embodying the Broderick idea with a few variations.

The central thought in all this legislation seems to be to cut through red tape and prevent bank depositors from being their own worst enemies.

In the past a bank has either been open for business or closed for liquidation. There was no way in which a bank could continue to serve its customers once it admitted inability to pay 100 cents on the dollar to all depositors at once.

New Laws Change Status.

Now come New York, Ohio, and other states with statutes which say, in effect:

"It is not necessarily in the public interest to close a bank merely because it cannot immediately turn into cash enough of its assets to pay out all of its deposits. When illness appears, call in a doctor rather than an embalmer."

The Ohio law, passed Monday night, provides that under the supervision of the superintendent of banking a closed bank may resume business upon such conditions as may be approved by the Court of Common Pleas.

"Such conditions," the law states, "may include reasonable restrictions upon the withdrawal of deposits and the payment of other liabilities, and may also provide for a proportionate reduction of the deposit and other liabilities of said bank and the substitution in lieu of the amount by which said deposit and other liabilities are reduced, of trust or participation certificates in assets set aside for the payment thereof; provided that such certificates shall in no event impose any liability for the payment thereof upon such bank as reopened, except to the extent of the assets so segregated."

Cut Out Soft Spots.

In other words, you don't throw the apple away because it has a soft spot. You cut out the soft spot.

The depositor benefits by this sort of arrangement, because that portion of his deposit which is backed by liquid assets is immediately made available to him. For the rest, he must await the process of liquidation of slower assets. He would have to do this in any event and if the bank were closed and turned over to a receiver the proceeds would be less because receiverships are always expensive.

But, aside from the benefit to the depositor, a good service is done the community. Banking institutions are kept going to cash checks and perform a thousand and one services for their customers, the importance of which is not fully realized until a community finds itself without a bank. Even loans can be made, subject to the approval of the court.

The nation as a whole also benefits, because whatever liquidation occurs subsequent to the organization of the bank is orderly liquidation and is not a forced type of selling which demoralizes the market for securities and real estate.

This point is dwelt upon in the final paragraph of the Ohio law, which states that "the forced liquidation of the property and assets of the many closed banks in Ohio is demoralizing property values throughout the state."

New Customers Safeguarded.

As for new business, there is no reason why customers should hesitate to deposit money with a reorganized bank when the very fact of its reorganization is proof that it has become 100 per cent liquid. Deposits made subsequent to a reorganization are not subject to the partial freezing process.

Previously, about the only hope that an overextended bank had of saving itself lay in getting a loan from the Reconstruction Finance corporation. Experience, however, has pretty well demonstrated that you can't improve the condition of a weak bank by lending it more money unless you aren't careful about the security you take for the loan.

The theory behind the Ohio law, many shrewd observers are beginning to believe, is pretty close to fundamentals. Ohio proposes to face the facts frankly, acknowledge weak spots, write off losses, and go ahead from a new sound basis with good assets and renewed public confidence.

Ohio has made it possible for the people interested in each institution to work out their own salvation without running to the Reconstruction Finance corporation for a handout.

N. Y. FINANCIERS DELAY DETROIT BANK SOLUTION

R. F. C. Loan Held Up Their Action.

DAY'S NEWS ON BANKS

Banks in several states operated yesterday under new laws and executive decrees designed to stabilize emergency situations.

Banks in New Jersey, Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Arkansas operated under new measures restricting withdrawals of deposits, which in most cases were limited to 5 per cent. The governor of Kentucky also declared today (Wednesday) a legal holiday, when banks will pay out no deposited funds. In Ohio business was not much impeded, although 200 banks limited deposit withdrawals. The Cincinnati Stock exchange suspended for four hours and then resumed trading. Reports from Indiana said business was not far from normal. In Pennsylvania the new law required banks to obtain authority from the state banking secretary to limit withdrawals.

The Delaware legislature enacted three laws designed to conserve bank assets and safeguard depositors. In Maryland Gov. Ritchie extended the banking moratorium which was to have ended yesterday. Gov. Hill McAllister of Tennessee declared a bank holiday until next Tuesday.

The West Virginia legislature approved a bill permitting bank holidays. In Kansas the legislature passed a bill permitting banks and creditors to make reorganization plans which would be binding when approved by 80 per cent of the general creditors and the state banking department.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 28.—A delay was caused today in the establishing of the two new banks in Detroit by Henry Ford and his son, Edsel. A change in program may be necessary.

SENATOR JAMES M. COUZENS.

The complication arises because of the refusal of New York bankers to grant a loan of $20,000,000 to the First National bank. This money would decide the amount to be paid to depositors. The importance of the loan from New York is that the $54,000,000 loan from the R. F. C. to the First National bank was contingent upon the New York loan without which it would be impossible to pay depositors of the First National bank 35 per cent of their deposits, as was anticipated. The difficulties between the First National bank and the New York bankers do not involve the Fords and is of a strictly legal nature between the bank and New York bankers.

Ask Ford for More Help.

In an effort to obtain further financial assistance from Mr. Ford a committee called at his office late Monday night, but the result as yet is not definitely known. Mr. Ford is believed to have felt, however, that he was doing his share without additional contributions or loans.

Just what the Fords will do unless the difficulties between the Detroit and New York bankers are straightened out is not known. It is possible that their program will be carried out so far as the Guardian National Bank of Commerce is concerned, or that they will continue with their present program but on a smaller percentage of payments to depositors.

Efforts also are being made, it is understood, to either get a larger loan from the Reconstruction Finance corporation than the present one of $54,000,000 or to obtain money from other sources than New York.

Cousens on Way to Aid.

Rapid developments of the financial situation are expected tomorrow morning with the arrival of Senator Couzens from Washington. It was he who sponsored the resolution that congress adopted to provide relief for national banks by authorizing the controller of the currency to limit withdrawals. This measure, however, cannot be made operative in Michigan

KEEP UP PROBE OF BANK DEALS IN SECURITIES

Senators Vote to Extend Investigation.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—An extension of the senate banking committee's investigation of the stock market and the securities affiliates of banks was voted today as the committee continued its inquiry into the activities of the National City company, affiliate of the National City Bank of New York.

Star witness of the hearing was Edgar Brown of Pottsville, Pa., who described himself as a "shorn lamb" and told how a $100,000 bank account had been whittled down to $6,000, due to his own trustfulness and the high pressure salesmanship of National City company employés.

Brown said he had sold out his interest in a string of theaters near Pottsville in order to go to California for his health. He had $75,000 in cash and $25,000 in United States and Italian government bonds. He sought the advice of the National City company, he said, and soon had sold his bonds and invested everything he had in foreign issues being marketed by the securities company. He was loaned an additional $75,000 on what he had bought in order that he might buy more bonds.

Later, Brown said, when the bonds went down he was induced to buy stocks, among others, shares of the National City bank. He moved to California, tried to sell out early in October, 1929, but was persuaded by officials of the National City branch in Los Angeles to hang on. When the fatal Oct. 29 came along he was sold out and had only $6,000 left.

Under the resolution extending the life of the committee it may continue to function until the close of the next regular session. Numerous other investment affiliates are to be gone into, it was said.

Dollar Declines in Paris to the Gold Export Point

PARIS, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The dollar dropped 2½ centimes this morning to 25.325, the New York gold export point, as buyers withdrew from the market. Bankers said this was because of French uncertainty concerning the American banking situation. It was understood that the Bank of France was out of the market.

John Hancock Mutual Life.

I have noticed a number of inquiries in your paper regarding insurance companies and would like information on John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance company.—S. G. E.

John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance company [Boston] was established in 1862. It is one of the large and favorably known American companies. It writes both industrial and ordinary life insurance.

It has had a steady growth. Admitted assets on Dec. 31, 1932, totaled $639,456,000, against $621,278,000 on Dec. 31, 1931; $584,122,000 on Dec. 31, 1930, and $268,076,000 on Dec. 31, 1922.

Ordinary life insurance in force at the close of 1932 totaled two billion 139 million dollars, against two billion 205 million dollars the year before, and one billion 625 million dollars on Dec. 31, 1927.

Industrial insurance in force on Dec. 31, 1932, totaled one billion 317 million dollars.

Total income in 1932 was $157,665,000 and disbursements totaled $141,854,000.

Policyholders' surplus is ample and the reserve basis is strong. Mortality ratio is favorable. Management expenses and cost of new business is low when allowance for industrial business is made.

A. T. & T.'s Sources of Income.

Will you please give us your opinion concerning what bearing the teletypewriter machines rented throughout the country to operators of racing handbooks have on the income of American Tel. and Tel.? The slump in the Bell company's revenue and the maintenance of the splendid dividend prompt me to ask, "Where do they get the money?"—G. E. A.

There is nothing in the company's published income account to show how much business is derived from proprietors of handbooks.

Gross revenues of American Telephone and Telegraph company for 1932 were as follows: Dividends on stocks owned, $137,380,000 [about $22,400,000 in excess of subsidiary companies' earnings]; interest received on notes and advances, bonds owned, temporary investments, bank deposits and other accounts, $24,970,000; revenues from operations of long distance lines and payments from associated companies for services furnished under license contracts, $89,327,000. Total earnings were $252,487,000. Deductions were interest amounting to $25,087,000 and expenses, including taxes and depreciation, of $81,493,000. This left a net income of $145,907,000, or $7.82 a share. The company paid $167,955,000 in dividends, reducing surplus from $325,494,000 to $303,351,000.

ASSAILS RAILWAY FIGHT AGAINST AUTO TRANSPORT

Publisher Blames Roads for Their Own Ills.

BY HAL FOUST.

Railroads were accused yesterday of having embarked upon "an unjustified campaign to suppress and destroy other useful forms of travel and transportation." The charge was made by L. A. Rossman, publisher of Grand Rapids, Minn., in an address before the Central Lions club at a luncheon in the Hotel La Salle. He has just completed a survey of the railroad, truck, and bus controversy in Illinois for the Illinois highway users' conference.

"The railroads," said Mr. Rossman, "propose to impede commercial transportation by destructive competitive practices, by unfair regulation and restriction, and by unjust taxation of bus and commercial truck. They propose to increase the cost of operation of the private truck and automobile so that these factors will be relatively less important in transportation."

Lays Blame on Railroads.

The speaker blamed the railroads themselves for their present problems, charging them with corruption and mismanagement in the last two decades of the nineteenth century, and mismanagement since. He described the campaign against trucks and buses as futile, even if successful of its objectives.

"The interstate commerce commission," he said, "states that only about 4 per cent of all of the freight moved in the United States is carried on the public highways.

"The motor trucks of Illinois are used, in great part, in bringing products to the railroads for shipment and in the transportation of freight from the railroad to the farm or factory. In this aspect the motor truck is essential to railroad transportation.

The competition of the motor truck to the railroad in Illinois comes largely from ability of door-to-door delivery of the commercial truck and the more rapid and economical delivery of agricultural products, milk, butter, and live stock.

On Bus Transportation.

"The motor bus is a very useful, but not a large element in transportation. There are seven hundred passenger automobiles to every common carrier motor bus in Illinois.

Mr. Rossman said a ton of freight transported by truck pays from five to fifteen times as much in taxes as a ton of freight transported by rail and that those who travel on the public highways by motor coach make a larger contribution to the government than those who travel by rail.

"The cause of railroads against highway transportation," he said, "is being carried forward by all who are interested in the railroads from president to section hand. Railroad employés have been organized. It has been felt that they would present a more sympathetic case to the public and law makers than would representatives of railroad capital."

WHEAT FIRMER ON CROP DAMAGE, RALLY IN STOCKS

U. S. Expected to Report Lower Reserves.

WHEAT PRICES IN GOLD

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

The outlook for the new winter wheat crop came to the fore as a major influence in the market yesterday, and, with the better undertone in stocks, prices turned upward after a small dip early. The close was about at the top, with net gains of ⅝ cent. May wheat finished at 47⅛ to 47¼ cents; July, 47⅝ to 47⅞ cents, and September, 48¾ to 48⅞ cents.

Private estimates on farm reserves of grain, and also figures on the condition of winter wheat, will be given to the trade at 10 a. m. tomorrow, and the returns generally are expected to make a decidedly bullish showing. R. O. Cromwell, the Lamson Bros. & Co. statistician, after an examination of available figures, estimated that domestic disappearance of wheat during the 1932-'33 season would aggregate between 675,000,000 and 685,000,000 bushels, compared with 727,000,000 bushels in the previous season.

See Small New Wheat Crop.

Dry weather continued in the west and southwest, and messages from a large area indicated producers were pessimistic over the outlook for the new wheat crop. No rain was forecast over night.

Trade in wheat yesterday was not large, and the market was easily influenced by small orders either way, with the bulge checked by selling against offers. There was some pressure on July wheat early, but it was quickly absorbed, and when shorts tried to cover they found little for sale. Winnipeg was affected to some extent by removal of hedges against export sales and closed ½ to ⅝ cent higher in Canadian funds. The seaboard reported around 600,000 bushels of Manitobas had been sold abroad, largely to the continent.

Clearances and sales of American wheat remain very small, and the actual exports of only 180,000 bushels for the week ended Feb. 25 were regarded as probably the smallest on record for this season of the year.

Export Sales of Corn.

Corn was easy early on a continuation of liquidation, which carried the July and September options to new low levels for the season. However, the market reversed its action later, rallied ⅝ to ⅞ cent from the inside figures, and closed ⅛ to ⅜ cent higher. May was 24⅛ to 24¼ cents; July, 25⅝c, and September, 27¼ cents, at the last.

Liquidation carried all deliveries of oats to new low levels for the season early, with the May touching 15⅞ cents and equaling the all time record low for that future. A rally followed in sympathy with corn, with the close at the same figures as on Monday, May being 16⅛ to 16¼ cents and July 16⅜ to 16½ cents. Rye was ¼ to ⅜ cent higher with wheat, May closing at 34⅛ cents and July at 33⅞ cents. Barley was off ½ cent for the day, with May at 25⅜ cents.

MARCH BUTTER LOWER

SWITCH TRADES IN LARD; NO CHANGE IN PRICES

Trading in lard was limited and mainly in buying May and selling September, at 20 cent premium for the latter. There was a little hedging on the part of packers and offerings were well absorbed.

While there was trading in the four delivery months, March to September, prices at the close were the same as the previous day. Cash business was fair and prices practically unchanged. Regular lard, $3.77½; loose, $3.22½; leaf, $3.12½. Liverpool lard was unchanged except for May, which declined 3d.

Export clearances of lard aggregated 1,426,309 lbs, and of bacon 66,000 lbs.

A limited business was on in bellies for future delivery at prices unchanged of 2½ cents net higher for futures, and at $4.12½ for cash. Fresh pork cuts were easier and moderate trade. Pork loins were 7 to 8¼ cents, there being more pressure on the top grade at the last. Prices follow:

SMITH BILL A FEATURE IN THE COTTON MARKET

Cotton traders were kept in uncertainty regarding action of congress on the Smith bill which came up for discussion during the day. There was a great deal of opposition to the bill, and a few upturns in prices lead to selling, while on the breaks there was a fair amount of buying. Prices moved irregularly within a moderate range and futures in Chicago closed 2 to 5 points net higher, while New York was unchanged to 3 points lower on futures, and unchanged to 6.05 cents for spots. Galveston was 5.58 cents, and Houston 5.80 cents. Liverpool closed 4 to 5 points net lower. New Orleans was closed because of Mardi Gras. Mills were said to be fair buyers on weak spots. Port receipts for Monday were 31,799 bales. Prices follow:

N. Y. FINANCIERS DELAY DETROIT BANK SOLUTION

R. F. C. Loan Held Up by Their Refusal to Aid.

until state legislative action has been taken. It is expected that because of this necessity the senator will proceed to Lansing immediately after conferring with Detroit bankers and urge immediate attention be given the new law by the state legislators, which is now in session.

Throughout the banking holiday Senator Couzens has favored keeping the two local banking groups as going concerns. Bankers in Detroit have received many protests against the closing out of the old banks from depositors objecting to the Ford plan.

Depositors Protest.

Some depositors of the First National bank insisted they desired to continue to do business with the officers now in charge. Some of the largest depositors were of the opinion that the two groups could continue business under the Couzens proposal on the basis of limited withdrawals. Officials of the two banks have consistently maintained that they are solvent and Senator Couzens has maintained that the institutions could under the limited withdrawal plan ultimately become liquid and depositors assume no loss.

Meanwhile the upstate bankers were continuing their fight to have their deposits in the Detroit banks released in full.

N. Y. FEARS LEGAL ACTION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 28.—The plan for New York bankers to supply a $20,000,000 loan to Detroit banks in connection with the reorganization program has been checked by purely legal difficulties, it was explained in Wall street today.

The proposal of the Detroit bankers is for the New York banks to make the loan to the existing Detroit institutions, but counsel for the banks here have given their opinion that under such conditions the New York institutions would not have clear title to the collateral to be pledged against the loan. A situation similar to that which arose in the Insull case might arise, the banks' lawyers say, in that other creditors of the Detroit banks might later sue to secure possession of the collateral on the ground that the loans were made to insolvent institutions against assets which should have been kept intact for the benefit of existing creditors.

OHIO PAY ROLLS MET

Columbus, O., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Ohio remained unperturbed today as the number of banks restricting withdrawals of money mounted to more than 200.

Business and industry turned to the problem of meeting month-end pay rolls—a vast task in Cleveland, Columbus, and Cincinnati. Big corporations in Cleveland announced they had arranged to meet their pay rolls in full, almost without exception. Cincinnati banks were unofficially reported ready to advance the necessary cash for pay rolls, to be repayed from current receipts.

Columbus concerns also made plans to meet the emergency. In Akron it was announced a third of a million dollars would be paid out to thousands of workers in rubber factories and other industries.

INDIANA TO RELEASE PAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 28.—Public pay rolls amounting to $1,000,000 will be released this week by Indianapolis banks, it was announced today as the limitation of withdrawals on all accounts was continued at five per cent of total balance as of Feb. 25. Restrictions on withdrawals legalized by the state legislature's passage of the new Indiana bank code last Friday became general in Indiana today. Outstate banks which maintain cash reserves in Indianapolis institutions, found it necessary to follow action of Indianapolis banks.

HOLIDAY IN KENTUCKY

Frankfort, Ky., March 1 (Wednesday).—(AP)—Gov. Ruby Laffoon declared today a legal holiday during which no bank or trust company will pay out any deposited funds.

The governor also declared Thursday, Friday, and Saturday legal holidays, during which banks may pay depositors not exceeding 5 per cent of their deposits at the close of business yesterday.

The proclamation officially declared March 1, 2, 3, and 4 as "days of thanksgiving in the state of Kentucky," since the governor is empowered by law to appoint only "certain days as days of thanksgiving."

MARYLAND WEIGHS BILL

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Completed after three days of continuous conferences, the emergency banking measure was brought to Annapolis today and tonight was pending before the two houses of the Maryland general assembly.

At the same time, a movement was started in the house of delegates to halt foreclosures during the bank holiday and later if restrictions are placed on withdrawals of deposits.

In the meantime, Gov. Albert C. Ritchie said he would extend the bank holiday beyond the three-day period set when he issued his proclamation last Friday night.

PENN. AFFECTED LITTLE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 28.—Only a few Pennsylvania banks restricted withdrawal of deposits today under the emergency power given by the legislature and governor. Less than forty of the 1,100 state institutions imposed restrictions, while a few national banks did likewise under the Couzens law.

START OF LENT CURBS TRADING IN LIVE STOCK

Prices Steady as Demand Balances Supply.

Trading in live stock progressed slowly yesterday, with supply and demand at low ebb. One about balanced the other, so there was little material change in the values of offerings.

Combined receipts of cattle, calves, hogs, and sheep at 42,000 head, were the smallest for a Tuesday since Jan. 3. The fact that today ushers in the Lenten season contributed to the buyers' cause, as also did the mild weather and a draggy movement of wholesale markets.

Hog prices averaged $3.35 for the day, exactly the same as in the preceding session. Top sales were also steady at $3.60. Receipts of hogs have been exceptionally small for several weeks. The run at Chicago for February showed a decrease of 26 per cent, compared with a year ago.

Cattle Quiet and Steady.

While there was some action in the better grades of well finished yearlings and light steers suitable for fancy eastern trade, the bulk of cattle found a quiet and generally steady trade. Kansas yearlings averaging 990 pounds sold to Swift at $7.25, the top.

Yearlings averaging 1,075 pounds from the same feed lots cashed at $7.00. Only a small share of the total receipts sold above $6.00, the bulk of the steers going at $4.25 to $6.00, while light thin steers with some "kill" ranged down to $3.50. A few plain heavy beeves sold from $3.75 to $4.00, but prime, 1,466 pound cattle fetched $6.00.

Lamb Trade Topheavy.

The lamb market was topheavy at the opening and the trend of prices ruled lower in mid-session and later. Prices ranged from steady to 15 cents lower for the day, good light and handyweights sharing in the loss. City butchers obtained 500 picked lambs at $5.55, while packers bought a majority of the sorted kinds around $5.50 and paid $5.35 for 97 pound offerings.

MEN—WEDNESDAY!

This business is ready to add a few additional men, and the qualifications are not many or hard to meet. First, we want men young enough to have stamina and follow through. This may mean men between 25 and 46, or a few years younger or older, but health, character, and cheerfulness are assets. These men can make whatever they are worth—and scores of men in the last few months have proved that they are worth more to this busines than in their old lines. They make $4,000 to $7,000 a year once they learn this business properly, but perhaps only $125 to $175 a month to start with.

Our business is growing better constantly—is one of the exceptions to the rule, and has shown consecutively yearly sales gains year after year, and consecutive monthly sales records month after month.

We have seven large factories, employ great numbers who become permanent and progressively successful, and take infinite pains to help the right men gain in their income. We have the capital to promptly pay every employe and are adding constantly to our business volume.

In Electrolux [not refrigeration] we have openings for men who will really work consistently, and who have family responsibilities and ambition. We shall interview such men from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m., Wednesday, March 1, in

212 S. MARION-ST.,
OAK PARK, ILL.

ALERT MEN!

If you can get along on $125 to $150 during March, from $135 to $175 during April, will work consistently and hard, are neat, aggressive, of good character, then you will be interested in these facts and this opportunity.

This large business is known internationally as a maker of men. It has undoubtedly placed more men in big earnings than any similar corporation, never exacting a penny of deposit or investment of any man.

The few men whom we select must be of the caliber to be worth $400 to $500 a month to us inside a year. We have men longer in this business who make regularly $6,000 and more yearly.

Past experience does not matter, but adaptability and consistent effort count a great deal. As manager of this branch of this international business I will see that every man accepted receives the most helpful training that can be given. Call for personal interview at 2 o'clock only—no other time—Wednesday afternoon, March 1, Room 215, at 1046 Wilson-av.

SOLUTION TO OFFICER KINSELLA'S DEDUCTIONS

Officer Kinsella, a smart patrolman, knew Schwartz had been murdered. Why? Because the gun with which he was instantly shot was discovered 8 feet from the water's edge. Therefore it would have been impossible for Schwartz to have shot himself and jumped (or fallen) into the river. Smart cop, Kinsella!
